Eustace Hyatt (E.H.) Taylor, 101, Dies

Eustace Hyatt (E.H.) Taylor passed away July 3, 2011 at 101. He was born Nov. 7, 1909 to early Herndon residents, W.W. and Florence Hyatt Taylor.

As a youth he built a ham radio station in his father's jewelry store. This passion led him to become a pioneer in radio. He installed the first White House radio broadcast system; built radio stations across the U.S. and developed radar and sonar installations to protect Allied sea lanes and coastlines during WWII. He did innovative sound engineering for major corporations before founding Midwest Electronic Industries, Chicago, to produce sound equipment for the international market.

E.H. retired to Roswell, Ga. for time to fly his "Bonanza," write, travel and teach. Moving to Florida in 2001, he worked at his desk daily until his passing. He is greatly missed by son, Terry Taylor, Beaufort, S.C.; daughters, Joyce Taylor, Newport Beach, Calif. and Virginia Taylor, West Palm Beach, Fla.; 10 grandchildren; 11 great-grandchildren; five great-great-grandchildren and his faithful companion, 'Laddie.' New Additions to NatureFest

BY ALEX McVEIGH
THE CONNECTION

Hector Suarez of Herndon spends a lot of his free time at Herndon's Runnymede Park. Since he lives less than a mile from it on Herndon Parkway, Suarez, his daughter Zeina, 3 and son Miguel, 6, often come to the park to hike, bike and take photos of the Sugarland Run and the local plant and animal life.

"It's sort of a little oasis in the middle of the buildings, and when you walk through it, it's hard to imagine that Reston Town Center and downtown Herndon are so close," he said. "There's also a lot of cool activities that go on there, like nature walks and the annual NatureFest."

The annual NatureFest takes place at the park every Fall. Co-sponsored by the Friends of Runnymede Park and the Herndon Parks and Recreation Department, the event allows visitors to the park to experience the best of the park with various stations explaining the flora and fauna that make their home at Runnymede.

"My kids love NatureFest, I think it's the only thing that cheers them up after having to go back to school in September," said Mary Rennick of Herndon, who says she enjoys biking around the park's paths. "I've always thought anytime they can learn about the environment and actually be outdoors doing it is great. It makes it seem like something that's fun, not just work."

THE 2011 NATUREFEST will take place Sept. 18, 2011 from 1 to 5 p.m. Stations include: honey bees, birding, meadow adventures, recycling, web of life, butterflies, Herndon farm life, life in the stream, native plants, Fairfax County wildlife management and water quality.

This year's NatureFest will feature a few new activities designed to get more people involved. A scavenger hunt and a photography contest will be the two new additions this year, activities that Friends of Runnymede Park board member Carol Hadlock says are designed to get older children involved.

"I think we do a great job in getting elementary school students out, but by the time they reach fifth or sixth grade, they seem to say, 'oh no, not again, not the same old thing,'" Hadlock said. "So we're trying to make it a little more exciting for the older kids."

The Great Runnymede Race will feature up to 10 teams of two to four middle school-aged students. They will have to get to four or five different stations throughout the park, completing a task at each one. The team that finishes the tasks first will be crowned the winner.

"It will be similar to 'The Amazing Race,' where contestants will get a map to follow through the park and complete the tasks at each station," Hadlock said.

Parental permission will be required for teams in the race, since some of the tasks will require the use of tools. Teams should register by Aug. 15.

THE SECOND EVENT is a photo contest open to high school aged students. The photos must be taken in the park, and must be the original work of the student. Contestants can enter one photo in each of four categories: animals, plants, landscape/atmosphere and people in the park. There will be prizes awarded in each category.

"We're hoping for some interesting shots that are taken all throughout the park," Hadlock said. "The photos will be on display during NatureFest."

Photos must be submitted by Sept. 12. Runnymede Park contains four different ecosystems spread out over 58 acres. There are more than 450 different plant species present in the park.

For more information on how to register for the NatureFest contests, or information on how to volunteer at NatureFest, visit www.frpweb.org.

Experiencing School

Preparing rising kindergartners for a school year.

THE CONNECTION

Despite summer vacation being well underway for most students, classrooms in Hutchison Elementary School are still buzzing with activity. Puzzles, games and books sit out on wooden tables, which are lowered and lined with small plastic chairs just waiting for children to return for more learning and fun.

But this time, it's not returning students using the room — it's rising kindergartners. All Ages Read Together (AART) is a nonprofit organization that normally operates during the school year and focuses on school readiness. This summer, however, the organization is piloting a program that mimics a classroom setting for rising kindergartners with no preschool experience.

"Hutchison has seven kindergarten classes, and about half the children are non-English speaking or don't necessarily know their letters, numbers or colors," said volunteer teacher Julie Brunson. "We wanted to make a big difference."

The class, which runs twice a week for six weeks during the summer is a medley of puzzles, games, worksheets, songs, reading and other educational activities that help children with no previous classroom experience prepare for the upcoming school year. "The children need to have skills so they know appropriate classroom behavior and have the ability to do projects and other activities," said Sandy Shihadeh, a co-founder of AART. "We're giving evaluations to the children — one at the beginning of the program and one at the end — and we'll give this packet to the teachers." Shihadeh said it helps the students transition if the teacher already knows some things about them, like their personalities, preferences and where they are academically.

Each week, there's a theme and a book to match, and at the end of the week's classes, the students take home the book to promote reading outside of the classroom, according to Brunson.

But AART couldn't have done it alone. "The school let us be here," said Shihadeh with an appreciative smile. "If they think the students are prepared for next year, we'll continue this program." AART also received a grant from The Closet of the Greater Herndon Area Incorporated, a nonprofit family resource center, which according to Shihadeh has not been involved with AART before.

"The area's doing a great thing," said Shihadeh. "This is a big step in the right direction."

Janet Hyman

"Janet has volunteered for the community for many years and I have been privileged to work with her in the past. She is committed to what she does and knows how to get things done," said a former President of FISH, Marcia DiTrapani. FISH provides short-term emergency assistance to residents in Herndon and Reston, in cases where immediate help is not available through government or other social welfare agencies. He was transported to the Fairfax County Adult Detention Center and charged with one count of possession of child pornography and one count of production of child pornography.

The program, sponsored by Cox Business Services, featured speaker Dr. Paul A. Levensgood, President of the Virginia Historical Society, who spoke on the significance of the Civil War in terms of America's overall history and making reference to the Battle of Bull Run/First Manassas that took place 150 years ago nearby.

Shelter House Honored

Organization receives Community Champion Award.

On April 26, the Old Dominion Cotillion (ODC) was honored by Shelter House, Inc. with the "Community Champion Award." Celebrating its 30th anniversary, Shelter House's mission to break the cycle of homelessness has gained considerable community awareness and support, especially in this tough economy. This award is given to "organizations, individuals, and businesses who have gone above and beyond to assist Shelter House in achieving its mission and vision."

As noted by Shelter House, the "ODC has provided the Katherine Hanley Shelter with a high level of service through social events and childcare throughout the past year. Having designated KHFS as their philanthropic partner in 2008, Old Dominion Cotillion is certainly no stranger to working with homelessness in Fairfax County."

Katherine Hanley Shelter director John Callahan stated that he "is very appreciative of the monthly event nights and the poise and focus that all of the young ladies demonstrate as they are in the shelter working with the children and families."

In 2009, the ODC also received the Fairfax County Volunteer Service Award for logging more than 200 volunteer service hours at the Katherine Hanley Family Shelter.

The ODC is an organization created to grow young ladies into women of confidence and poise as they face a challenging, ever-changing world. One of the foremost objectives of the ODC is to educate young women in the classically elegant social graces through enrichment activities such as seminars and social and philanthropic service, so that they flourish as they engage their families, their communities, and accept social responsibility.

The Old Dominion Cotillion welcomes all young ladies and their families regardless of race, religion, or creed. Learn more by visiting their website olddominioncotillion.org or contact Mrs. Charles Gallagher, Director at 703-476-9576.

Home Life Style Design for How We Live Now

Interior design for real life: pet-friendly, kid-friendly, family-friendly.

BY MARILYN CAMPBELL
THE CONNECTION

Interior designer Deborah Wiener isn't afraid of a messy house. In fact, she finds the chaos challenging, and says she tackles it with "the common sense of a Jewish mother [and] the muscle of a professional wrestler."

When Winkle Nemeth approached her to get help decorating her McLean home, Wiener was in her element. Nemeth, a mother of two college-aged sons who live at home, wanted new furniture for her living room. The family's two mixed-breed dogs have free rein of the room. Nemeth was searching for stylish yet durable pieces that would accommodate both her active family and her fondness for entertaining friends.

"My two dogs like to get up on the sofa so that they can look out the window," Nemeth said. "Their claws had destroyed the fabric on the back of my old sofa."

Wiener came up with a design for the room that took Nemeth's desire for elegance and durability into consideration. She chose substantial furnishings that were chic but sensible and able to withstand everything from spilled soda to muddy paws. She included pieces from Slobproof!, Wiener's own line of furniture that is made from a fabric called Crypton. The designer says it is virtually indestructible and can be easily wiped cleaned.

Color was one of her secret weapons. "Color is camouflage, but beige is like having another child in the house. It needs protecting and watching," Wiener said. "Get out of the beige rut and use color to camouflage spills and stains."

"I am not there to judge a client's budget or taste. I am there to give them advice to make their lives better."

— Deborah Wiener

Nemeth settled on a deep blue sofa and pale green arm chairs. Wiener helped her rearrange the furniture to create a sense of openness in the room, and suggested a brightly colored area rug to cover the existing hardwood floors.

Wiener said the goal is to design living spaces that match the realities of your life. "I am not your typical designer," she said. "I am not there to judge a client's budget or taste. I am there to give them advice to make their lives better."

Wiener's advice also comes in the form of unconventional design tools such as Wite-Out and permanent ink markers.

"Keep Wite-Out on hand at all times," said Wiener. "It may be obsolete for correcting typos, but it's a miracle when it comes to camouflaging dings and scuff marks wherever you have white trim around your house — like door frames, baseboard molding or chair rails. Permanent ink markers can cover a lot of dings and scratches."

Melinda Mansfield said that she has one of the most active households in her Chantilly neighborhood. She and her husband Rob have 6-year-old twins, two dogs and three cats.

"I have a face painting and glitter tattoo business for children," Mansfield said. "I am the troop leader for my daughter's Girl Scout troop, and my husband is the leader of our son's Boy Scout troop. All the kids in the neighborhood come to my house to play."

Mansfield said that she likes a lively household, but not the mess that often comes with the territory. She wanted to decorate her home to accommodate the chaos without sacrificing style. "I like really nice things," said Mansfield. "I always have. I wanted a fresh, clean look with good fabrics that will stand the test of time."

When Mansfield found interior designer Wiener, she knew that she'd found a good match. Wiener started Designing Solutions to specialize "in real life, pet-friendly, family-friendly design.

CARLENE STEPHENS and her husband Gary Sturm live in Alexandria with two Great Danes who have free rein of the house. She was searching for stylish but durable pieces that would accommodate both her active household and desire for fashionable furniture.

"I was so tired of having messed-up furniture or no furniture at all," Stephens said.

Sturm and Stephens had completed a home renovation project and added an open kitchen, dining and family room space. Wiener came up with a design for the room that took the couple's desire for style and durability into consideration.

"She began with a rug," said Stephens. "And the other furniture was chosen around it."

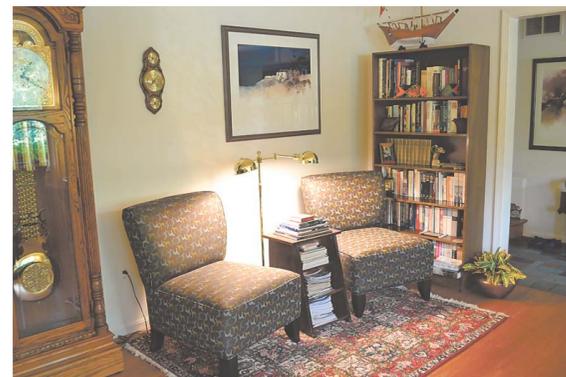

Stephens said her furniture has already passed one important test.

"When the furniture arrived my dog had just taken a drink from his water bowl and was dropping water on the new sofa. It was like watching Niagara Falls coming from this Great Dane's mouth. I wiped it up quickly with no evidence that [the water] had been there."

Wiener's Tips for Active Households

♦ Laminate your most heavily used dining chairs. Almost any fabric can be laminated. Just ask your fabric store or decorator where to send it. New flat finish laminations provide an invisible, moisture- and stain-proof barrier on fabric, making it virtually indestructible and inconspicuous, too.

♦ Protect wood finishes from wet glasses, hot cups and scratching with clear glass tops made to fit your table tops. Sure, you'll have to wipe them, but you'll protect what's underneath from everything your slob may put on top.

♦ Nothing lasts longer or looks better than a well-finished hardwood floor. Wiener recommends durable wool rugs as well.

♦ For family-friendly furniture, you can't beat protected leather. For more see www.mydesigningsolutions.com

Solid Marble Bathrooms?

BY JOHN BYRD
THE CONNECTION

Susan Cassell, of Great Falls Design Build, recalls the chain of events that convinced her some of the fundamentals of bathroom design were about to change.

"We were remodeling a bathroom that had been seriously damaged from leakage caused by cracked grout," Cassell said. "This is a common homeowner concern, so I contacted Shawn Daghigh at EuroStoneCraft who had developed some ideas for dealing with this longstanding problem."

Cassell had worked with EuroStoneCraft — a local marble and granite importer and fabricator based in Herndon — for many years. But she'd heard that the firm had a new brainchild — a custom-made solid marble shower floor which they were introducing under a new division, Verona Showers.

"The shower floor pan is a solid stone slab custom-made to your shower width ... so there's no water-exposed grouting, no cracking or leakage," Daghigh said. "This means there's no mold build up, and no need for time-intensive maintenance."

"It struck me as a breakthrough," Cassell said. "I've found this a really effective solution for bathrooms, and the color options are impressive. I've been regularly introducing it to my clients."

EuroStoneCraft's already well-honed milling capabilities mean "everything they offer is one of a kind," Cassell said.

The firm's skill at shaping natural stone, granite or marble to precisely fit surface specifications eliminates any need to sectionalize or use exposed seams requiring grout.

Homeowner Lisa Schultz is pleased with the EuroStone/Verona design advantages, which allowed her to distinguish the interior of her spacious Great Falls colonial while greatly reducing maintenance needs. Schultz selected an array of custom-fitted surfaces for strategic parts of the house throughout an extensive five-month remodeling process, including finishing the master bath in contrasting shades of Verona marble hand-picked from the EuroStoneCraft showroom.

Seamless stone showers, walls and floors point to new direction in high-end bathroom design.

"The vanity, shower floor and tub surround are stunning — a very original shade of dark brown," Schultz said. "The floor, tub facing and shower walls are a kind of mocha. The whole is nicely balanced — there's a restful symmetry."

The bathroom's "invisible shower" consists of a custom-made MarbaFloor pan, two solid marble walls converging in one corner and dual sheets of unframed glass forming the other.

Schultz said the master bathroom's new interior seems substantially larger than its previous incarnation, even though the footprint is mostly unchanged.

Schultz added a prized oriental rug, just for effect.

After 15 years at the same address, Schultz said the changes have reinvigorated her appreciation of her surroundings: "It feels like a whole new custom house, which is exciting."

Describing personal benefits accruing from her own recent master bathroom makeover, Stacy Smith was especially pleased at the relief from perennial grout-replacement duties.

"After years of contending with the predictable problems of mosaic tile — cracking grout, mold build-up, and grit — there's just no substitute for a solid maintenance-free stone surface."

David Prakken of Fairfax was impressed with both the functional and aesthetic outcome resulting from Verona Shower upgrades to his 25-year-old bathroom.

OPINION

Hot Races? Primaries? Uncontested?

Northern Virginia awash in uncontested races; but there are several hot primaries on Aug. 23.

First of all, there are some very important races taking place on Aug. 23, and absentee voting is already underway. If there is any chance you might either be away on vacation on Aug. 23 or you might have a combined work day and commute of 10 hours (that is to say, if you work), or you might be away for any other reason, you can vote in person absentee or by paper ballot absentee.

EDITORIAL

PRIMARIES AUG. 23

❖ Fairfax County Board of Supervisors, Braddock district Democrats, Janet Oleszek and Christopher Wade compete to face incumbent John Cook (R) in November.

❖ Senate District 30, Democrats Adam Ebbin, Libby Garvey and Rob Krupicka are in a three-way race for the nomination to replace retiring state Sen. Patsy Ticer. The winner will face Tim McGee (R) in November. This district, including parts of Arlington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon, trends to Democrats, so the primary could determine the winner.

❖ Senate District 31, Democrats Jaime Areizaga-Soto (D) and Barbara A Favola (D) face off; winner will face Caren Merrick (R), to replace retiring Sen. Mary Margaret Whipple. If you live in McLean, Great Falls, parts of Herndon or Sterling, listen up, you are likely in this newly configured district that used to be almost entirely in Arlington.

❖ Senate District 36, Republicans Jeffrey M Frederick (R) and Tito Muñoz (R) compete to face state Sen. Toddy Puller (D) in this district that includes Mount Vernon, parts of Lorton and much more of Prince William County than before redistricting.

❖ Senate District 39, Republicans Miller

Baker and Scott Martin compete to challenge incumbent state Sen. George Barker (D) in November. This district encompasses parts of Centreville, Clifton, Lorton, Fairfax Station, Springfield and the City of Alexandria.

❖ House of Delegates 49, Democratic primary, Stephanie Clifford (D) v. Alfonso H Lopez (D). So far there is no Republican or other candidate so the winner of the primary could be uncontested in November in this Arlington district.

UNCONTESTED:

Parties could still add a candidate up until Primary Election Day, Aug. 23, but at this point it's unlikely that many of these seats will be contested. This is not an exhaustive list.

Fairfax County, Hunters Mill Board of Supervisors, incumbent Cathy Hudgins (D) is so far uncontested. Also on the Fairfax County Board of Supervisors, Pat Herry (R-Springfield), Jeff McKay (D-Lee), Gerry Hyland (D-Mount Vernon), Michael Frey (R-Sully) are uncontested.

House of Delegates District 35 in Vienna, Del. Mark Keam (D) is so far uncontested

House of Delegates, District 86, Del. Tom Rust (R) is so far uncontested in this district in parts of Oak Hill, Herndon, Chantilly and Loudoun.

House of Delegates, District 41, Del. Eileen Filler-Corn (D) is so far uncontested in this district that covers parts of Fairfax, Burke and Springfield.

House of Delegates, District 53, Del. Jim Scott (D) is so far uncontested.

House of Delegates, District 43, Del. Mark Sickles (D) is so far uncontested.

House of Delegates, District 44, Del. Scott Surovell (D) is so far uncontested in this Mount Vernon district.

House of Delegates, District 45, Del. David Englin (D) is so far uncontested in this district that includes parts of Mount Vernon, Alexandria and Arlington.

House of Delegates, District 46, Del. Charniele Herring (D) is so far uncontested in this City of Alexandria district.

There are some hotly contested races for November, but more on those races later.

COMMENTARY

Decision Time

BY KENNETH R. "KEN" PLUMB
STATE DELEGATE (D-36)

The Wiehle Avenue Station on the Silver Line is taking shape. The major support structures for the station are already in place. Across the Access and Toll Roads to the north the transit oriented development Reston Station is underway with an excavation about the volume of FedEx Field to house a parking facility for more than 2,300 cars and bicycles and with a bus port and new streets to support the station. Topping off this joint venture between Comstock Corporation and Fairfax County will be residential, office, and hotel facilities.

West of Wiehle Avenue is the beginning of Phase 2 of the Silver Line. No progress is being made on it because of an inability on the part of the Metropolitan Washington Airports Authority (MWAA) Board to control costs to the satisfaction of its funding partners, every elected official I know, and the federal government. For a couple of members of the MWAA Board to simply dig in their heels on a design that is not financeable and that has raised serious questions about the Board's ability to make important decisions has left me and virtually all the persons I have worked with over the years on this project shaking our heads in disbelief. A list of reductions in cost of over a half-million dollars is readily available, but it has taken the intervention of the U.S. Secretary of Transportation to get MWAA to look at the options.

Central to the discussions of reducing costs of Phase 2 is the location of the rail station at the Dulles Terminal. Original plans showed a tunnel of a couple miles with a station essentially under the daily parking lot. Preliminary engineering found that plan to be prohibitively expensive. The MWAA Board considered several other options including an above-ground station next to the North Garage and a shortened tunnel. The shortened tunnel option was chosen by the Board even though it was more than $300 million more expensive than the above-ground station. Since all other costs associated with Phase 2 had risen over the original guesstimate it was clear that value engineering would need to be done on the project and savings would have to be identified.

Phase 1 went through a somewhat similar experience when planning for the project was put on hold for consideration of a tunnel under Tysons Corner. That option proved too costly as well. In a perfect world where costs are not a consideration an underground system would be nice, but in a suburban setting it is neither necessary nor cost-justified. Public officials and members of the press have walked the alternative routes at Dulles and concluded that the above-ground station is safe, accessible, and practical.

Wonderful progress is being made on Phase 1 looking to an arrival date at Wiehle in December, 2013. It's decision time to move Phase 2 forward to keep a 2016 expected completion date.

Once Again, Legion All-Star Baseball Game is a Hit

Nationals team victorious in Fourth of July showcase.

BY RICH SANDERS
THE CONNECTION

The grand old game of baseball was once again on Vienna's center stage earlier last week on Independence Day as the annual American Legion All-Star Game was played in the heart of town at Water's Field. A big, laid back crowd was on hand to take in the District 17 (Northern Virginia) league's holiday showcase game, which began at 10 a.m. and was played in pleasant, overcast conditions.

As usual for the July 4th contest, made up of high school and first year college aged players, winning was not so much the day's priority for either team — the Nationals or the Americans — as much as simply enjoying the game and giving those on hand a good show.

"It's a game where you get to go out on the Fourth of July and play with and against the best players in the league," said Springfield Post 176 catcher/infielder Nathan Slater (Lee High School), who lined a single into left field in a first inning at-bat for the Americans. "Everyone wants to win and everyone out here is competitive. But at the end of the day it's about having fun."

Slater, in pre-game ceremonies on the infield, read the American Legion Code of Sportsmanship to both teams following the pre-game player introductions. It reads: "I will: keep the rules, keep faith with my teammates, keep my temper, keep myself fit, keep a stout heart in defeat, keep my pride under in victory, keep a sound soul, a clean mind, and a healthy body."

Slater said the atmosphere was fantastic for the Legion All-Star game.

"It's nice seeing there's still support for baseball in the area," he said, after the game. "This place is packed."

Bill Murphy, in his 12th year as the District 17 baseball commissioner, was the public address announcer for Monday's All-Star game.

"A lot of the players really look forward to this," said Murphy, a former President of the Vienna Little League. "The All-Star game gives the players incentive and pride, and something to shoot for. Every year people around town will come up to me and ask, 'Are

The Annual District 17 (Northern Virginia) American Legion Baseball All-Star Game took place on Independence Day at Waters Field in Vienna. The game, which began at 10 a.m., brought out the finest players from the nine league teams. The Nationals All-Stars, which included players from Oakton and Madison High Schools, defeated the American All-Stars, 15-6.

VIENNA SWIM REPORT

The Oakton Otters dive team's scheduled first meet on June 28 was postponed due to thunder and lightning. As a result, the team competed in two meets this past week. On July 5 the Otters lost a close meet, 39-28, to North Springfield. Julia Powell (Junior Girls), Andrew Sargent (Intermediate Boys), and Alyssa Worsham (Senior Girls) recorded first place finishes for the Otters.

Not to be put down, the Otters rallied two nights later on July 7 to beat Ilda at home, 42-24. The team had five first place finishers: Kenna Campfield (Freshman Girls), Elana Colbert (Junior Girls), Brad Burgeson (Junior Boys), Alyssa Worsham (Senior Girls), and Daniel Nugent (Senior Boys). And to top it off, four Oakton team records were broken: Brad Burgeson (Junior Boys, 101.8), Andrew Sargent (Intermediate Boys, 127.55), Alyssa Worsham (Senior Girls, 223.2), and Daniel Nugent (Senior Boys, 163.6). Congratulations to all the divers!

The next Oakton Otter's dive meet was set for July 12 at Ravensworth.

The Oakton Otters (120 points) dive team, meanwhile, went up against Overlee (282) last Saturday. Five point first place finishers were Kara Vietmeyer (8-under free), Drew Weber (11-12 free), Kara Vietmeyer (8-under back), Conor Murphy (15-18 back), Tessa Bayer (8-under breaststroke), Nick Highman (9-10 breaststroke), Steven Howard (15-18 breaststroke), Grace Whitelock (9-10 fly), and Laura Branton (13-14 fly).

you still having the Fourth of July All-Star Game?"

Both All-Star managers, veteran skipper Al Vaxmonsky (Springfield Post 176) for the American squad and Vondell Johnson (Arlington Post 139) for the Nationals, did their best to give all of their respective teams' players quality playing time.

ON THIS DAY, the Nationals team, made up of players from Alexandria Post 129, Arlington Post 139, Vienna Post 180, and Annandale Bicentennial Post 1976, lit up the scoreboard and defeated the Americans by a tune of 15-6. The American squad was made up of players from Falls Church Post 130, Springfield Post 176, Fairfax Post 177, and Centreville Post 1995. Both teams also had players from Alexandria

Post 24.

Throughout much of the game, patriotic band music could be heard from the grounds of the Vienna Community Center beyond the outfield fence as preparations were being made for the upcoming day-long festivities.

On the artificial turf ball diamond, the District 17's top players were putting on a batting clinic as both teams combined for 23 base hits, 15 for the winning Nationals.

There were a myriad of offensive highlights for both teams. The Nats, in a seven-run top of the second inning, knocked around four doubles, the two-baggers coming from 1976's Joe Warren (St. Stephen's & St. Agnes School), Post 139's Ryan Dick (Washington-Lee High), Post 24's Robert Banks (Hayfield Secondary), and Alexandria Post 129's Adam Forrer (T.C. Williams). During that same half inning, Alexandria Post 24's George Palacio (Mount Vernon High) and Vienna Post 180's Eli Facenda (Madison High) both had singles. Eleven players batted in all during that breakout second inning.

The game's lone home run came by Warren, a towering fly ball over the center field fence to lead off the fifth inning and give the Nationals an 8-4 lead. Warren would finish the day with three hits.

The Nationals displayed some aggressive base-running in a four-run sixth inning. Vienna post 180's Chris Hanson (Oakton High) began the big inning with a high fly double into shallow left center field. Two batters later, the hustling Hanson scored from second base on a groundball out to shortstop off the bat of Vienna Post 180's Mason Hauser (Oakton). Later in the inning, Forrer, who earlier reached base on a hit's batsmen, stunned the fans and American Leaguers with a dash towards home on the pitchers' windup. Forrer slid safely onto the plate for a rare steal of home. Later that same inning, Alexandria Post 129's James Clark (T.C. Williams) roped a line drive double into left center field to plate two more runs, giving the Nationals a commanding 12-4 lead.

The Nationals would go on to tally three more runs in the eighth, the big blow coming off the bat of left-handed hitting Facenda, who tripled down the right field line for two runs. Earlier in the game, Facenda, who was the Nationals' starting pitcher, singled the oppo-

THE AMERICANS also had some big at-bats. In their three-run bottom of the second, Springfield Post 176's Joe Townsend (South County Secondary) pulled a ball into deep left field and off the left field fence for a double. But a fine defensive relay play on the extra base hit resulted in a base-runner being thrown out at the plate, the tag applied by catcher Hanson.

In the American third inning, Falls Church Post 130's Danny Zdancewicz (Bishop O'Connell) doubled home a run. The Americans, later in the game, scored single runs in both the sixth — an RBI single by Centreville Post 1995's James Wiltshire (Paul VI) — and seventh innings — a sacrifice fly by Falls Church Post 130's Bruce Beatty (McLean High).

The Americans used nine different pitchers (one inning apiece). Tossing shutout innings were Post 176's JT Williamson (West Springfield High), Falls Church Post 130's Phillip Morris (McLean), Springfield Post 176's Matt Keen (Lee High), Springfield Post 176's Justin Drechsel (Hayfield), and Beatty.

The winning pitcher for the National League was Facenda, a southpaw who worked both the first and second innings.

Wiltshire, a 2010 graduate of Paul VI High and a current student at Virginia Military Institute (VMI), was thrilled to be an All-Star member of the American team.

"I wouldn't want to be anywhere else," said Wiltshire, a Chantilly resident who plays outfielder and pitcher for Centreville Post 1995. "I've been playing baseball since I was young. Playing on the [July 4th] holiday is a bonus. It's like Christmas in July."

National All-Star team members from Vienna Post 180 were: outfielder Mason Hauser (Oakton High); catcher/third baseman Chris Hanson (Oakton); pitcher John Beck (South Lakes); pitcher/first baseman Eli Facenda (Madison); pitcher/infielder Walker Webster (Oakton); pitcher Gavin Gibbons (Madison); and shortstop Justin Padgett (Madison).

McLean High graduates Phillip Morse (2012) and Bruce Beatty (2011) were members of the American All-Star team from Falls Church Post 130. Outfielder/catcher Dan Ashley (Falls Church Post 130), a 2011 graduate from Marshall High, also played for the American team.

Need To Know

By KENNETH B. LOURIE

There are people I know, with whom I interact irregularly, who I would characterize as more than acquaintances but less than friends, who know I've been diagnosed with cancer but who, for a million different and acceptable reasons are not exactly current with my most-up-to-date health circumstances. These are people who fall just outside my social circle but who might fall within that hypothetical concentric circle where the interaction and intersection with my ongoing activities is somewhere between random and likely, depending on varying time intervals. These intervals are months at a time (give or take) and might include health care professionals, local and/or business people I see routinely but not predictably, out-of-town friends, former co-workers, as but a few examples. People who you don't contact, necessarily, and who don't contact you, unless by happenstance, sort of.

Then you see/talk to them and converse as normally as the depth of your relationship/association warrants (I do, anyway). But the elephant in the room, the fact that yours truly has stage IV lung cancer, eventually rears its ugly head. Typically I try to make light of it, say I'm doing fine (which I am, miraculously, comparatively), and segue into some less Kenny-with-cancer-centric topic. All of which is generally no problem, and after 28 months of it (post diagnosis) fairly normal – for me, in my accepted scheme of things.

My thought about these kinds of exchanges has to do with the other party though, not me (mostly). I wonder about the substance of the conversation we're having at that moment, but also whether this person is thinking about how much time has passed since our last interaction and likewise wondering if, having not heard from me/seen me for sooner, perhaps I had succumbed (died is so final) to my disease. I mean, it's reasonable to think that, not having heard from a terminal cancer patient for a few months might not exactly be a benign set of said-happenstance. Silence may be golden, but in this circumstance, it might be permanent. And the nature of our geometric relationship might delay the communication of certain facts.

Obviously it's not something I worry about – too much, but given my rather introspective obsession with my cancer-affected life, it's practically impossible to not focus, more-than-occasionally on the myriad levels of cancer's insidious hold on my (not over me though) life and its effect on others as well. At least that's my working explanation.

Nevertheless, 28 months into an original "13-month-to-two-year" prognosis, I am able to live with, and balance my ongoing obsessions. However since my brain is still working reasonably well (comments from the peanut gallery welcomed), it sort of has a mind of its own and sometimes takes me places I had not intended or anticipated. What brought this column out is an appointment I made recently to get my hair cut with my regular hairstylist, a lady with whom I have minimal – make that zero – contact between my every-three-month's haircut. I wondered, since she knows the seriousness of my underlying problem, if not having heard from me in 11 weeks, approximately, is worrisome for her, as in whether I'm still alive. I'll have to ask her. Her answer will probably generate another column.

I know what I think, but I do wonder what others might be thinking, and who needs to know what – and when.
