Fairfax Republicans Nominate Bryan 'BA' Wolfe for Sheriff

Wolfe faces Democratic nominee Stacey Kincaid in Nov. 5 special election.

BY VICTORIA ROSS
THE CONNECTION

When retired Fairfax police officer Bryan "BA" Wolfe was selected as the Republican nominee for Fairfax County Sheriff last week, he vowed to "restore the public trust" by making the 500-member department more "accountable and transparent."

He also pledged to donate his salary to charity if he wins against Democratic challenger Stacey Kincaid in the Nov. 5 special election.

Wolfe's campaign promise echoes a similar pledge made by former Sheriff Stan Barry during his 2011 run.

Barry's salary pledge and his participation in the county's Deferred Retirement Option Program (DROP) ignited the "DROP Stan Barry" bomb. County Republicans hammered Barry for his participation in DROP, claiming Barry could collect nearly $1 million in pension benefits in a program never intended for elected public officials. Barry, whose salary was set at $160,000 a year by the Fairfax County Board of Supervisors, challenged the claims.

FIRST ELECTED SHERIFF IN 1999, Barry announced last May that he would retire in July, launching the special election between Wolfe and Kincaid. The winner will serve the remaining two years of the sheriff's four-year term.

"[Wolfe's] pledge to donate his salary to charity shows clearly how passionate he is that leadership changes are needed at the department," said Jay McConville, chairman of the Fairfax County Republican Committee (FCRC), in an Aug. 15 news release.

"I am running for sheriff to restore the public trust and confidence in our law enforcement community," Wolfe, 51, said. The U.S. Air Force veteran said he will hold the Sheriff's Department "to a higher standard of accountability than previously held and I will work to create greater transparency that is so necessary."

McConville said Wolfe's record of service, both in the military and as a police officer, "demonstrates the kind of commitment to community and selfless service so needed at the top of the Sheriff's Department."

"I strongly believe in a leadership style encouraging participation which calls for greater involvement from all levels of the Sheriff's Department and I have the necessary skills, knowledge and drive to effectively serve as the next sheriff," Wolfe said.

A 1979 graduate of Robinson Secondary School, Wolfe joined the U.S. Air Force in 1981. He is an 18-year member of American Legion Post 177 in Fairfax and a member of the National Rifle Association. Wolfe has earned several awards for his service to his community, including being named Policeman of the Year twice, as voted by his peers in the department. He and his wife Kelly live in Clifton and have three daughters and two sons.

Kincaid, a graduate of Frostburg State College, began her career with the Fairfax County Sheriff's Office in 1987. She said a summer internship at the Sheriff's Office "sparked my interest in a career as a deputy sheriff." In 2008, she received the agency's highest honor, the Distinguished Service Award.

A Vienna resident, Kincaid won the Democratic nod against acting Sheriff Mark Sites in a caucus last month.

Kincaid said that while she is focused on the three main functions of the sheriff's office—running the county's jail, performing security at the courthouse and serving civil process—she also wanted to "bring the agency forward."

"As the largest sheriff's office in Virginia, we should be the role model for the commonwealth," she said after her win over Sites last month. She added that she wanted to focus on diversity inside the department as well as in community outreach efforts.

"When I say diversity, I am talking about diversity of thought, values and beliefs, not just skin color," Kincaid said. "We need the office to respect and reflect the diversity in our community. ... Listening and learning is an important part of forging a relationship with the community."

THE FAIRFAX COUNTY SHERIFF'S OFFICE is responsible for managing the Adult Detention Center, providing security in the courthouse and serving civil law process. The sheriff and the sheriff's deputies have civil and criminal jurisdiction in Fairfax County, the City of Fairfax and the towns of Vienna and Herndon.

"Our sheriffs serve our community well, and they deserve someone who has a passion for service and not a continuation of the establishment bureaucracy that has failed for years to provide the type of leadership needed," McConville said.

BACK TO SCHOOL

Schools Ready for New Beginning

Principals set goals for the new school year.

Matthew Eline, Robinson Secondary School principal, Fairfax

"I'm new. I've only been here five weeks. I hope that's an exciting change. We're doing the Middle Years Program, which is a component of the [International Baccalaureate] program. IB is for students in 11th and 12th grade, and MYP brings all of those good educational practices to lower grades. One thing the middle school is looking at is goal setting and personal learning plans. You need goals."

Marti Jackson, principal, Robert Frost Middle School, Fairfax

"Middle school is an extraordinary place to work with children because they're only here for two years. We're always transitioning. That requires us to really be on our toes. It's a really exciting time to focus on building relationships with students. There's a lot they have to process. Our responsibility is to help them navigate and make the best of that. The community is very tight-knit. There are 11 elementary schools that feed into Frost, and we have a great support and communication system [with them]. It's a gift to have Woodson adjacent to us. We feel like we're one campus when we need to be. It's been absolutely delightful [to work with parents]. I feel like I'm hanging out with friends with a common mission."

Bonnie Glazewski, Oak View Elementary School principal, Fairfax

"We're going to have a renewed focus on critical thinking skills. They're not easy to develop, but they're much more interesting and fun than straight content. We have to teach them to be critical users of information. Kids develop [those skills] by talking, so teachers are going to have academic conversations [with the students]. We're working with the PTA to create a positive environment for both students and parents. We want [the parents] to understand we want them here."

Making Strides for Children's Health Care

Fairfax girl to participate in Children's National Race for Every Child.

BY ELEANOR LAMB
THE CONNECTION

Children's National Medical Center is going to be running on Oct. 5 to make sure all of the community's children can practice healthy habits, too.

This fall, Children's National is holding the Race for Every Child fundraising event, a 5k that will profit the hospital. The run will take place at Freedom Plaza, and anyone is invited to take part by forming a team to run together.

"I think any event that's going to raise awareness is critical," said Lisa Cantu-Parks of Fairfax, former associate director of development for the Joseph E. Robert, Jr., Center for Surgical Care at Children's National.

Cantu-Parks is no stranger to Children's National. Not only did she work there for more than 10 years, her 4-year-old daughter was treated there. Cantu-Parks's daughter, Adina Parks, is allergic to dogs, weeds, mold, dust mites and trees.

MOST 4-YEAR-OLDS come in the door and carelessly kick their shoes off and play, neglecting to wash their hands at their mothers' behest. Adina does things a little differently. Her parents worked out a regimen to limit her allergic reactions. When she comes home, Adina immediately removes her shoes, bathes, has her hair washed and changes clothes. These diligent steps prevent her from being upset by a lot of allergens that are carried on hair, clothes and shoes. She even maintains a gluten-free diet during high allergy season, because it tempers her reactions.

"When she was tested in October 2012, we were very surprised with the reactions," said Cantu-Parks. "No one expected her to have anything."

Adina's allergies are inconvenient and require a lot of caution. However, she is a healthy and active girl. There are many children treated by Children's National that cannot say the same. Although her allergies demand attention, her parents count their blessings because they know their situation could be far worse.

"We're thankful," said Cantu-Parks. "I have a hard time fathoming what some of those families go through every day."

The 5k race is aimed at helping not only

Adina, but all children who need medical attention. Although the hospital is located in our nation's capital, it is not government funded. This run is one of many fundraisers throughout the year to raise awareness and support.

"A 5k can really get every single person in the family out," said Erin Corcoran, associate director of Philanthropic Marketing and Communications at Children's National. "It's truly open to anybody."

THE EVENT will include more than just the 5k race, though. There will be a 100-yard Kid's Dash, the Great Zucchini magician, a Kaboom playground, the Superheroes of Southern Maryland, and face painting. There will also be corporations, team mascots, athletes and celebrities in attendance. Doctors representing all of Children's National centers will also be there to provide information on healthy lifestyles.

Adina and her parents will be attending the event to show their appreciation of Children's National. All are invited to participate to make sure Adina and all kids everywhere get the treatment they deserve.

"It's such a feeling of relief to know those resources are there for my child and every child," said Cantu-Parks. "It's in the spirit of building community and rallying around the importance of philanthropy."

Event details are on RaceForEveryChild.org.

Celebrate National Dog Day at the Shelter

Get ready for lots of woofs, ruffs and barks, along with plenty of laughter and fun this weekend, at the first-ever National Dog Day celebration at the Fairfax County Animal Shelter. Join dozens of your furry friends on Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 24 and 25 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., 4500 West Ox Road for the festive events.

There are many breeds, ages, and sizes of dogs available for adoption this week. The shelter goal is to help find loving homes for the 25-plus dogs available right now.

In addition to being opened on Sunday, which is rare, Dog Day attendees will enjoy:

- ❖ Fee-waived adoptions all weekend on dogs and puppies
- ❖ Doggie Pool Parties; adoptive families will be able to watch all dogs playing together outdoors
- ❖ Free training consultation with certified dog trainer
- ❖ Tours of the new shelter
- ❖ Games and prizes throughout the day.
- ❖ Face painter artist (afternoon hours)
- ❖ Snow Cone station (while they last)

For more information, contact Kristen Auerbach, Animal Shelter Director of Communications & Outreach at 703-324-0208.

Police Undercover Operation Nets 23 Men

Police arrested more than 20 men and charged them with solicitation of prostitutes on Thursday, Aug. 15.

In response to citizen concerns and to discourage illegal activity in Fairfax County, police performed an undercover operation throughout the county between 3 and 10 p.m.

Officers worked in an undercover capacity and, after communicating online, met men at four different hotels.

Arrests took place at hotels in Springfield, Falls Church, Herndon and the Tysons Corner area. In all, 23 men were charged. One of the men was also charged with possession of cocaine.

The investigation was led by the Organized Crime and Narcotics Division (OCN) and supplemented by patrol officers. OCN detectives have developed community outreach relationships with local hotels. Businesses request this type of pro-active approach of law enforcement to thwart illegal activity in their establishments.

Her WISH Granted

Robinson student selected to intern at NASA this summer.

Betsy Berenback-Gold, a student at Robinson Secondary School, recently returned from a week at NASA where she planned a robotics and radiation mission and experienced life as an engineer and scientist.

After completing a five-month online course that included projects, math problems, essays and tests, Berenback-Gold was selected for the NASA summer internship. Berenback-Gold was one of 90 female high school students from 41 states who visited the Johnson Space Center in Houston. All who were chosen participated in the Women in STEM High School Aerospace Scholars project, or WISH.

NASA sponsored two six-day summer camps for rising high school seniors during late June and early July. The young women worked in teams with female NASA mentors to develop a radiation and robotics mission. Teams worked on designing a radiation shield that would protect their rover once on the surface of Mars. They worked within the confines of a fictitious budget and built several small mockups of vehicles to demonstrate a successful launch and landing of the Mars spacecraft.

"This experience was not just an honor, but a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. I learned many valuable life lessons that will point me in the direction of my career. That week was filled with challenges, opportunities, teamwork and people I will always admire," said Berenback-Gold. "I learned from the remarkable Gene Kranz, Apollo 13 flight director, to 'dream, aim high and never surrender.'"

The young women were selected based on completion of nine interactive, online lessons focused on space exploration and mapped to national education standards, academic merits and geographic diversity. The WISH program encourages young women to pursue science, technology, engineering and mathematics degrees and exposes them to the real-world applications of STEM careers at NASA.

OPINION

Excerpts From King's 'I Have a Dream'

Martin Luther King Jr. spoke to the March on Washington 50 years ago next week, Aug. 28, 1963.

Listen to audio of the entire speech at www.smithsonianmag.com/multi-media/audio/128077288.html. To read the full speech, see: www.archives.gov/press/exhibits/dream-speech.pdf.

"Five score years ago, a great American, in whose symbolic shadow we stand signed the Emancipation Proclamation. This momentous decree came as a great beacon light of hope to millions of Negro slaves who had been seared in the flames of withering injustice. It came as a joyous daybreak to end the long night of captivity.

"But one hundred years later, we must face the tragic fact that the Negro is still not free. One hundred years later, the life of the Negro is still sadly crippled by the manacles of segregation and the chains of discrimination. One hundred years later, the Negro lives on a lonely island of poverty in the midst of a vast ocean of material prosperity. One hundred years later, the Negro is still languishing in the corners of American society and finds himself an exile in his own land. So we have come here today to dramatize an appalling condition. ...

"We have also come to this hallowed spot to remind America of the fierce urgency of now. This is no time to engage in the luxury of cooling off or to take the tranquilizing drug of gradualism. Now is the time to rise from the dark and desolate valley of segregation to the sunlit path of racial justice. Now is the time to open the doors of opportunity to all of God's children. Now is the time to lift our nation from the quicksands of racial injustice to the solid rock of brotherhood. ...

"We can never be satisfied as long as a Negro in Mississippi cannot vote and a Negro in New York believes he has nothing for which to vote. No, no, we are not satisfied, and we will not be satisfied until justice rolls down like waters and righteousness like a mighty stream. ...

"I say to you today, my friends, that in spite of the difficulties and frustrations of the moment, I still have a dream. It is a dream deeply rooted in the American dream.

"I have a dream that one day this nation will rise up and live out the true meaning of its creed: 'We hold these truths to be self-evident: that all men are created equal.'

"I have a dream today. ...

"This is our hope. This is the faith with which I return to the South. With this faith we will be able to hew out of the mountain of despair a stone of hope. With this faith we will be able to transform the jangling discords of our nation into a beautiful symphony of brotherhood. ...

"This will be the day when all of God's children will be able to sing with a new meaning, 'My country, 'tis of thee, sweet land of liberty, of thee I sing. Land where my fathers died, land of the pilgrim's pride, from every mountainside, let freedom ring.'

"And if America is to be a great nation this must become true. So let freedom ring ...

"And when this happens, when we allow freedom to ring, when we let it ring from every village and every hamlet, from every state and every city, we will be able to speed up that day when all of God's children, black men and white men, Jews and Gentiles, Protestants and Catholics, will be able to join hands and sing in the words of the old Negro spiritual, 'Free at last! Free at last! Thank God Almighty, we are free at last!'"

Setting Record Straight on Libraries

The facts on the proposed library pilot program.

BY PAT HERRITY
SUPERVISOR (R-SPRINGFIELD)

There has been much confusion about the recently-announced recommendation from the Library Board to pilot some changes to more efficiently serve library patrons at two county libraries. Libraries are pillars in our community, they are resources for people furthering their education, they are places of discovery for children, and they are a critical gathering place in our neighborhoods. Just like our community, our libraries have evolved over time, and as they have countrywide, libraries will need to continue to evolve in order to best meet the needs of our residents. Unfortunately, the announcement of this simple two-library pilot has resulted in a swirl of misinformation about what it is and what it will do. I would like to take this opportunity today to set the record straight.

First, this is a pilot program. The county is not suddenly making overnight changes to the way our libraries operate. Instead, we are going to run a pilot program at the Burke Centre and Reston Regional Libraries to see if the recommendations work. Both libraries will test the "one-desk" model of customer service, with cross-trained staff answering account and information questions, as well as increased programming conducted within the branch and the community. The one-desk model should be a benefit to the library patron who will only have to go to one place to get all of their questions answered. It will likely also make for more well rounded staff that have a greater understanding of the total operation of a library.

Second, we are not laying anyone off. This is a pilot program—we have absolutely no intention of cutting staff to accommodate the pilot program. If the model works, any reduction in staff at the libraries is expected to occur via natural attrition. Over 30 percent of employees in the county's library workforce will be eligible to retire by 2015.

Third, by not requiring a Masters of Library Science (MLS) requirement for the positions in the pilot, we are not "dumbing down" the library workforce. Only 15 states nationwide currently have a MLS requirement and Virginia isn't one of them. The MLS will remain a preferred qualification, however a dynamic workforce, and one that attracts the best and the brightest, should be open to competition from people with differing backgrounds. As the challenges of a 21st century library system continue to evolve, the county needs to be able to hire the best person for the job—that could be someone with a MLS, someone with a technology or education degree, or more likely, a mix of both. Currently, the vast majority of those on our library staff do not hold an MLS.

Finally, this is an opportunity for the county to bring you the best library service that it possibly can. This is an opportunity to increase the efficiency of our library system and improve customer service. It is an opportunity to adapt to the challenges that the Internet and technology bring.

The real question is, "Why wouldn't you want to do a pilot to see if you can improve service and be more efficient?" Only when we have the results of the pilot the Library Board and county staff can make an informed decision on the best course for our libraries and the county. I will be waiting for the results of the pilot before I form any opinion on whether we should make the changes permanent at these two libraries or institute them at any other libraries.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Beyond the Borders

To the Editor:

The needs of our immigrant populations will continue long after Congress makes a decision about comprehensive immigration reform.

Immigrants face many obstacles in integrating into their new communities. Joanne Lipson, a nurse anthropologist who studied an Afghan population that settled in California after the Afghan Russian incursion, found that language and social dissonance kept most Afghans from associating with Americans. This keeps people from thriving in their new country. In her book, "The Middle of Everywhere: Helping Refugees Enter the American Community," psychologist Mary Pipher explains the myriad of things persons from other cultures must learn about life here in the U.S. This book is available through the Fairfax County Public Library. ESOL classes, citizenship classes, GED and vocational training will be needed to fully integrate our new Americans into society.

More than military presence at the border, the root causes of immigration must be addressed.

Easing Back Into School

End-of-summer tips to make the first day of school less stressful.

BY MARILYN CAMPBELL
THE CONNECTION

For some children, the transition from laid back summer days to intensely structured school hours can be jarring. Moving from an environment where one's greatest challenge is deciding whether to choose chocolate or vanilla ice cream, to a routine that calls for getting dressed before dawn, heading to school and paying attention in classes all day can be jolting.

One of the most challenging aspects of returning to school, say experts, is children's loss of some control over their schedules. "In the summer, children have more control over their lives," said Alice Young, Ph.D., a professor of education at Marymount University in Arlington. "They have greater ability to make decisions about what time they're going to wake up and what they will do next. When they get ready to go back to school, they control nothing. Parents and teachers tell them what they have to do."

"Humans are innately routine driven beings," said Len Annetta, Ph.D. professor in the College of Education and Human Development at George Mason University. "Whether or not it is hard wired or a learned behavior is often debated. Regardless, our bodies and minds often function better once in a routine. Parents would be wise to...start their children with a breakfast that is...consistent with what they will have during the school year [and] limit screen time to just educational activities or activities that get the brain thinking analytically."

There are schedule modifications that parents can implement now to make the first day of school less jolting, however, and local education experts offer tips that range from gradually modifying a sleep schedule to planning after school activities.

"Start getting back into a school-year sleep schedule," said Ashley C. Lowry, the upper school academic coordinator and Advanced Placement U.S. history teacher at Connelly School of the Holy Child in Potomac, Md. "It's important that students hit the ground running. Continuing to stay awake until midnight or later will not provide students with the brainpower needed to start the year off right."

A sleep schedule adjustment is particularly important for middle and high school students. "Get them up earlier for those needed doctor and dentist appointments before school starts," said Lisa Turissini, Ed.D., chair of the Department of Education at Marymount University. "This age group loves to sleep in and some adjustment to an earlier schedule is really a good idea. You can also have them go to bed earlier to assist getting up earlier each morning."

Ann Richardson Miller, director of admission at The Madeira School in McLean, said "Sufficient sleep is critical to academic success. While harder to enforce at home, we believe strongly that this one simple thing can ensure success for transition into high school."

DESIGNATE AN AREA for completing homework assignments. "Do they have a work area set to go at home to complete homework each evening?" asked Turissini. "Is there a set time each evening for this to happen? Will there be certain evenings when everyone is present for family dinner together?"

Setting goals, both academic and personal, is important when beginning a new school year. "All school divisions, private or public, have some sort of grade-level objectives," said Shannon Melideo, Ph.D., associate dean, School of Education and Human Services at Marymount University. "Find the appropriate grade-level goals and spend a few minutes with your child reading over what they

One hurdle that parents and students, like these Height School chemistry students, led by teacher Peter Bancroft, face when making the transition from a relaxed summer schedule to a demanding academic year is the mental preparation for the pace and discipline that school requires.

will learn and set some goals."

Such goals are helpful in creating a smooth back-to-school transition. "For example, ride a bike, read a chapter book, hit a double, [learn to] tie shoes, [make the] honors list," said Melideo. "Write those goals down and put them in a place that the student can see often."

Young, says that parents should help children choose attainable goals. "Success breeds success. Early in the school year, set goals that are achievable," she said. "A bad goal is 'I'm going to make straight As this semester' if the child made Ds and Cs last semester. A better goal, for example, would be, 'I am going to turn in all my homework and not having any missing assignments during the first session.'"

One hurdle children and parents face when making the transition from the more relaxed summer schedule to the demands of the academic year is the mental preparation for the pace and discipline that school requires, said Michael S. Moynihan, head of the Upper School at The Heights School in Potomac.

"As study requires focusing one's attention and energy on texts or material to be mastered, it is necessary to start to build up the mental habits of focus and contemplation before one jumps into the classroom," he said.

"The best practical way for parents to help their children do this is to build set reading times into the daily schedule in the days leading up to the start of the school year. Wise parents will help their children choose reading materials that are a bit challenging..."

To help jumpstart brainpower, Lowry suggests "spending two to three hours a day on school-related work. This can be working on required summer work, or exploring academic areas of interest. This helps dust off the cobwebs."

Melideo recommends taking trips to the public library to find books or resources about topics a child will cover during the school year. Melideo said, "For example, third graders in Virginia often learn about ancient civilizations. Get some books on ancient Egypt."

Seven Schools to Implement Back-to-School Soda Ban

FCPS conducts pilot program banning sugary sodas in seven high schools.

Healthy eating habits begin early, and in an effort to curb consumption of sugary drinks by students, Fairfax County Public Schools (FCPS) will be conducting a pilot program in September that will ban sugary soda drinks in seven of its 25 high schools.

Sugary drinks, according to researchers, are believed to be a major contributor to increasing rates of childhood obesity in the United States, as well as diabetes, heart disease and other diseases. Schools in more than 40 states have banned student access to sodas.

According to an Aug. 19 FCPS news release, soda products are not currently available in any Fairfax County Public Schools during the school day, except for adult purchases in teachers' lounges.

The ban will remove regular soda products from the after-school soda machines in each of the seven participating schools, which include Chantilly, Falls Church, Langley, Marshall and West Potomac High Schools; Lake Braddock Secondary School; and Thomas Jefferson High School for Science and Technology.

Student and parent after-school fundraisers such as snack bars and booster clubs are excluded from this pilot.

"I have been working with staff and the Real Food for Kids community advocates to get this pilot started. I proposed the idea back in February, and we've been working with staff and various school principals to get support," said Ryan McElveen, a Fairfax County school board member.

"Obviously, some schools are wary of the idea since they could potentially lose revenue if students don't buy enough of the new, healthier products, but I'm confident that they will. In fact, students at TJ requested that we remove all sodas, including diet, from the machines, after they did research on the nutrition contents," McElveen added.

In the participating schools, 47 existing soda machines will be replaced with 37 new, state-of-the-art glass front beverage machines.

The new items, according to school officials, will include diet sodas, diet and unsweetened teas, coconut waters, V-8 Fusion Juice, SoBe Lifewaters, Propel Zeros and G2 Gatorade products. The costs of the new machines will be covered by the Coca-Cola Company and PepsiCo.

An evaluation of the one-year pilot will be conducted by FCPS' Office of Food and Nutrition Services and will include an examination of revenues, students' product preferences and acceptance of new products.

But limiting access to sugar-sweetened beverages may not have the impact school officials hope for. In one of the most comprehensive studies on the subject, published in 2008 in The Archives of Pediatrics and Adolescent Medicine, researchers looked at soda and sweetened beverage consumption among roughly 7,000 fifth and eighth grade students across 40 states. The students were followed between 2004 and 2007, a time when many states and school districts were beginning to enact bans.

The study found that removing soda from cafeterias and school vending machines only prompted students to buy sports drinks, sweetened fruit drinks and other sugar-laden beverages instead. In states that banned only soda, students bought and consumed sugary drinks just as frequently at school as their peers in states where there were no bans at all.

While McElveen agreed that a comprehensive ban on all sugary drinks would be most effective, he said FCPS is taking this "one step at a time."

"I am confident that the pilot will show us that students will drink the healthier beverages as much as, if not more than, sodas, and that offering the new beverages will be a viable option for all schools," McElveen said.

Denard Span of the Washington Nationals Visits Cox Solutions

Cox Communications hosted a meet and greet with Washington Nationals centerfielder Denard Span Saturday, Aug. 10, at the Cox Solutions Store in Fairfax. More than 200 people came to the Solutions Store and enjoyed having their photo taken with the pro athlete. Fans were also introduced to Cox's newest personal video experience, Contour, which boasts a record 6 DVR, individual profiles for up to eight users in the household and the state-of-the-art Contour App.

PUBLIC NOTICE VIRGINIA VOLUNTARY REMEDIATION PROGRAM

Property Name: Kings Park Shopping Center
8970 Burke Lake Road
Burke, Virginia 22151

Voluntary Remediation Program (VRP) No: 494

VRP Applicant: FW VA-Kings Park Shopping Center LLC
In accordance with the Virginia Voluntary Remediation Program (VRP) public participation requirements of 9 VAC 20-160-120, the general public is hereby notified that the property located at 8970 Burke Lake Road (Kings Park Shopping Center) in Burke, Virginia 22151 has voluntarily enrolled in the Voluntary Remediation Program (VRP) and is requesting a Certificate of Satisfactory Completion of Remediation from Virginia Department of Environmental Quality (VDEQ). Soil, soil vapor, and groundwater on the property have been impacted by certain volatile organic compounds (VOCs) as a result of historic dry cleaning operations that previously used tetrachloroethene (PCE) solvent. The VRP participant has performed onsite and offsite environmental testing and monitoring since 2007 and onsite remedial activities since 2008 which included soil vapor extraction (SVE) and in-situ chemical oxidation for removal of subsurface contamination. In accordance with the VRP, site characterization and human health risk assessment have been completed. The risk assessment did not identify any unacceptable risk to current onsite populations or offsite properties. Engineering and institutional controls have been selected as additional remedial actions to mitigate potential risk to future occupants and to protect the public. For more information on this matter, you may contact the persons listed below. Comments will be accepted for 30 days following the publication date of this notice.

Guarding Against Identity Theft and Fraud

Police advise residents on how to protect themselves.

BY BONNIE HOBBS
THE CONNECTION

With identity theft and fraud being such a major concern these days, police investigator Tom Polhemus and Det. Mike Deane recently presented some ways local residents can protect themselves from becoming victims.

They're both with the Sully District Station's Financial Crimes section and spoke during a meeting of the station's Citizens Advisory Committee. Basically, said Polhemus, "If you know how people are being ripped off, you'll know how to protect yourself."

He told residents to watch their bank accounts online and carefully examine their statements each month. If something's amiss, he said, "After 60 days, you own it."

The mail also holds hidden dangers, said Polhemus. "When you get a pre-approved credit application in the mail, thieves will take it from your mailbox, get the credit card and run up the bill in your name," he warned.

But, he said, "There's an opt-out number on the application, and you can call it from your home phone. Just follow the prompts and that'll tell the three credit bureaus—Esperian, Trans Union and Equifax—that you don't want this mail anymore."

Polhemus said consumers should go to www.annualcreditreport.com, or call this entity, to check on their credit report for any possible discrepancies or charges that shouldn't be there. "Do it once a year; it's free," he said.

"If you find there's a delinquent account with something you didn't sign up for, contact the creditor and fill out a police report and an affidavit of fraud," said Polhemus. "Have it removed from your credit report and stay on top of it. We see a lot of credit card fraud and stolen credit cards. They're taken especially from women in crowded restaurants or at fitness centers and health clubs."

He said thieves also know that many people leave their wallets and purses in their cars, instead of in lockers, at their gym. So he told residents to keep their valuables with them, instead.

"Some thieves will even steal a person's keys from their gym locker and then use them to open their car and steal their credit cards," added Deane.

SENIOR CITIZENS are also preyed upon, said Polhemus. "People will take a credit card from their purses while they're distracted," he said. But those wanting to commit credit card fraud and identity theft target people of all ages.

For example, said Polhemus, "A temp at your dentist's office has access to your credit card information and address. She can order a $4,000 computer online, have it sent to your address and track its shipping online. Then she'll call UPS and tell them to hold it for pickup, instead. Or she'll change the shipping address to another state."

He said police also handle a great deal of cases involving counterfeit credit cards. "The most important thing to a criminal is the magnetic stripe on the back of your card," explained Polhemus. "He can swipe it through a device to record it—and now he has your credit card. And there's no skill involved; it's really easy to do. At different times, various point-of-service computer terminals in stores and restaurants are compromised, as well."

Noting that crimes such as these are "now driven by organized crime, such as the Russian mob and the Romanians," he said they'll "put a device on top of a particular ATM. So when you put in your credit card, it'll skim your magnetic stripe and have a camera photograph your pin number as you punch it into the pin pad."

Furthermore, said Deane, "Now they can harvest your credit card information remotely. If they want it, they'll get it, so monitor your bank statements."

"And if you do and you contact your bank and notify them about any charges that aren't yours, you will get your money back," added Polhemus.

He also advised the audience about check fraud, saying that there's no difference between the way a real and a counterfeit check look. What's important, he said, are the routing and account numbers on the bottom of the check.

"When you pay your mortgage and put the envelope in the mailbox with the 'steal-me' flag up, a thief will take your check and counterfeit 10 checks," said Polhemus. "He'll then deposit these checks and get the cash back from your bank at several differ-

Review Credit Reports & Avoid Ripoffs

Fairfax County police offer the following tips regarding identity theft and fraud:

- ❖ Review credit reports annually
Experian: Fraud/credit history, 888-397-3742;
Trans Union: Fraud, 800-680-7289; Credit history, 800-888-4213;
Equifax: Fraud, 800-525-6285; Credit report, 800-685-1111.
Go to www.annualcreditreport.com.
- ❖ Opt out of receiving pre-approved credit card applications by calling 888-567-8688.
- ❖ Monitor credit cards and bank accounts online for early fraud detection.
- ❖ Don't mail bills from home; use electronic banking, if possible.
- ❖ Victims of identity theft should get a police report and secure a seven-year fraud alert or a credit freeze.
- ❖ People 70 and older should contact the credit bureaus and obtain a credit freeze, even if they're not currently identity theft victims.
- ❖ Never wire money to strangers online; these requests are scams.

ent locations. So don't mail your checks from home; do it from work or at the post office."

Even seemingly innocuous situations may pose a threat, he said. "For instance, if you pay for Girl Scout cookies with a check and the child's brother gets a hold of it and gets the numbers, he can use them to make automatic, monthly purchases for porn, or whatever he wants," said Polhemus.

However, he added, "If your identity's been stolen, you can get an identity theft passport from the attorney general's office to show the police, if necessary."

Polhemus also warned residents to never wire money to strangers online. "Your nephew isn't in trouble overseas," he said. "And the power company isn't going to call and threaten to turn off your power in an hour if you don't wire money immediately—100 percent, it's a fraud."

REGARDING FRAUD AGAINST THE ELDERLY, he said people age 70 and over need to obtain a credit freeze. "They'd pay $10 to each of the three credit bureaus to prevent anyone else from having access to their credit accounts. That way, no new credit would be issued."

It's necessary, said Polhemus, because some unscrupulous home health care providers will, otherwise, come into elderly people's homes, take their credit cards and run them up. "It's sad; we see senior citizens get ripped off all the time," he said. "But family members can monitor their accounts online for them."

At the end of his presentation, a resident asked how police decide which financial crimes to investigate. "Our loose criteria for investigating a case are: Is a Fairfax County resident out of money, and do we have a likelihood of prosecution?" answered Polhemus. "It also helps if there's a good video or surveillance photo of the thief."

Mention Mary Kay cosmetics, and most people think of the company's iconic pink Cadillac. For decades, the storied beauty company has offered the use of the pearl pink car as an incentive for sales force members to up their achievement level.

Earlier this month, Kathy Puglisi of Springfield, an independent sales director for Mary Kay since 2003, received her third Mary Kay car for outstanding business achievement.

But you won't be seeing Puglisi driving the pink Cadillac. Puglisi, who has lived in Springfield for more than 30 years, received a Chevy Cruze, one of the options Mary Kay offers to its star sales members, from Jim McKay Chevrolet in Fairfax.

"I am so proud to be a leader of such a great group of women who have helped me earn the honor to drive this new Chevy Cruze," said Puglisi. "Earning this reward to drive free means we, as a unit in Mary Kay, are enriching women's lives both with our products and with our business opportunity and that is a great feeling. I also want to thank my family and especially my husband, Rob, for the support they give and the belief they have in me."

The company's car program includes the Chevy Cruze in white, Chevy Equinox crossover in black, Toyota Camry in black, Ford Mustang in black and the iconic and coveted pearlized pink Cadillac. Mary Kay career car qualifiers also have the option of selecting cash compensation in lieu of the car.

"Cars earned by the independent sales force through this program serve as a symbol of their hard work and success in their Mary Kay businesses," said Darrell Overcash, president of Mary Kay Inc. U.S.

Since the inception of the car program in 1969, more than 141,000 independent sales force members have qualified or re-qualified to earn the use of a Mary Kay career car. Currently, 5,927 Mary Kay career cars are on the road nationwide.

"Being recognized and rewarded for sharing this product with others and making women feel special is just one of the many reasons I love this company," said Puglisi, who recently attended Mary Kay Inc.'s annual seminar in Dallas to celebrate the company's 50th anniversary.

During the seminar, Mary Kay's beauty consultants were encouraged to bring gently-used professional attire to donate to domestic violence shelters as part of the annual Mary Kay "Suits for Shelters" program. Last year's "Suits for Shelters" effort resulted in the donation of more than 2,500 career outfits for domestic violence survivors seeking jobs.

Mary Kay's 50th anniversary played a prominent role at this year's seminar, Overcash said. "The theme 'One Woman Can' pays tribute to company founder Mary Kay Ash and the idea that one woman can change the world."

"It feels wonderful to be a part of a company that is making such an impactful difference in the lives of people all over the world. My passion to do my part in changing lives has been elevated to a whole new level," Puglisi said.

Lieske Named Director of Main Street Child Development Center

The Board of Directors of the Main Street Child Development Center, a nonprofit early learning center located in the City of Fairfax near George Mason University, has named Carol Lieske to the position of center director. Lieske succeeds Elizabeth Egan, who has served as director since 1999.

A Fairfax resident, Lieske previously served as a STEM educator and curriculum designer at Ideaventions, an innovative educational organization focused on pre-K through eighth grade science, technology, engineering and math (STEM) enrichment programs. Prior to joining Ideaventions, she was a lead teacher at the George Mason University Child Development Center and assistant director and lead preschool teacher at Burke Presbyterian Church Preschool.

"Carol's background in early childhood and STEM education will be an asset to Main Street and the board is confident that Carol will have an immediate positive impact on our students and their families," said Board President Linda O'Donohue.

Brother's Brother Foundation (BBF) celebrated the grand opening of its Northern Virginia warehouse on Saturday, Aug. 10. The foundation was started in Pittsburgh, Pa. in 1958 and seeks to efficiently distribute donated medical supplies to international communities that are lacking in these resources.

"The goal is to take surplus medical supplies from hospitals and nursing homes and make them available to medical mission teams and mission hospitals in third-world countries," trustee Barry Byer said. "It can make a huge difference in people's lives."

Members of the board of trustees, staff, volunteers and supporters attended the opening. State Del. Richard Anderson (R-51) and Billy Thompson of the Merrifield Greater Business Association welcomed the organization to the area.

Anderson thanked members of the foundation for their efforts and predicted that BFF will "positively affect the quality of life in Northern Virginia," he said. According to Byer, the system by which BFF collects and redistributes medical supplies not only redirects aid to those in need, but also keeps surplus resources from ending up in local landfills.

The Virginia location of BFF will be run by three staffers, but will rely on the help of volunteers from the community, which Byer describes as the "backbone of the organization." Individuals interested in volunteering for the organization should contact the volunteer coordinator, Ruther Anderson, at randerson@brothersbrother.org.

Robinson Football Team Under New Leadership

Running back Wilson returns after 2,000-yard season.

BY JON ROETMAN
THE CONNECTION

After back-to-back subpar seasons, the Robinson football team is looking to return to its winning ways with a hard-nosed style of play. Leading the way for the Rams in 2013 are a 2,000-yard running back, a stout defensive lineman who now contributes on offense and an “old school” head coach with three state titles under his belt.

After retiring as principal of Robinson Secondary School, Dan Meier returns to the sidelines to serve as interim head coach of the Rams. Meier won a state championship with Chantilly in 1996, and guided West Potomac to state titles in 1989 (Division 6) and 1990 (D5). Meier takes over for Trey Taylor, who led the Rams to the playoffs in each of his two seasons as head coach, but finished with a 4-7 record in 2011 and a 5-6 mark in 2012.

“He’s a really good coach,” senior running back Joe Wilson said about Meier. “[He’s an] old school coach.”

Wilson returns as the Rams’ top offensive threat. The 5-foot-9, 195-pound running back led the area with 2,358 yards and scored 33 touchdowns last season. Avyn Johnson, Marcus Denham, DeMarcus Byrdson and Justin No could also see carries for the Rams.

Jake Pinkston could be a weapon at fullback. Entering his third year as a varsity starter, the 5-foot-8, 250-pound Pinkston has been a standout at defensive tackle. This season, he has the chance to make an impact on offense, as well.

Pinkston said Meier suggested in the past

Robinson running back Joe Wilson rushed for more than 2,000 yards last season.

that he play fullback. Now that Meier is head coach, Pinkston is lining up in the backfield.

“We’re getting back to how we used to play—hard and fast,” Pinkston said. “[We’re] not worried about the big things or anything else. We’re just focused on winning games and getting better every day. ... I like getting people on me. I like carrying the load. It’s nice.”

Junior Jack Rowlett returns as the starting quarterback. Endi Ackerman, Devante Hicks and Navarus Grant could see time at receiver. Six-foot-5, 310-pound Aiden Elkhatib is the leader of the offensive line.

On defense, the Rams return seniors with starting experience. Pinkston anchors the D-line and Johnson returns at “Mike” linebacker. Grant, Hicks, Rowlett and Stephen Diggs comprise the secondary.

Robinson will play in 6A North’s Conference 5 after the VHSL’s six-class realignment. The conference is composed of the six teams that played in the former Concorde District.

The Rams will open the season at home against Lake Braddock at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 30.

“Our goals are play 15 games,” Wilson said, “and win the state title.”

McLean Finishes Runner-Up at Little League Softball World Series

The McLean All-Stars reached the championship game of the Little League Softball World Series, but fell short against Sunnyside from Arizona, 9-0, on Aug. 14 in Portland, Ore.

McLean won its first five games of the World Series, beating teams from Oregon, Puerto Rico, Ohio, Italy and New Jersey.

McLean team members were: Caitlin Jorae; Madison Wolfe; Gracen Govan; Kathryn Sandercock; Elizabeth Hoeymans; Rachel Remer; Julia Jones; Jamie Wang; Kate Haas; Cate Willing; Riley Simon; and Sarah Stahlman.

USA Hockey Team Camp to Include Public Day

USA Hockey’s 2013 U.S. Men’s National Team Camp, which will be staged at the Kettler Capitals Iceplex in Arlington, will include a public day on Tuesday, Aug. 27.

Tickets for the event are limited and are on sale at ticketmaster.com.

All ticket holders will receive the following: player autographs; collectible puck; limited edition scarf; American flag; chance to skate; exclusive pre-order access to the Nike USA Hockey Olympic replica jersey.

In addition, NHL Network’s Kathryn Tappen will host an on-ice program that will include the unveiling of the 2014 Nike Olympic jersey, the introduction of all 48 players attending the camp, and product giveaways.
