'Mamma Mia, Here I Go Again' Chantilly's Emily Price is in hit musical at National Theatre.

BY BONNIE HOBBS
THE CONNECTION

Chantilly's Emily Price has come a long way. In 2006, at age 14, she played Dorothy in The Alliance Theatre's production of "The Wizard of Oz." Now 22, she's performing in the Broadway national tour of "Mamma Mia!"

The hit musical will be at the National Theatre in Washington, D.C., March 4-9. In the story, a young woman named Sophie is getting married in Greece. She wants to learn who her father is, so she invites three former suitors of her mother's to the wedding.

"I play Ali, one of Sophie's best friends, who's come to the Greek island as a bridesmaid," said Price. "Ali's quirky, funny and excited to be reunited with Sophie. I love it; I get to jump around and have a blast every night with wonderful performers. The audience loves the show — we always get a great reaction."

Price was drawn to acting as a child. "I was shy, so this was a great outlet for me," she said. "I also fell in love with the idea of diving into someone else's shoes and getting into their feelings and lives on stage."

Her first show was Alliance's "Oliver" in 2003, followed by "The Music Man" in 2004. "I grew up with [Alliance founder] Elaine Wilson as my director," said Price. "She allowed the ensemble members to work together to create something artistic. I remember having a lot of fun — it was like theater camp for me. I was also a counselor during their summer production of 'Willy Wonka.'"

Price enjoyed acting so much that, from age 12 on, she also performed with community-theater companies in Leesburg, Sterling and Reston. In addition, she worked with the Adventure Theatre, a children's theater company in Maryland.

The daughter of Cheryl and Jeff Price of the Pleasant Valley community, Emily was homeschooled, as were her two younger siblings, Timothy, 20, and Carolyn, 17. Her

To Go

Show times for "Mamma Mia!" are Tuesday, March 4, at 7:30 p.m.; Wednesday, March 5, at 7:30 p.m.; Thursday, March 6, at 7:30 p.m.; Friday, March 7, at 8 p.m.; Saturday, March 8, at 2 and 8 p.m.; and Sunday, March 9, at 2 and 7:30 p.m. Tickets are available at www.thenationaldc.com, 800-514-3849 or the National Theatre box office. two older brothers, Daniel, 26, and Justin, 23, graduated from Westfield High.

Meanwhile, the Adventure Theatre's artistic director recommended CAP21 (the Collaborative Arts Project in the 21st Century) to Price. It's a musical-theater conservatory in Manhattan and, after completing high school, that's where she went.

After graduation, she stayed in New York City, worked with an agency and, in December 2012, auditioned for "Mamma Mia!" By June 2013, she was cast and joined Worklight Production Co., the show's Broadway national tour.

"I was ecstatic, finally getting cast and getting to work with a bunch of creative people," said Price. "We sing, dance and put on a fun show."

"Mamma Mia!" opened Oct. 3 in Orlando, Fla., and, since then, has toured from city to city all over the U.S. and parts of Canada. "We do eight shows a week, so I've learned how to be consistent and deliver the same quality of performance every time," said Price.

She said the toughest part is traveling all the time because she has to decide what clothing to take with her. She also has to stay fit and healthy because the show entails so much dancing.

"But I've had a good time," said Price. "The cast is awesome; everyone gets along, works so hard and puts in 100 percent each night. I also like getting the chance to dance more and I love the fun '90s costumes we get to wear."

This show will run until June 15 and will then head to Bogotá, Colombia in August for three weeks of performances. Enjoying her life in musical theater, Price's advice to theater students considering a career in the business is to not be afraid to "put yourself out there and make bold choices."

"And if you're auditioning and not getting the parts, then switch it up and try something new," she continued. "Look at yourself and figure out who you are in the industry. You're always going to be growing and discovering what you can do and where you fit in the arts."

Chantilly One-Act Heads to States

Play written by director Ed Monk vies for VHSL title.

The cast and crew of Chantilly High's production of "Vocal Work" will compete Saturday, March 8, at the VHSL State One-Act Play Competition in Charlottesville. Written and directed by Chantilly Theater Director Ed Monk, it's a comedy set in a sound studio.

The audience sees a hectic day in the life of Amanda, working at her sound studio which specializes in creating radio spots. According to the show's publicity blurb, "The schedule is screwed up, the mattress girls have yet to be cast, the car girl doesn't know how to sound sexy, the diarrhea ad isn't finished, and time is running out."

Chantilly won the Concorde Conference Championship with "Vocal Work" on Jan. 30. In the Northern Region competition on Feb. 8, Chantilly came in second behind West Springfield High. Both schools then

Hollywood Comes to Fairfax

BY DEB COBB
THE CONNECTION

Animals at the Fairfax County Animal Shelter were given the celebrity treatment on Feb. 23 when a team from the non-profit Shelter Art Foundation taught shelter staff and volunteers how to use Hollywood-style portrait techniques to photograph their adoptable animals.

“We believe that every animal is a celebrity. We want to give them the same exposure that we would give a budding star in Hollywood. We do this because it works. Great portraits get actors and actresses noticed and leading roles. We want these animals to get leading roles in new homes,” said Shelter Art Foundation founder Steve Sloop after the Sunday workshop.

“We have conducted photo team workshops at 19 shelters in eight states, enabling these shelters to build the skills necessary to show off their stars. All of the shelters we have worked with have said that the better images make a difference,” said Sloop.

“When I was a kid if you wanted an animal, you went to the shelter. And now, if you want an animal you go online. If the online image isn’t beautiful and inviting and something you would want to have at your house, you’ll keep clicking until you find it. But when you have that animal that looks at you and grabs your heart, you’ll go into the shelter. That may not be the one that you come home with, but we’ve got you into the shelter so you can find the one you connect with,” said Sloop of the concept that drove him to create the Shelter Art Foundation.

IN THE PAST YEAR, under the leadership of Tawny Hammond, the Fairfax County Animal Shelter has implemented a multi-faceted social media campaign to engage with the community in new ways and to increase adoptions. “A strong photography program coupled with a strategic social media program is paramount to success. With training and attention, we all can do it.”

How to use Hollywood-style portrait techniques to photograph adoptable animals.

When the Shelter Art Foundation contacted Hammond about hosting a workshop, she said, “How soon can we do it?” Not only did volunteers from the Fairfax County Animal Shelter participate, but representatives from humane societies in the District of Columbia and Montgomery County, Maryland were also present.

The non-profit Shelter Art Foundation was founded in 2010 when Sloop realized that he and his volunteer photo team at the Monterey SPCA had figured out an easy to learn, low cost technique that combined advanced animal wrangling strategies with a basic studio photography setup. He founded the non-profit and started traveling to shelters around the country.

“At first, I’d visit a shelter whenever I was traveling to see family or friends,” says Sloop. In late 2013 he was contacted by Purina to see if support from them would enable the Foundation to expand their program. Once they conduct the workshop, they are able to provide the shelters they visit with the equipment needed to set up the shelter studio at no cost.

THERE ARE CURRENTLY 25 shelters in California, two in Nevada, one in Alabama, one in Louisiana, one in Missouri and one in Virginia scheduled for this spring.

“Our goal is to empower as many shelters and rescue organizations as possible with the training and equipment they need to improve their images,” says Sloop. For more information about the organization, go to their website at www.ShelterArtFoundation.org.

Giving Bianca a Second Chance

A Fairfax County Animal Shelter happy ending.

Bianca, a nine-year-old, female, German shepherd mix dog, had been living her life on the end of a chain in a rural part of Virginia. In late January, an unknown stray dog approached Bianca and attacked her. Bianca's owner came outside and in an attempt to stop the attack he hit both dogs with a shovel, striking Bianca over the head and injuring her. Rather than pursue vet care, the owner drove Bianca to the local pound and surrendered her. For the next 36 hours, Bianca sat with no medical care, until a sympathetic staff person called the shelter's rescue partner at the Highland County Humane Society in rural Virginia.

Highland County Humane Society rescued Bianca from the pound and got her emergency medical treatment. She was taken to a foster home to recover and receive further treatment and was transported to the Fairfax County Animal Shelter on Valentine's Day. She was made available for adoption and her story was shared on the shelter's Facebook page, where it caught the attention of a long-time shelter supporter and adopter. The woman's beloved dog Princess (adopted from the shelter in 1999), died on Valentine's Day at the age of 18, on the same day that Bianca's story was posted. She knew that she was meant to help give poor Bianca a second chance. She immediately contacted the shelter and made plans to come and meet Bianca. Bianca went home with her new mom on Feb. 19, and she is doing great.

CVHS's Love Adds Wrestling Championship to Football Title

Westfield's Yorkdale wins 126-pound state title.

BY JON ROETMAN
CENTRE VIEW

Tyler Love ended his 2013-14 Centreville athletic year as a two-time state champion. After winning a state title in the fall as a linebacker on the Centreville football team, Love earned an individual state championship in wrestling on Feb. 22 at the 6A state meet at Robinson Secondary School. Love defeated Colonial Forge's Chris Carter via 10-3 decision to win the 195-pound title.

"I knew if I wrestled my matches and my game," Love said, "the outcome would be what I wanted it to be."

Love, a junior, wrestles year-round and will not compete in a spring sport at Centreville High School. What are his thoughts on winning a state title during the fall and winter seasons?

"It seems like," Love said, "a pretty successful year."

Love is committed to the University of Virginia. Westfield junior Justin Yorkdale won the 126-pound state championship, defeating Washington-Lee senior Narankhuu Ganbaatar by major decision, 11-2. Chantilly senior Walter Carlson, the all-time wins leader in program history, reached the 145-pound final, but lost to Frank Cox's Collin Saunders by decision, 13-7. Other individual state champions included: Lake Braddock's Darius Wiles (113), South County's Hunter Manley (132), Robinson's Jack Bass (152), Robinson's Zak DePasquale (160), Robinson's Cole DePasquale (182), and Robinson's Jake Pinkston (285).

Robinson won its third team state championship in four years with a score of 152.5 points. Colonial Forge finished runner-up with a 132.5 points. Westfield finished 12th at the 5A/6A meet with 45 points.

Westfield Girls', Boys' Basketball Teams Lose at Regionals

The Westfield girls' and boys' basketball teams recently fell short during their respective 6A North region tournament appearances.

The Westfield girls' team, the No. 3 seed from Conference 5, defeated Osbourn Park, the No. 2 seed from Conference 8, 51-40 in the opening round on Feb. 24 before being eliminated by West Springfield 57-34 in the quarterfinals on Feb. 25.

The Westfield boys' team, the No. 4 seed from Conference 5, lost to Conference 8-champion Battlefield 76-70 in the opening round on Feb. 24.

Crime Solvers Seeks Vandals

Fairfax County Crime Solvers is asking the public to help identify the people responsible for vandalizing vehicles in the Sully Police District. Between Sunday, Feb. 2 and Tuesday, Feb. 18, at least 100 parked vehicles were struck by BB-type projectiles.

Police say the suspects are apparently driving through neighborhoods shooting the BBs at parked cars, breaking the windows and causing damage. Many of the vehicles were parked on or near Old Centreville Road, Skipton Court, Federation Drive, Singleton's Way and Compton Lane. Anyone with information about these vandalisms is asked to contact Crime Solvers at 1-866-411-TIPS(8477), e-mail www.fairfaxcrimesolvers.org or text TIP187 plus a message to CRIMES(274637). A $100 to $1,000 cash reward will be paid for information leading to an arrest. As always, callers never have to give their names or appear in court.

Free Carseat Inspections

Certified technicians from the Sully District Police Station will perform free, child safety carseat inspections Thursday, Feb. 27, from 5-8:30 p.m., at the station, 4900 Stonecroft Blvd. in Chantilly. No appointment is necessary. But residents should install the child safety seats themselves so technicians may properly inspect and adjust them, as needed.

However, because of time constraints, only the first 35 vehicles arriving on each date will be inspected. That way, inspectors may have enough time to properly instruct the caregiver on the correct use of the child seat. Call 703-814-7000, ext. 5140, to confirm dates and times.

Two Fastran Buses Burn

Fairfax County Fire and Rescue Department units responded last Thursday, Feb. 20, around 7:20 a.m., to a two-bus fire at the Fairfax County Government Center. Burning were a pair of county-owned, Fastran buses in Bus Lot 5.

Upon arrival, firefighters encountered the Ford E450 buses fully involved in flames. They brought the fire under control in approximately 10 minutes. According to fire investigators, the blaze was accidental, caused by an unidentified mechanical failure.

They say the fire originated in the engine compartment of one of the buses, and quickly ignited an adjacent bus. No one was injured, but damage was estimated at $20,000.

Learn about Parkland Plan

The Fairfax County Park Authority has a new comprehensive plan for parkland in the local area. And it's hosting a community meeting Wednesday, March 5, at 7 p.m., at Bull Run Elementary, 15301 Lee Highway in Centreville, to discuss the details.

The plan includes the parkland north of Route 29 on the west side of Virginia Run, parkland along Bull Run Post Office Road, the Bull Run stream and parkland along Pleasant Valley Road up to the Loudoun County border.

Correction

In the Feb. 20, 2014 Centre View and Chantilly Connection, the name of the worldwide spiritual leader of the Ahmadiyya Muslims should have been Mirza Masroor Ahmad.

Theater Workshops Offered

Broadway actress and audio/visual tech coming to Fairfax High.

BY BONNIE HOBBS
THE CONNECTION

Actress Candi Boyd

Broadway comes to Fairfax with the arrival of actress Candi Boyd, currently appearing on Broadway in the play, "Jersey Boys." On Sunday, March 9, she'll present a musical-theater workshop, "Broadway: Behind the Curtain," at Fairfax High — and it's open to all area high-school students.

It'll run from noon-4:30 p.m. in the auditorium, with a limited number of spots available. Tickets range from $10-$40, depending on level of participation.

The event's a fundraiser for Fairfax High's theater program, and school Theater Director Erich DiCenzo hopes to make it an annual tradition. "It's a fantastic opportunity for students to have exposure to professional and talented artists," he said. "Anyone with any interest in this field is welcome. Attendees don't have to be theater students."

Boyd was his college roommate at Point Park University in Pittsburgh — a conservatory for performing arts — where they were in three shows together. They also performed together in an award-winning show at Cedar Point, Ohio, and kept in touch over the years.

So, said DiCenzo, "I've had unique and special experiences working in this career, and I wanted to bring them into the classroom. And I can connect to my friends — my theater family — in New York and bring a hands-on experience to my students."

WORKING ONE-ON-ONE with the students, Boyd will teach them original choreography from "Jersey Boys" and coach them through songs and monologues. She'll also answer their questions about what it's like to be on Broadway and the auditioning process.

She and DiCenzo designed the workshop together with three levels of tickets. For $10, students can watch her instructing the other students and will be able to ask her questions. For $20, they'll get to learn the dance and perform it onstage, besides participating in the Q&A session.

For $40 — limited to 24 high-school students — they'll do all those things, plus receive individual instruction from Boyd. This level of tickets is only available to non-Fairfax High students. To purchase tickets, go to www.fxplayers.org.

For those who do attend Fairfax, Boyd will work with and speak to 24 of them from 10 a.m.-noon. That way, the other 24 spots will be open to students from other high schools and/or counties.

Also participating in the workshop will be Boyd's husband, Matt Kaitila, the audio/visual technical engineer of the Barclays Center in New York, where the 2013 Video Music Awards were held.

"It's exciting that we'll also have a very highly esteemed techie coming in," said DiCenzo. "He'll do a tech talk to tell about the behind-the-scenes world of one of the nation's most popular and exciting venues. He's done every concert from Paul McCartney to Justin Bieber."

As for Boyd, said DiCenzo, "She's not only performing on Broadway, but she's also designated to perform any female role needed in 'Jersey Boys' productions in Las Vegas and South Africa and on the national tour. And she's donating her time away from the play to do this workshop." For more information about her, go to www.candiboyd.com.

So, said DiCenzo, "We're bringing Broadway, literally, to Fairfax. We're giving students — whether aiming to follow in Matt or Candi's footsteps or not — the unique opportunity to rub elbows with and learn from professionals in show business. And for those wanting to find a future in this industry, this workshop can provide them the affirmation they need." Proceeds from the event will go toward purchasing new microphones for the theater department. "We're hoping to start with some new mic packs and replace a few headsets for our stage manager," said DiCenzo. "Any extra funds would help supply us with lumber for sets, plus replace and repair sewing machines [for costumes]. In the future, we're hoping to add a scrim curtain to our incredible facility."

Most of all, he added, "I'm excited to introduce these two friends of mine to the community and continue to blend my two worlds of professional theater experience and teaching. We're hoping for a great turnout in support of, not only Fairfax High, but the arts in education."
