Siobhan Russell was just 19 when her ex-boyfriend killed her. Ron Kirby, a noted regional transportation planner, was murdered in his Alexandria home in November by an unknown assailant.

And on Sunday evening, April 6, they and other crime victims were honored with a 5K walk, remembrance ceremony and candlelight vigil. The Fairfax County Law Enforcement Foundation and the county Police Department’s Victims Services Section held the event at Fairfax Corner.

Before the walk, Commonwealth’s Attorney Ray Morrogh addressed the crowd of more than 100 people gathered in the shopping center’s outdoor plaza. He praised the detectives who investigate criminal cases and said the men and women of Fairfax County’s police department are the best in the country.

“I can’t help but think, on a day like this, of [Arlington’s] Linda Franklin, killed [in October 2002] by the D.C. Sniper, or Vanessa Pham [a Falls Church teen murdered in 2010],” he said. “We’re always going to have victims and there’s always going to be sadness. But I love my job as a prosecutor and it takes all of us to support these victims.”

THE EVENT kicked off National Crime Victims’ Rights Week, April 6-12. The purpose is to promote victims’ rights and acknowledge crime victims and their advocates. It also marks the achievements made on crime victims’ behalf since passage of the Victims of Crime Act in 1984, providing support and including them in the justice process. Participating Sunday were victims’ friends and relatives, plus the professionals who support local victims of homicide, trauma, sexual and domestic violence, child physical and sexual abuse, stalking, human trafficking and suicide.

“We’re blessed in Fairfax County to have great community support for the victims of crime,” said county Police Chief Ed Roessler Jr. “These victims provide valuable input to our Victims Services Section so we may be better advocates for the needs of victims and survivors.”

“Victims Services helps victims cope with the trauma and the aftermath of victimization,” said Board of Supervisors Chairman Sharon Bulova. “It also lessens the inconveniences often associated with participation in the criminal justice process. Crimes against persons,

The Seven Faces Of Erin Peterson

Annual Gospel Celebration of Life is this Sunday, April 13.

BY BONNIE HOBBS
CENTRE VIEW

Nearly seven years have passed since Centreville’s Erin Peterson — an 18-year-old freshman at Virginia Tech — was killed in a massacre there, along with 31 others. But although short, her life counted; and each year, the local community gathers to remember her.

To make sure the Westfield High grad’s legacy lives on, her parents, Grafton and Celeste Peterson, established the Erin Peterson Fund in May 2007 to continue their daughter’s dedication to education and to helping those less fortunate. They also began an annual Gospel Celebration in her memory and to raise money for the fund.

This year, the 7th Annual Erin Peterson Gospel Celebration of Life will be held Sunday, April 13, at 4 p.m., at Mount Olive Baptist Church, 6600 Old Centreville Road in Centreville. The theme is “Keeping Hope Alive: The Seven Faces of Erin – Daughter, Sister, Friend, Mentor, Visionary, Peacemaker, Inspiration.”

“The word Gospel means good news, and it is good news that we are spreading in Erin’s name and because of the beautiful legacy she left for us,” said Celeste Peterson. “Erin was an exceptional person and a wonderful daughter. She had a tremendous zeal for life, a commitment to excellence and a passion for serving others. She made you want to be a better person, and we honor her legacy through the Erin Peterson Fund.”

This nonprofit organization awards scholarships and grants to help students with the same dreams and aspirations as Erin. Since its inception, more than $120,000 in grants and scholarships have been awarded.

So although Sunday’s event is free and open to the public, donations are welcome. All money collected during the program will help provide further educational scholarships and grants for deserving students.

Each group or individual participating in the celebration will perform two selections. The performers include the Mount Olive Baptist Church Praise Team, as well as Sonya Williamson, a soloist and 14-year member of the church. Also entertaining will be Voices of Tomorrow (Today), a choir comprised of males, ages 13-25, who are part of the congregation of First Baptist Church of Manassas. This group serves as Mount Olive’s praise and worship team on the second Sundays of the month. Accord Ministries, a small Gospel group from the Word Alive Church

ROUNDUPS

Chantilly Pyramid Art Show

Featuring the artwork of Chantilly High and its feeder schools, Chantilly High will host the annual, Chantilly Pyramid Art Show. It's this Thursday, April 10, from 6-8 p.m., in the front halls of the school at 4201 Stringfellow Road.

Free Carseat Inspections

Certified technicians from the Sully District Police Station will perform free, child safety carseat inspections Thursday, April 10 and April 24, from 5-8:30 p.m., at the station, 4900 Stonecroft Blvd. in Chantilly. No appointment is necessary. But residents should install the child safety seats themselves so technicians may properly inspect and adjust them, as needed.

However, because of time constraints, only the first 35 vehicles arriving on each date will be inspected. That way, inspectors may have enough time to properly instruct the caregiver on the correct use of the child seat. Call 703-814-7000, ext. 5140, to confirm dates and times.

Craft Fair April 12

New Life Christian Church's Passion 4 Community is sponsoring a craft show with local artisans. It's set for Saturday, April 12, from 9 a.m.-3 p.m., at the nZone, 14550 Lee Road in Chantilly.

There'll be about 70 vendors total for the event, food will be available for sale and there'll be activities for children. Admission cost is a non-perishable food item for local families in need.

Correction

The story, "The Goal is to Spot Kids in Crisis," (Centre View, March 27), should have said there were 15 teenage suicides since 2012.

Prevent Thefts from Vehicles

In light of recent events in the Sully District over the last week or so, Sully District police are offering some safety tips to local residents. They've seen an increase in items being stolen from unlocked cars, as well as vehicles that have been stolen because keys were left inside them or in another car parked at the same residence.

Police urge residents to remove all valuables from their vehicle. These include removable navigation systems (GPS), laptops, iPods, cell phones, tablets, weapons, briefcases, jewelry and loose change. In addition, do not store a spare key in the car or a key for a vehicle garaged at the same residence. People who can't park at or in front of their home are advised to park in a well-lit area.

And most importantly, says Sully District Station Crime Prevention Officer Tara Gerhard, "Lock your vehicle. And remember, you are the eyes and the ears of our community. If something seems out of place or suspicious to you, please call the non-emergency number, 703-691-2131."

Food Donations for WFCM

Western Fairfax Christian Ministries' food pantry urgently needs donations of Ramen Noodles, spaghetti sauce, fruit juice, canned vegetables (no green beans), cooking oil; canned pasta, sugar, flour and canned fruit and meat.

Also needed are diapers in sizes 5 and 6, toothpaste, deodorant and baby wipes. (WFCM clients cannot purchase toiletries with food stamps).

Bring all items to WFCM'S food pantry, weekdays, 9 a.m.-1:30 p.m., at 13888 Metrotech Drive, near Papa John's Pizza and Kumon Learning Center, in Chantilly's Sully Place Shopping Center.

Thrift-store needs include spring and summer clothing, quality shoes and like-new houseware. The store is at 13939 Metrotech Drive. In addition, Thrift Store volunteers are needed for two-hour shifts Saturdays, anytime between 10 a.m.-4 p.m.

Bonsai Show at Garden Center

Learn about, see and vote for favorite trees.

The Northern Virginia Bonsai Society will hold its Spring Show this weekend at the Merrifield Garden Center. It's at 12101 Lee Hwy. in Fairfax and the free show runs Saturday, April 12, from 10 a.m.-5 p.m., and Sunday, April 13, from 10 a.m.-4 p.m.

Bonsai experts will give demonstrations, and attendees may vote on the trees they believe should then compete at the Potomac Bonsai Association show at the National Arboretum.

"Most, if not all, bonsai trees are regular trees that, if planted outside, would grow to full size," said club member Dr. Joe Gutierrez. "But we keep them in a small pot and purposely train them to stay small. We do it by repotting into appropriate-sized pots and pruning the roots and branches."

"The trunks get bigger and older-looking, but the roots get smaller because small roots feed a tree best," said member Gary Reese. "And the bonsai are planted in inorganic, ground-up rock." Formerly on the Fairfax County School Board and the 67th District delegate, he's a 30-year member of the club.

They have 62 members from throughout Northern Virginia. "We educate ourselves, the public and new members about the styling and horticulture of bonsai," said Burke's Chuck Croft.

Club President Judi Schwartz said no experience is necessary because they have a mentoring program for those new to the art. "We bring in some of the best bonsai experts in the world to give lectures and workshops," added Reese. "You can bring in your own trees and they'll give you advice; it's a tremendous, eye-opening experience."

Bonsai are planted in crushed lava, baked clay and pumice. "The most important thing is that they drain well," said Croft. "So we have to feed and water them regularly."

"You have complete control over the tree's water and nutrients," said Gutierrez.

"That's why people joke that the definition of 'bonsai' is to almost kill a tree," said Reese. But, said Croft, the actual definition is "tree in a pot."

The art began in China and is more than 2,000 years old. "It spread to Japan through the Buddhist monks," said Croft. "And the Japanese established rules, called bonsai, for designing and styling trees. The Chinese version, called 'penjing,' is a little more free form."

"But thankfully, when it came to the U.S., we used those rules more as guidelines and used trees that grew here," said Reese.

"Bonsai is the technique of miniaturizing trees," said Gutierrez. "The foliage and tree should be in scale with each other." "I tell people the tree's going to tell you what to do by its own shape and the way it's growing," said Croft. "We like to work with trees that nurseries have left over and nobody else wants, or half-dead trees, so they sell at reduced rates. Then we can nurse them back to health and style them around the character they've developed."

Their trees stay outdoors year 'round. "We keep the wind from drying them out," said Schwartz.

And, added Croft, "If it's warm enough and there's enough precipitation, you don't have to water them during the winter." Gutierrez said freezing temperatures don't hurt them as long as the soil has moisture in it when it freezes.

International in Manassas, will also perform. These young men serve as Mount Olive's praise and worship team on the fourth Sundays of the month. Koreakos, a praise team from the Community Praise Center in Alexandria, is participating, too. The group's name means "belonging to God." And always popular is Unspoken Praise from Mount Olive. It's comprised of both male and female teenagers who worship through mime.

"Erin was a woman of faith," said her cousin, Tracy Littlejohn, who's also organizing the event. "She demonstrated her faith by the way she lived her life, how she treated people, supported and encouraged them. She was a true blessing to our life, and we pray that the work of the foundation will be a blessing to others."

Scholarships in Erin's name go to graduating seniors at Westfield and Falls Church high schools or students who attend Mount Olive Baptist Church. And almost 100 percent of the grant money goes directly to Westfield for its Boys Leadership Group Today for Tomorrow, which serves and supports at-risk young men attending that school. For more information about the Erin Peterson Fund, go to www.ErinPetersonFund.org or call 703-830-8769.

"I just think the Gospel celebration is a wonderful way to remember her," said Littlejohn. "It is always such an uplifting experience and something positive for the community. I believe that is why choirs, soloists, gospel groups and liturgical dancers from throughout the region have participated. I am also grateful to the Mount Olive Baptist Church family for their continuous support of this event, our foundation and our family."

property and society are all down again this year in Fairfax County. And with public safety as one of our highest priorities, we intend to keep it that way."

Also speaking was Will Marling, executive director of the National Organization for Victim Assistance. "Victims' rights aren't a luxury, but a necessity, and there's a state commitment to provide dignity and respect to those impacted by crime," he said. "Under the U.S. Constitution, the accused has 23 protections, but those impacted by a crime have none. We're hoping to change that with U.S. House joint resolution 30."

"Victims' rights don't cost that much and don't violate the rights of the accused," continued Marling. "Victims should have equal footing under the law, and Virginia has a commitment to this. I'm honored to be here today with you."

Attendees wore or carried signs telling who or what they were there to honor. Some bore the name of a loved one and others acknowledged victims of particular crimes. Michele Putnam, who works in Vienna, was there to honor sexual-assault victims.

"It's important to recognize the victims and the support in the community," she said. "A lot of times, the focus is on the criminal and the case investigation, but we need to make sure the victims aren't lost. It's also important to raise awareness of these crimes to prevent re-victimization."

There with Putnam was Rob Twitchell; his friend's daughter was struck by a drunk driver at age 3. "She had severe brain trauma and is now a special-needs child," he said. "She'll never be the same."

Sully District Police Station Chaplain Duke Bendix said, "Wrong actions can sow in our hearts the seeds of despair, hopelessness, anger and hatred. But we must be vigilant to guard against these feelings from taking root in the soil of our hearts."

He then prayed to God to be a "fortress and salvation" to crime victims and their loved ones. "Minister comfort, consolation, grace and perspective into the hearts of those who've been victims or know someone who has," he said. "Bring hope into their hearts and draw them into your peace and love."

DURING THE CANDLELIGHT VIGIL, several people came to the podium and gave the name of the person they were honoring. Others said they were there to remember the victims of crimes including human trafficking, homicide, stalking, robbery, domestic violence and drunk driving.

Wendy Claunch, a family friend, came in honor of the organization, Dating Abuse Stops Here (DASH), and Oak Hill teen Siobhan Russell, murdered by her ex-boyfriend in 2009. She said Sunday's event signified that "victims are not forgotten."

"We need to raise awareness that memories of the victims are still there and their lives had meaning and purpose," said Claunch. "One reason we started DASH was to keep Siobhan's memory alive. And as her parents say, 'If we can stop one other person from becoming a victim of dating abuse, then her death won't have been entirely in vain.'"

Through DASH, teens learn the early warning signs of an unhealthy and potentially dangerous relationship, such as stalking, possessiveness and controlling behavior. For more information, go to www.datingabusestopshere.com.

Wearing her DASH jacket adorned with a photo button of Siobhan in her cap and gown after graduating from Mountain View High, Claunch said, "She was killed nine weeks after graduation. She was moving on with her life without her ex-boyfriend and he didn't like that."

However, said Schwartz, "Indoor tropical trees cannot survive outside in this climate. So they go indoors and need special lighting and watering, plus regular care. But they're fun because you get to play with them all winter."

"There's no special, single, bonsai tree," said Croft. "Any woody plant can be turned into a bonsai. The trees most forgiving of mistakes [with their care] are Japanese maples, conifers, azaleas and boxwood."

Reese said pine trees also work well, although they require "an entirely different technique to miniaturize their needles. Anyone interested in learning how should come to our group."

A 21-year club member, Croft said, "I enjoy the people and working with bonsai trees. It's relaxing and stress-reducing. Some of us have even traveled to other countries to see other people's bonsai. They all have different ways of displaying their trees. Some put a tree in a setting, beside a small stature, or place a painting behind it."

Schwartz does bonsai because "it's an art form and I'm proud of what I can create. I'm especially proud when I get flowers to bloom on something difficult. I've been with the club since 1998 or '99; it's like a second family and I enjoy meeting people."

Gutierrez, the club's longest member, has been with it since 1974. "I like the camaraderie, plus the intellectual challenge of keeping plants alive," he said. "I'm a retired surgeon and I'm interested in the plants' physiology. And like I enjoyed doing surgery, I enjoy doing surgery on the plants."

He's nicknamed "The Magician," because of his way with bonsai. And, said Reese, "Joe can turn a scrap tree into a beautiful work of art." Schwartz and Reese each have 25-30 trees, Croft has 100 and Gutierrez has 257.

As for Reese, he loves bonsai because of the trees. "They show you what you've done right and wrong, teach you patience and give you comfort," he said. "And if you're on the School Board or in the legislature, you need patience and comfort. Bonsai also teaches you persistence, focusing on the long-term result."

Celebrating 45 years, the Northern Virginia Bonsai Society meets the second Saturday of the month, 9 a.m., at Walter Reed Community Center in Arlington. No experience needed; new members are welcome. ## Connection Papers Win Awards Reporting, photography, design and editorial cartoons commended at annual Virginia Press Association meeting.

“Great work exposing serious challenges and obstacles in the way of the public’s access to public information. The articles are well written and well researched, providing concrete and compelling examples of the flaws in the systems.”

That was what the judge said when awarding first place for In-depth or investigative reporting to Michael Lee Pope in the Arlington Connection.

The Virginia Press Association announced its press awards for 2013 at the annual meeting on Saturday, April 5, in Richmond.

Pope also won first place for education writing, for business and financial writing, and awards for health, science and environmental writing and for government writing. Stories appeared in the Alexandria Gazette Packet, the Mount Vernon Gazette and the Connection papers.

Bonnie Hobbs won first place for general news writing for her coverage of the proposed roundabout in Centreville. “Good work getting all viewpoints of the issue without assigning judgment to who is right and who is wrong,” wrote judges.

Jeanne Theismann won first place for public safety writing and for public service writing in the Alexandria Gazette Packet.

Connection Newspapers won first place for information graphics for the 2013 Insiders Guide to Fairfax County Parks, designed by Jean Card with photos by Renee Ruggles and Craig Sterbutzel.

First place for special sections went to the Connection’s HomeLifeStyle pullout.

Victoria Ross won for feature series/continuing coverage for coverage of foster care. Judges note: “Fantastic blend of fact and narrative, and it packs an emotional punch. The stories are very well-researched, tightly written and highly effective.”

Ross also won for personal service writing for her coverage of “digital legacy,” and control of one’s online content after death.

Cartoonist Steve Artley began cartooning for the Alexandria Gazette Packet in December 2013, with only three cartoons in the year, but two of them won awards. His cartoon on the threatened use of eminent domain in the City of Alexandria drew this comment from the judge: “One of the best examples of editorial cartooning I have seen in years and reminiscent of editorial cartoons poignant and relevant enough to still be included in history texts today. Wonderful use of the paper boat as the flagship of eminent domain with tons of little touches which push the entry even higher.”

Alex McVeigh won an award for investigative or in-depth reporting in Great Falls. Donna Manz won for her feature stories in Vienna.

The annual Insiders/Newcomers edition of the Alexandria Gazette Packet won third place for special edition, including work by Steven Mauren, Jeanne Theismann, John Bordner and Jean Card.

Editorials written by Mary Kimm won second and third place awards.

FIRST PLACE

First Place for Investigative Reporting, Uncovering Secret Government. Michael Lee Pope, Arlington Connection — Judge’s comment: Great work exposing serious challenges and obstacles in the way of the public’s access to public information. The articles are well written and well researched, providing concrete and compelling examples of the flaws in the systems.

First Place for Education writing. Michael Lee Pope, Alexandria Gazette Packet — Alexandria Education Dollars. Judge’s comment: This is by far the best entry in the contest. Michael Lee Pope wrote several strong articles on the cost of administration in his market. He did a very nice job of making a numbers story interesting.

First Place for Business and Financial writing. Michael Lee Pope, Mount Vernon Gazette

— Judge’s comment: The story about car title loans offers an interesting look at this industry, which is proliferating due to a change in state law. Kudos for looking at how much the industry contributes to state legislators’ political campaigns. Business taxes — is it fair to charge higher rates for certain professions? Pope provides a balanced look at the pros and cons. The story on a transit study covers the debate over urban vs. rural development in Mount Vernon. Pope combines thorough reporting with competent writing.

First Place for Public Safety Writing, Jeanne Theismann, Alexandria Gazette Packet — Judge’s comment: Creative, compelling ledes.

Mary Kimm

First Place for General News Writing, Bonnie Hobbs, Centre View — Judge’s comment: The creative lede pushed this one over the top. Good work getting all viewpoints of the issue without assigning judgment to who is right and who is wrong.

First Place for Personal Service Writing, Jeanne Theismann, Alexandria Gazette Packet — Judge’s comment: Each story is an interesting and vivid snapshot of the deceased with good use of quotes and anecdote to bring the subject’s personality to life and also convey why he or she was valued in the community. It is hard to write about someone who has died in a way that is upbeat and positive, but this writer has achieved this.

First Place for Informational Graphics for Insiders Guide to the Parks, Jean Card, Laurence Foong, Renee Ruggles and Craig Sterbutzel, Mount Vernon Gazette — Informational graphics: Fairfax County parks.

First Place for HomeLifeStyle, Mary Kimm, Laurence Foong, Geovani Flores, Marilyn Campbell, John Byrd, Tim Peterson and Jean Card, The Vienna/Oakton Connection — Specialty pages or sections: Judge’s comment: Clean design and easy to read. Choice of fonts work well together.

Mother’s Day Photos

Mother’s Day is May 11, 2014, and every year at this time, we call for submissions to our Mother’s Day photo gallery. Send photos of mothers, grandmothers, great-grandmothers, with children or without children. Please name everyone in the photo, the approximate date, describe what is happening in the photo and include your name, address, email address and phone number. (We will not print your full address or contact information.)

Send photos to editors@connectionnewspapers.com

Readers can also submit poetry, poetry about mothers and photos celebrating mothers directly through our website at <http://www.connectionnewspapers.com/contact/letter/>

OTHER AWARDS:

Steve Artley, Alexandria Gazette Packet — Illustrations — Eminent Domain. Judge's comment: One of the best examples of editorial cartooning I have seen in years and reminiscent of editorial cartoons poignant and relevant enough to still be included in history texts today. Wonderful use of the paper boat as the flagship of eminent domain with tons of little touches which push the entry even higher. In-depth, investigative reporting, Alex McVeigh, Great Falls Connection — Judge's comment: Great work continuing to follow an important environmental story that had the potential for far-reaching impacts. These articles also do a good job explaining the nature of the underground contamination and, in understandable terms, the geology behind the way they spread.

Alexandria Gazette Packet, Insiders/Newcomers Guide. Steven Mauren, Jeanne Theismann, John Bordner, Jean Card, Geovani Flores and Laurence Foong, Alexandria Gazette Packet — Judge's comment: A good package of information for newcomers. A good array of photos of community members.

Health, Science and Environmental Writing, Michael Lee Pope, The Arlington Connection — Judge's comment: Good solid stories on interesting subjects. A lot of good historical background adds significantly to the sterilization story. The lead on the chicken story was very good.

Government Writing, Michael Lee Pope, Alexandria Gazette Packet — Judge's comment: We preach to our reporters to follow the money. Michael Lee Pope does great job of following the money trail to great news stories. Continue to keep them honest.

Feature Series/Continuing Story, Victoria Ross, The Burke Connection — Feature series or continuing story. Judge's comment: Fantastic blend of fact and narrative, and it packs an emotional punch. The stories are very well-researched, tightly written and highly effective.

Personal Service Writing, Victoria Ross, The Fairfax Connection . Judge's comment: Good job using the individual story and relating it to the wider issue. Would have liked more follow-up details about whether the social media companies are complying with the law and what the parents found on the son's social media sites.

Jeanne Theismann, Alexandria

Gazette Packet — Column writing. Judge's comment: These columns were well written and informative as well as entertaining.

Editorial writing. Mary Kimm, Alexandria Gazette Packet — Editorial writing. Judge's comment: Very well done. Writer does an outstanding job presenting the paper's stance on the issues of the day. Editorial writing. Mary Kimm,

The Fairfax Connection — Judge's comment: These editorials were articulate and to the point.

Education writing: Michael Lee Pope, The Arlington Connection — Judge's comment: Concise, well put thoughts.

Page Design, Jean Card, Mount Vernon Gazette — Judge's comment: Good job taking something that can be boring and hard to follow and making it interesting and easy to navigate.

Cartoon, Steve Artley, Alexandria Gazette Packet — Illustrations. Judge's comment: The shackles of the tea party! Ol' Ebenezer Elephant will be surely listening for the chimes of the hour after this ghost appeared before the foot of his bed. Fantastic work all the way around.

Feature writing portfolio Donna Manz, Vienna/Oakton Connection — Feature writing portfolio. Judge's comment: Powerful ledes (and a great one for the 'puppies' story) and captivating narratives. Well-informed and well-written.

Clean for Spring

Local organization experts offer tips to help with spring cleaning.

BY MARILYN CAMPBELL
CENTRE VIEW

Betsy Fein found herself in the middle of a spring fling in Fairfax recently. She wasn't at a festival or involved in a new romance, but in the midst of organizing a cluttered bedroom that was littered with piles of shirts, pants, shoes and books.

Spring often means renewal and local organizers like Fein are offering suggestions for clearing out winter clutter. From closets that are overstuffed with wool sweaters and down coats to kitchen drawers overflowing with batteries and appliance manuals, they offer suggestions for getting organized without getting overwhelmed.

"Spring is a time when you have all the winter stuff in your closet and you want to change it out for summer, so you're flinging it out," said Fein, of Clutterbusters!! (www.clutterbusters.com) in Rockville, Md.

"Because this child was younger, we suggested that they hang a lot of things," said Fein of her recent project. She also advised the parents to install a second rod in the closet. "They could have shirts on top and pants on bottom."

Fein recommended using photographs to help with organization. "They can take a picture of a pair of socks, for example, and put it on the drawer so the child can see that socks go in that drawer."

She even included an idea for outgrown clothes. "Keep a colorful bin on the bottom of the closet, so when you realize that clothes don't fit any more you can toss them in the bin and donate them."

The idea would work for adults, too. "Pack away all your winter clothing and unpack your spring and summer items," said Susan Unger, of ClutterSOS (www.cluttersos.com) in Vienna. "Be sure to evaluate each item and ask yourself ... 'Does it fit? Do I love it? Is it in good shape? Do I feel good in it?' If all these answers are 'yes' and it is a keeper, then place it in your closet or drawers."

"Be sure to group like items together such as skirts, dresses, t-shirts, [and] shorts. Decide if the discards should be tossed or donated depending on the condition," she said. "Be sure to keep a list of new items to buy."

When you store those bulky winter clothes, make sure you use sealed containers. "Store them in bins and make use of vertical space that is hard to reach or other rooms [like the] basement," said Jody Al-Saigh of Picture Perfect Organizing (www.pictureperfectorganizing.com) in Arlington. "Before storing clothes for next winter, be sure they are laundered first. A little-known fact [is that] moths don't actually go after the clothing fibers but rather the human perspiration and dander that build on clothes."

An easy place to start spring cleaning is your file (or pile or drawer) of appliance manuals and instruction booklets. "Store them all in an accordion file, by brands, by type of appliance, by room or area," said Al-Saigh. "Or look up the manual online, download and toss the paper one."

Be sure to purge often or when new items are purchased. "Don't toss warranties or receipts for warranties or rebates. Keep those in your file," said Al-Saigh. "Keep the accordion file somewhere handy like the garage shelf [or on] top of fridge."

NOW THAT THE END of the school year is growing closer, piles of children's artwork are growing taller. "We did a family room that had a bookshelf and toys, kids' artwork and stuff all over the place," said Fein. "We had to help the parents make decisions about what to keep. We used a method called the three Fs: Frame-worthy, flush (or toss) and file. With kids' art, you have to be ruthless and realize that it is not all a Picasso."

For frame-worthy artwork, Fein suggests tape frames or inexpensive acrylic frames. "Tape frames are sticky on the back, but they look like real frames. You can swap out the artwork and reuse them."

For artwork that can be filed, Fein suggests using a keepsake box or creating a photo book. "You can take digital photos of the art work and put together a book on Snapfish or Shutterfly. ... Your child will be proud and you won't have stuff all over the place."

Spring's mild weather also makes it an ideal time to clean out a garage. "It's not too hot and not too cold," said Al-Saigh. "Wait for nice weather, take everything out and sort it in the driveway."

Al-Saigh suggests using sidewalk chalk. "Section off areas for piles for items to keep, donate and trash," she said. "When putting back the keep stuff, group items together and create zones such as tools, gardening, sports equipment, camping, bicycles. The more you can hang on hooks on the walls or from the ceiling the better. Floor to ceiling shelving is good to maximize the vertical space."

"Get creative. Use old barrels to store hockey sticks upright, hang a mesh bag full of soccer balls," she added. "Remove things that don't belong in your garage like photos, paperwork, fragile memorabilia."

Fein points to a Potomac, Md., garage that she recently helped a client reorganize. "It was a normal looking garage where stuff was everywhere," she said. "Bikes and sports stuff were all over the place, so it was a matter of putting like things together."

It helps, Fein said, to make organizing fun. "Don't think of it as a chore. ... Play music and get the whole family involved. Play games with your children, like beat the clock or beat the time."

Start small. "A lot of times people think 'I have to organize my whole basement and I have 40 years of stuff,' said Fein. "If you have decided to spend the whole weekend, three hours in you say this is too much and you quit. Maybe start with a drawer."

Fary's Goal Lifts Westfield Girls' Soccer Over Centreville

Bulldogs have three athletes who will play Division I soccer.

BY JON ROETMAN
CENTRE VIEW

Westfield assistant girls' soccer coach Derek Donahue said the Bulldogs got caught up in a game of "kick ball" with conference rival Centreville after the team's April 3 meeting. But thanks in part to Westfield's advantage in depth and strong performance by goalkeeper Maggie Barron, the Bulldogs escaped with a victory.

Westfield senior forward Brittany Fary scored the game's lone goal in the 53rd minute and the Bulldogs defeated Centreville 1-0 at Westfield High School.

Donahue said the Bulldogs allowed themselves to play Centreville's style as the Wildcats tried to get the ball to standout forward Jenna Green. But Westfield has its own talented goal-scoring trio, and Fary's was enough to get the win.

"We're strong up top," Donahue said. "We've got three DI soccer players ... that's where our strength is and that's where we're going to get our power. Our defense is a little young and you'll see those guys drop back more than what they should to kind of compensate for it. We're just a better possession team, but sometimes they just panic a little bit."

Westfield senior forward Brittany Fary, right, scored the game-winning goal against Centreville on April 3.

"I think we're right there in the mix with everybody else. Every year we always put together a strong team. We've got the people who can make goals."

— Westfield assistant girls' soccer coach Derek Donahue

Fary will play college soccer at East Carolina next season. Senior midfielder Katherine Bukovsky will play at James Madison University and senior midfielder Tori Donahue will play at Radford.

Derek Donahue said he was also pleased with Barron's effort.

"I thought our goalie played amazing, again," he said. "She's only a sophomore, Maggie Baron. She's saving the day. [Centreville] had some good plays on us, but [you can survive] when you have a good goalie."

It was Westfield's third straight victory to start the season. However, four days later, the Bulldogs lost to Lake Braddock 1-0, dropping their record to 3-1.

Westfield, led by head coach Kristi Williams, posted a 14-2-1 record last season. The Bulldogs finished runner-up in the Concorde District, losing to Chantilly in the tournament final. Westfield lost to Yorktown in the region quarterfinals, a loss they avenged on April 1, beating the Patriots 1-0.

"The most inspiring thing about our team is the amount of heart everyone always brings," Tori Donahue said. "We don't have the most talent ... not even close to what we were last year, but it's the amount of effort that everyone brings. ... Beating Yorktown ... was definitely a big step for us considering they ended our season last year. That was definitely inspiring."

The loss was Centreville's second in four games and second time they've been shut out, including a 2-0 season-opening loss to Woodson on March 19.

"[Westfield] played with a little more urgency than we did," Green said. "... We're a young team and I think a lot of it is that they need to learn that we need to play with urgency because I remember my freshman year thinking, 'Oh, I have another year.' My sophomore year [I thought], 'I have] another year.' Now, here I am, senior year, [and we have] nothing on the banner. We're a great team. We've been a great team for so many years and we've just got to get it done. We have to score, we have to hit every chance we get. We have to play with urgency."

Westfield faced Herndon on Wednesday, after press deadline. The Bulldogs will host West Springfield at 7 p.m. on April 21.

"I think we're right there in the mix with everybody else," Derek Donahue said. "Every year we always put together a strong team. We've got the people who can make goals."

Centreville faced Robinson on Wednesday, after Centre View's/The Connection's deadline. The Wildcats will travel to face McLean at 7 p.m. on April 22.

DeMarini Stars Prime Win TP Tournament

Demarini Stars 13u Prime team won the area TP Tournament the weekend of March 22, winning four straight games for the championship. The team is comprised of youth predominantly from the Northern Virginia area and coached by John Koons, Bob White, Carl House, Scott Morin and Randy Lawson.

SPORTS BRIEFS

Centreville Track Competes at Two Events

With a split squad, the Wildcat varsity track team participated in the Northern Virginia Invitational at Robinson Secondary School and the Colonial Invitational at William & Mary.

At the Colonial, Mike Bishop placed second in the 200-meter dash. His twin brother Kevin was third in the 400-meter hurdles. Andrew Ridenour was second in the long jump, while Young Bin Jin placed fourth and Mikael Mantis 10th in the same event. Young Bin Jin also placed fourth in the 400-meter hurdles. Chase Heiner ran his first 800 of the season and placed third in the event. The Bishop brothers, Young Bin Jin and Heiner also teamed up for a sixth place finish the 4x400 relay.

As the lone female representative at Colonial, Jackie O'Shea placed 10th in the mile.

At the NoVa Invitational, freshman Dan Horoho placed second in the freshman 1600. Garrett Friendly was seventh in the shot put and James Warajuntano placed seventh in the triple jump.

Centreville also competed against conference rivals Westfield and Chantilly, at CVHS on April 2 for their last full squad home meet of the season. Ridenour competed in a few new events in honor of Senior Night, but captured first place in a more familiar one, the 100-meter dash. Tyra Banks placed first in the girls' 100-meter dash, Taewan Kim placed first in the 110 high hurdles and the 300-meter hurdles. Natalie King won the 1600-meter run and placed sixth in the 200-meter dash and Jackie O'Shea won the 800-meter run.

Also placing for the Wildcats were senior Mikael Mantis, with second place in the long and triple jumps, and fifth place in the 100. Young Bin Jin was second in the high jump. Hannah Huggins placed second in the 400-meter dash and fifth in the 200-meter dash. Colette Rizzi was third in the 1600 and Alex Jung was third in the 200. Freshman Paige Travers placed fourth in the 400-meter dash and the triple Jump and fifth in the long jump. Warajuntano was fourth in the long jump and sixth in the triple jump. Junhan Lee placed fourth in the 110 hurdles, Landon Egbers was fourth in the 1600, Dylan Kyoak was fourth in the girls' 800 meters and Sam Belso was fourth in the girls' 200 dash. Sixth-place finishers for CVHS included Joanna Zhou in the long jump, Layla Mailloudi in the 100 hurdles, Hyunsoo Im in the 110- and 300-meter hurdles, Victoria Nelson in the 800 and Matt Chorney in the 3200-meter run.

CVHS Boys' Lacrosse Gets Mixed Results

The Centreville lacrosse team had an up-and-down week with a solid win at Fairfax, but a loss at Yorktown in Arlington. Fairfax got a 2-0 jump on the Wildcats on March 31, but Pat Fuller was assisted by Carson McEver for Centreville's first goal. Danny Meador scored on a worm burner, followed by an unassisted goal by John Tarver to take a 3-2 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Having warmed up, the Wildcats scored four more goals before halftime to take control of the game. Fuller, Tarver, and Meador each scored their second goals of the game, then Corey Spriggs scored with an assist from Brian Yoo for a 7-2 lead at the half.

In the third quarter, Spriggs earned assists on two hat-trick goals, first by Tarver and then Meador. Meador score again, and then assisted on another goal by Fuller. Fairfax managed two goals in the fourth quarter, resulting in the final score of 11-4. The Wildcat defense limited Fairfax's shots on goal throughout the game and goalie Kent Roy made six saves. The trip into Arlington on April 2 proved less fruitful when the Wildcats suffered an 11-2 loss to Yorktown. The Patriots ran and shot their way to a five-goal lead in the first quarter, but were held to just one goal in each of the second and third quarters. However, Centreville was only able to score once during that time on a goal by Tarver, who was assisted by Fuller. Yorktown blitzed Centreville with four goals within a three-minute span in the middle of the fourth quarter, with the final score of the game coming off a goal by Kyle Richbourg, who was assisted by Meador.

"I Thought You Were a Goner"

By KENNETH B. LOURIE

So has said my longtime oncology nurse, Ron, who has tended to me since June, 2009. Originally, I had been assigned to a different oncology nurse, Holly, with whom I developed an immediate rapport. She cared for me from the beginning, early March 2009, when I began my every-three-week chemotherapy infusion through June, when she transferred from the Infusion Center to a different unit (oncology does take a toll). Initially, after Holly's departure, Jane, another nurse in the unit, took me on as a patient. However, and this is where the details get sketchy, within a subsequent infusion or two, I was told one day upon my arrival at the Infusion Center, that Ron, still another oncology nurse, who I had certainly seen there previously but with whom I had minimal interaction, would be taking over for Jane – who was not transferring out – and henceforth would be my new oncology nurse. Apparently, I had been traded. For another patient? For future considerations? For a lunch-to-be-paid later? To this day, nearly five years later, I've never been able to uncover the truth. I got along fine with Jane; I'm a very low-maintenance patient/person; I don't think I did anything to precipitate such a decision. Nevertheless, a deal (my word) had been struck.

To the extent to which assigning nurses to oncology/chemotherapy patients is not random, given the ongoing and serious nature of the types of treatment, Ron's assignment – to me – was genius. We are alike in so many ways. We're the same age and have the same wise guy-type personality. We both use humor at every opportunity and love Yiddish and shtick as well; also we're both Jewish. In addition, we're both from the Northeast and love sports. He's interested in me and I'm interested in him. I know about his family. He knows about mine. Our relationship has evolved from nurse-patient to close friend. I trust Ron with my life.

That fact was never clearer to me than this past August 2nd, a scheduled infusion day for me, when I arrived at the Infusion Center for my usual chemotherapy. Ron noticed how ashen gray I was and after talking to me, further realized how much difficulty I was having breathing. Initially, he walked me around the unit while monitoring my oxygen levels; they were not merely low, they were no-chemotherapy-for-me-that-day really low. Immediately, Ron went to "Plan B:" assessment by a doctor in the Emergency Care Department. I needed medical help, that day. Ron then spent the next few hours coordinating care and managing the necessary steps to finding me a hospital bed. Later that day, I was "ambulanced" to Holy Cross Hospital where I was admitted. Two days later, I had 4.5 liters of fluid drained from my left lung which subsequently collapsed. I then spent the next five days recovering in S.I.C.U. In total, I was hospitalized for eight days before being released the following Friday. If not for Ron's hands-on and professional approach to my deteriorating condition, it's likely, as he's fond of joking, that I was a "goner."

But I'm not a "goner." I'm a "still here-er." In fact, at my last infusion, Ron told me that as of my five-year anniversary in late February, I'm now his longest-surviving cancer patient. And I'm still alive for many reasons, one of which is most definitely due to the depth of the relationship I have with my oncology nurse, Ron "Choo, Choo" Chubin (he's also a train guy). I wouldn't be here without him because, as he's also fond of saying, he's where I need him to be. Thank God!
