Crandal Mackey Park Disappears

Prosecutor was once honored with a park; no plans to honor him at Central Place.

BY MICHAEL LEE POPE
THE CONNECTION

Vice. Saloons. Gambling houses. Brothels. It's hard to believe to day, but Rosslyn once had it all. That's all gone now. Until a few weeks ago, the only vestige of it was Crandal Mackey Park. That's the public park that once commemorated the block where the hard-driving prosecutor shut down countless clapboard casinos and ramshackle brothels. Now that's even gone. It's now a large hole in the ground, part of a site where developer JBG is constructing Central Place. Currently, Arlington has no plans to name a new park to honor Mackey.

"Crandal Mackey ... [has] been taken down to develop Central Place," wrote Susan Kalish, public relations director of the Arlington County Department of Parks and Recreation.

The area where Crandal Mackey Park once stood was once surrounded by gambling houses.

Crandal Mackey Park was once a 7,000-square-foot park that celebrated the county's famous commonwealth's attorney. A 1992 addendum to the Rosslyn Station Area Plan suggested that the Crandal Mackey Park be maintained. But a 2007 site plan proposed spiking the park in favor of a mid-block open plaza between two buildings directly across the Metro station.

"I would not be the least bit surprised if we put up some marker to remember Crandal Mackey," said County Board member Libby Garvey. "There's going to be all kinds of room for public art."

THE HISTORY of Rosslyn dates back to 1860, when William Henry Ross and his wife Carolyn Lamden received a large farm on the waterfront opposite Georgetown from his father-in-law, Joseph Lambden. He called it Rosslyn, although opinions are divided as to how the name came about. One story says it's a combination of the name Ross and the word "lyn," an obsolete spelling of "linn," word describing the torrent of water rushing over the rocks in the Potomac River. Another story is that the name Rosslyn combines the name Ross and "lyn" from the name Carolyn. Whatever the origin of the name, it eventually became a place where crime and murder became so commonplace that Rosslyn was home to a spot known as Dead Man's Hollow.

"Some committed suicide. Some were killed by gamblers and the liquor people," recalled Frank Ball, who once represented Arlington in the state Senate. "Some got in fights and a little bit of everything happened."

Visiting White House, Meeting First Lady

Seventeen Arlington campers, ages 8 to 11, joined First Lady Michele Obama at the White House on Tuesday, July 22, to celebrate the first anniversary of the Let's Move Drink Up campaign. The Drink Up initiative encourages Americans to drink more water. The youths were part of the Carver Community Center Summer Expedition Camp. Many of them also take part in Arlington County's Kids in Action after school program. Both of these programs, which are coordinated through the Department of Parks and Recreation, focus on healthy snacks, active programming and opportunities to help children learn to make healthy diet and activity choices.

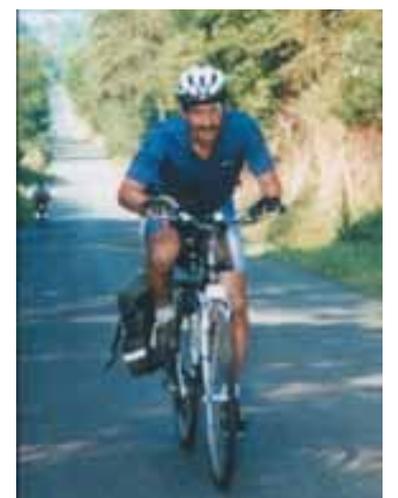

Bittersweet Ride

Inaugural 'Sizzling Suburban Century' to ride from Arlington to Purcellville and back.

The night her husband died, Libby Garvey was staring into the abyss. She was facing a new life as a widow, and she was eager to find some way to celebrate the life of Kennan Garvey. That's when it came to her — a memorial fund to raise money for Phoenix Bikes, a community bike shop run by young people.

"It's a way of keeping him active and helping and doing things," said Garvey. "There will always be a little bit of an ache there, but that's just part of being a widow."

On Aug. 2, Garvey hopes the Kennan Garvey Memorial Fund will be able to raise enough money to help construct a new building for Phoenix Bikes. The forecast for the day looks relatively cool, and Garvey says she hopes the weather will encourage a crowd. Garvey is still recovering from a bicycle accident earlier this year, so she won't be riding herself. But she has several family members participating, including a grandson.

Kennan Garvey

"Kennan would have been pleased," said Garvey. "Helping Phoenix is a perfect way to remember Kennan."

USO Hosts Project Cinderella

The USO of Metropolitan Washington-Baltimore presented its 4th Annual Project Cinderella on Saturday, July 19, at the Army Navy Country Club in Arlington. The event educates military women and spouses with interactive workshops such as Beauty on a Budget, Fun with Makeup and Hair, and Formal Etiquette and Protocol.

The event included a dress boutique where attendees selected a formal gown.

PHOTOS BY RENÉE RUGGLES/THE CONNECTION

One hundred and twenty-five women and honored guests gathered to hear the opening remarks and then go off to the first of three workshops.

One hundred and twenty-five military spouses and female service members were chosen by lottery to attend Project Cinderella, held at the Army Navy Country Club. The day started off with registration.

Oriella Goff, director of USAF Protocol at the Pentagon, led the workshop on "Formal Etiquette and Protocol." She provided guidance and instruction for situations not encountered in everyday life, included attending military balls and acting as a hostess for special events.

Annabella Riccio, of USO Metro, welcomed everyone to Project Cinderella. The USO helped sponsor and put on the event.

Sisters Madiana and Rebecca Magao, owners of Red Sprinkle, put on the "Beauty on a Budget" workshop. Included in the program was a game where volunteers were asked to guess the prices of the outfits on the mannequins. The sisters offered many ideas for making fashion affordable.

Volunteers prepared a room filled with 400 donated dresses and tables of shoes and accessories. TJ Maxx provided the store fixtures and volunteers to staff the room.

Primed To Learn about Work

Summer school program matches students with potential careers.

BY KENDRA LEVY
THE CONNECTION

Julia Payne spent a week of her summer calling local restaurants asking them if they would like to hand out coasters and condoms for World Aids Day. She said this with a laugh, remarking on how some people had interesting responses to that offer.

This would otherwise be an unusual way to spend the summer days, except that she was interning at Fenwick Clinic in the Arlington Public Health Department.

"I learned about food codes in Arlington and about the process for shutting down restaurants. Also even if restaurants look nice on the outside they may be breaking a ton of codes," she said. This four-week learning experience was acquired through an Arlington Public Schools' program called PRIME (Professional Related Intern/Mentorship Experience).

The internship program allows high school students who have been identified as gifted to be placed in professional workplaces as interns for four weeks during the summer. The program was started in the early '80s by Rosalie Arnold. It began as an enrichment program for six to 10 students and took place during the school year.

When Becki O'Loughlin joined the PRIME team in 2004 it started expanding. In the last 10 years the program has grown to 30-40 students and has started offering students internships for the summer. For the summer program, they started PRIME field trips where the students come together and visit or listen to speakers from other jobs in Arlington. These trips contribute to the overall goal of teaching the students about different job opportunities and give them time to discuss with fellow interns about where they are working.

O'Loughlin, who helps run the program, says the best part about PRIME is the interaction between students and adults. The interns are thrown into the professional working world and gain experience in how offices are run, what daily life in the working world is like, and possibly narrowing down what they want to pursue a career in. She loves seeing the students excited about their jobs and hearing about what they are doing while watching them learn and grow even in the short time span of one month.

She was rewarded recently for her work with PRIME. When this year's interns were visiting the Arlington courthouse, one of the men working there recognized O'Loughlin from when he participated in PRIME a few years ago. He interned at the courthouse while in the program and now works there. She was beyond pleased to see how PRIME could have such an impact on participants' lives.

This years interns had two field trip days. They

Finally, Marriage Rights Protected in Virginia

On July 28, 2014, in affirming that Virginia's ban on same-sex marriage is unconstitutional, Circuit Judge Henry F. Floyd writes:

"We recognize that same-sex marriage makes some people deeply uncomfortable. However, inertia and apprehension are not legitimate bases for denying same-sex couples due process and equal protection of the laws. Civil marriage is one of the cornerstones of our way of life. It allows individuals to celebrate and publicly declare their intentions to form life-long partnerships, which provide unparalleled intimacy, companionship, emotional support, and security. The choice of whether and whom to marry is an intensely personal decision that alters the course of an individual's life. Denying same-sex couples this choice prohibits them from participating fully in our society, which is precisely the type of segregation that the Fourteenth Amendment cannot countenance."

EDITORIAL

Judge Arenda Wright Allen, on Valentine's Day, 2014, ruled that Virginia's ban on same-sex marriage is unconstitutional, writing:

"A spirited and controversial debate is underway regarding who may enjoy the right to marry in the United States of America. America has pursued a journey to make and keep our citizens free. This journey has never been easy, and at times has been painful and poignant. The ultimate exercise of our freedom is choice.

Our Declaration of Independence recognizes that 'all men' are created equal. Surely this means all of us. While ever-vigilant for the wisdom that can come from the voices of our voting public, our courts have never long tolerated the perpetuation of laws rooted in unlawful prejudice. One of the judiciary's noblest endeavors is to scrutinize laws that emerge from such roots.

"Plaintiffs assert that the restriction on their freedom to choose to marry the person they love infringes on the rights to due process and equal protection guaranteed to them under the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution. These challenges are well-taken. ...

"The Court is compelled to conclude that Virginia's Marriage Laws unconstitutionally deny Virginia's gay and lesbian citizens the fundamental freedom to choose to marry."

Instrument Collection

Opera NOVA is always seeking donations of used musical instruments to distribute to area schools and the Arlington Head Start program. The group has been collecting and distributing instruments for about five years, according to Opera NOVA president Miriam Miller. It also produces children's operas, condensed versions of operas for schoolchildren. Before each performance, Opera NOVA talks with children about the various instruments used by the orchestra.

"We look for needy schools," Miller said. "The way we determine them is, what's the percentage of lunch subsidy? You know the kids there can't afford their own instruments. So we give them to those schools."

If anyone has an instrument that they wish to donate, Miller may be reached at Mcdm1@verizon.net, or 703-536-7557.

Miller said that arrangements can be made for someone from Opera NOVA to pick up the instrument, or if someone lives close enough to a school that could use the instrument, it can be arranged for the donor to take the instrument directly to the school.

Miller said that one donor wanted to give a piano, and that Opera NOVA actually put her in touch with a local church who needed a new piano.

"What I like is meeting all these people," Miller said. "They'll tell you, 'I was in the band,' and they want to share their stories. Older ladies are calling and parting with something they can't play anymore. A child has moved off to college or gotten married, and their mother is getting their stuff out of the house. Men are giving up the memory of having played the trumpet. It's very personal for them."

Democrats Have Treasurer Candidate

Carla de la Pava is the only candidate to file to seek the Democrats' nomination to be the next Arlington County treasurer. Because she was the only candidate to file by the deadline, de la Pava is now automatically on the agenda for formal nomination by the Arlington County Democratic Committee at its regular meeting on Aug. 6 (Fairlington Community Center, 3308 S. Stafford St.).

Earlier this month, Frank O'Leary, who served for more than 30 years in the position, retired, triggering a special election to fill his unexpired term. Prior to that election, de la Pava was sworn in as treasurer.

A special election to fulfill the remainder of the term (until December 2015) has been set for Nov. 4.

For the past six years, de la Pava served as chief deputy treasurer under O'Leary.

Pay through Parkmobile

Arlington County has partnered with Parkmobile USA, Inc., to bring residents and visitors a mobile payment solution for parking at all 5,329 metered spaces throughout the county.

Pay-by-cell is a mobile application administered by Parkmobile and is available for iPhone, Android, Windows 7 and Blackberry smartphones.

The program will be rolled out in phases throughout Arlington's corridors. Parkmobile is being launched in Shirlington and Crystal City this month. The service will then be expanded to Pentagon City in the fall, followed by Ballston and Clarendon in the winter. Courthouse, Rosslyn, Columbia Pike and all remaining sectors will be rolled out in spring 2015.

To use the new service, residents and visitors can register for free at www.parkmobile.com.

For more information, visit www.arlingtonva.us and search "Parkmobile."

Double Honors

Leadership Arlington President & CEO Betsy Frantz has been recognized with two major awards for her work at the organization and in the community. She received the inaugural "Light Up Arlington" award from the Arlington Rotary Club. This award is designed to honor outstanding individuals whose work furthers volunteerism and personal service in the local community. Leadership Greater Washington presented Frantz with its Hero Award for Collaboration. The LGW Hero Awards were presented to individuals who have helped LGW to flourish and who possess extraordinary leadership qualities. Frantz was recognized for her dedication to collaboration within the region. For more about Leadership Arlington, visit www.leadershiparlington.org or call 703-528-2522.

Consolidating Human Services

The Arlington County Board on July 24 approved a lease agreement that will consolidate its Department of Human Services programs at the Sequoia Plaza complex at 2100 Washington Blvd. DHS offices currently are spread among several sites across the County.

About 60 percent of the department moved to Sequoia Plaza I from Clarendon in 2010. The planned consolidation will place DHS offices in the Sequoia Plaza II and III buildings as well, moving many of DHS's remaining services there. The consolidation is expected to be completed by fall 2015. The DHS offices slated to move to Sequoia Plaza are:

- ❖ Public Health offices currently at Fenwick Center (800 S. Walter Reed Drive, adjacent to Career Center). Most Public Health functions are already at Sequoia Plaza; the move would bring over Public Health administrative offices, Community Health Protection Bureau, and laboratory.

- ❖ Behavioral Healthcare offices currently along N. George Mason Drive and N. Edison Street, (three buildings, including Drewry Center, at Edison Complex next to Virginia Hospital Center). Several mental health and substance abuse teams are already based at Sequoia; the move would bring over the remaining teams, administrative offices, and other programs.

- ❖ Clarendon House (3141 10th St. N in Clarendon), a day program for people with mental illness.

The county will lease 72,742 square feet of new space in Sequoia Plaza, in addition to the 144,740 square feet that it currently occupies there. The initial base rent for the new space will be around $2.2 million per year. The county will spend an estimated $11.6 million to improve the new space for county purposes, but the landlord will reimburse the county for $5.2 million of the cost. The lease will expire in 2030, subject to a county extension option for either five or 10 years. The county will have an option to purchase the entire Sequoia Plaza complex in 2023.

toured the Arlington Courthouse and jail and had a speaker from Columbia Pike Revitalization Organization (CPRO) talk to them about urban renewal. Payne said the field trips have taught her a lot about Arlington and have given her more pride in her county. She also enjoyed being with other interns and hearing about their experiences at their individual jobs.

Mariah Bowman, who's working at Suited for Change, said she enjoyed learning about Arlington zoning laws and how criminals are treated. The field trips open students eyes to different job opportunities.

Harry Spits is interning at Ehlert Bryan Consulting Structural Engineers. He has enjoyed seeing how buildings are assembled. He works day-to-day with computer models and composes construction details. He is deciding whether he wants to be an architect or an engineer.

Celeste Meadows is working at Public Health, the Department of Human Services for Arlington County. She shadows different people in the department, writes research essays and attends meetings. She has loved learning about nursing and public health. Most students decided to do an internship to give them experience in a job to see if that is what they would like to pursue a career in.

The students apply to PRIME by completing a form found online at prime@apsva.us, and, after an interview, work with the PRIME faculty to find a place of work that fits with their interests. Student must be at least 16 years old and provide their own transportation.

The writer participated in PRIME as an intern with The Connection.

WGCC Swim Team Wins Division-A Championship

Lightning swimmers break several records.

Last year, the WGCC Lightning swimmers lost the Country Club Swimming and Diving Association championship title by a half a point to Kenwood. Had any one WGCC swimmer finished one place higher during the two-day league championship meet, the team would have won. Many of the team's swimmers trained hard all winter with that half-point on their minds. This past week, the team moved three steps closer to claiming that title with decisive victories in three of their biggest meets this season.

In one of the most exciting weeks of competition in its history, the Lightning easily defeated their arch-rival Kenwood (and finished their dual-meet season with a record of 4-0), crushed the competition in the Division A relays, and were crowned the Division A champions. They also broke over 20 CCSDA league and WGCC team records along the way.

On Monday night, the five teams of CCSDA's Division A met at Kenwood for the Divisional Relays. WGCC won 15 of 22 relays, and 12 of these wins broke existing CCSDA league records. Final scores for the meet were: WGCC 272, Kenwood 209, Congressional 172, Army Navy 161, Edgemoor 98.

Winning relay teams for WGCC were (record setting teams): boys' 8U medley (Sean Curran, Conner McCarthy, Jack Burke, Lucas Zidlicky); boys' 8U free* (Zidlicky, Curran, John Offutt, McCarthy); girls' 10U medley* (Pamela Grace von Seelen, Sydney-Cate Thornett, Helen Otteni, Avery Nassetta); girls' 10U free* (Sophie Yoder, von Seelen, Thornett, Nassetta); boys' 10U medley* (Luke Bernasek, Jack Carman, Paddy McCarthy, Alex Gerlach); girls' 12U medley* (Jillian Johnson, Charlotte Thomson, Caroline Otteni, Kate Burke); girls' 12U free* (Johnson, Burke, Sarah DiMeglio, Caroline Otteni); girls' 14U medley and free (Cate Barrett, GG Richmond, Petie Nassetta, Lindsay Lukehart); boys' 14U medley* and free* (Zander Zidlicky, Richard Gentry, Spencer Lukehart, Carson Wood); boys' 18U medley* (Ryan Baker, George Cranwell, Chris Outlaw, Mike Poppalardo); boys' 18U free* (Outlaw, Poppalardo, Wilson Ricks, Baker); girls' mixed-age crescendo free (Avery Nassetta, Caitlyn O'Berry, Petie Nassetta, Johnson, Pearson Shay), and the boys' mixed-age crescendo Free* (Lucas Zidlicky, Zander Zidlicky, Baker, Ollie Bernasek, Carman).

On Tuesday night, WGCC hosted the Division A championship meet. The five teams of the league's top division reconvened to swim for the title of Division A champions. This meet has been very close in recent years, but WGCC swam to an easy victory. The final scores were WGCC 414, Kenwood 308, Army-Navy 247, Congressional 164, and Edgemoor 87.

This meet was the highlight of the season for the Lightning as they saw multiple team and league records topple, some of which had held for many years. Jillian Johnson swam the girls' 12U 100-meter IM in a time of 1:10.58, breaking the CCSDA record set in 2004 and the WGCC team record set in 1982 by Christine Smith (Smith swam for WGCC in the late '70s and '80s, her multiple team records have proven very elusive to break). Later in the meet, Johnson broke a team record in the girls' 12U 50-meter backstroke with a winning time of 38.38 (breaking another of Smith's 1982 team record). The next night, Johnson established a new team record in this event, winning against Kenwood in a time of 33.33.

Chris Outlaw swam the boys' 18U 50-meter freestyle in a time of 24.03 (breaking his own team record set in 2013). Zander Zidlicky swam the boys' 14U butterfly in a time of 28.29, bettering the WGCC team record set by Ryan Baker in 2012.

Ryan Baker continued his record-breaking ways by swimming the boys' 18U backstroke in a time of 26.31, breaking the CCSDA league record set in 2007. He also established a new team record, breaking his own record set in 2013. Later in the evening, Baker broke both a team and league record in the boys' 18U butterfly. His winning time of 25.67 beat the CCSDA record set in 2007 and the WGCC team record set in 2001 by Robin Miller.

Several relay teams also broke records during this meet. The boys' junior medley relay team of Zander Zidlicky, Angus Ricks, Jack Carman, and Lucas Zidlicky bested the WGCC team record with a winning time of 1:04.14. The boys' senior medley relay team of Baker, Richard Gentry, Ollie Bernasek and Alex Gerlach swam in a winning time of 56.56, beating both the CCSDA record set in 1961 and the WGCC team record set in 2012. Finally, the boys' 200-meter graduated free relay team of Lucas Zidlicky, Carman, Bernasek, Zander Zidlicky, and Baker broke the CCSDA record (2008) and the WGCC team record (2012) in a winning time of 1:50.38.

Finally, on Wednesday night, WGCC hosted Kenwood for their final dual-meet of the season (this meet had been rained out a week earlier). Over the past five years, these two teams have battled each other for the top spot in the CCSDA. While the meet was expected to be close, WGCC dominated from start to finish and won decisively with a score of 331-155.

Over the course of these last two meets, there were many winners for WGCC: triple winners were: Jillian Johnson (girls' 12U IM, back, fly); Ollie Bernasek boys' 12U IM, free, fly); Ryan Baker (boys' 18U IM, back, fly); Petie Nassetta (girls' 14U free, back, fly); Conner McCarthy (boys' 8U back, breast, fly); and Jack Carman (boys' 10U back, breast, fly). Double winners were: Pearson Shay (girls' 8U free, fly); Zander Zidlicky (boys' 14U free, back); Caitlyn O'Berry (girls' 18U free, fly); and Sophie Yoder (girls' 10U back, fly). Single winners were: Lucas Zidlicky (boys' 8U free); Alex Gerlach (boys' 10U free); Chris Outlaw (boys' 18U free); Izzy Bernasek (girls' 8U back); Sean Curran (boys' 8U back); Grace Maria (girls' 8U breast); Sydney-Cate Thornett (girls' 10U breast); Angus Ricks (boys' 12U breast); Cate Barrett (girls' 14U breast); GG Richmond (girls' 14U breast); Richard Gentry (boys' 14U breast); and Faith Palmer (girls' 18U breast).

In addition to the record-setting relay teams above, the following relay teams won: girls' junior medley (Barrett, Thornett, Johnson, Shay); girls' senior medley (Kirby Nassetta, Richmond, Caroline Otteni, Avery Nassetta), and girls' graduated free (Shay, A. Nassetta, Johnson, P. Nassetta, O'Berry).

The Lightning head into their final meet next week, the league championships, where all 15 teams of the CCSDA will gather at Army-Navy for two days to determine which team will claim the title of the 2014 CCSDA champs.

The WGCC senior medley relay team of Ollie Bernasek, Ryan Baker, Richard Gentry and Alex Gerlach broke a 54-year old CCSDA record.

David DiMeglio, 14U breaststroker, competes for WGCC.

Jillian Johnson broke two 32-year old WGCC team records and a CCSDA record.

Foreign Nationals Immersed in Local Lifeguarding

For some, it starts out on two wheels.

BY MIKE SALMON
THE CONNECTION

Every day, Vasyl Smolii uses two different routes when he bikes to and from work at the Belle View pool in Alexandria. Coming down the hill on Belle View Boulevard is an easy ride in the morning but going back up in the evening is not as easy on the bicycle. Smolii rents from his sponsor High Sierra Pools, an Arlington-based pool management company.

"I must buy this bike for the summer," said 19-year-old Smolii from Ukraine.

For Martin Stefanov and Victoria Tshacheva, the bikes are their transportation this summer as well. In the evenings, six bikes are parked on the first floor patio of the apartment they share in Kingstowne with other lifeguards who are also from Europe.

This is Stefanov's second year lifeguarding; Tshacheva heard about his adventures last year while they were attending Sofia University in Sofia, Bulgaria. Tshacheva is studying public relations.

"This country is much different, you can see different cultures, a lot of people from the whole world, you can learn a lot of stuff," she said. Riding bikes to work was one of those things she is learning. Biking in Bulgaria "is not so popular," she said, but she may continue when she goes back. "I will ride the bike in my country, I think so," she said.

At the EOS Twenty One apartment complex in the Landmark area of Alexandria there are two pools, one manned by a pair of 20-somethings from Poland, and the other by twin sisters Irina and Olha Shemchuk, also from Ukraine. These lifeguards, who went through U.S. Aquatics for their summer jobs, don't ride bikes to work. The pair from Poland are staying in an apartment with three other lifeguards close enough to EOS to walk to work, and for the Shumchuk sisters, "our driver picks us up every day," said Irina Shemchuk.

Transportation is one of the concerns of Doug Winkler, owner of Winkler Pool Management Inc., with an office in Springfield. They employed 260 lifeguards from various countries this year, such as Ukraine, Serbia, Turkey, Jordan, Bulgaria, Azerbaijan, Dominican Republic, China, Slovakia, Russia, Poland, Egypt and Kazakhstan. The Winkler lifeguards either walk, use public transportation, have drivers like the Shemchuk sisters, or use bikes that Winkler supplies for a deposit.

Winkler, who lifeguarded when he was a teen, remembered his years on the lifeguard chair as a "great job," but noted that "the desire is not there in American kids anymore, they don't want to work." Lifeguards from overseas want to travel and experience the United States as well as earn some money.

All of the lifeguards get training in their home countries and another course here before starting. According to High Sierra Pools, which has job fairs in the U.S. and internationally, "All of our representatives are former lifeguards to give you the inside scoop," on the job, according to its website. "High Sierra works with U.S. visa sponsors to promote our jobs with the help of partner agencies worldwide."

Communicating in English is key. For EOS lifeguards Weronica Mikoljczyk and Agnieszka Kaczmarek from Poland, this is their second summer lifeguarding in the U.S. Before starting, they were interviewed via Skype to get a sample of their dialect, and "the tests are in English," said Kaczmarek. Smolii's English has improved since Memorial Day, but "when I arrived, I had very bad English," he said.

Kaczmarek was a swimming coach in Poland, so she gives some of the children at Victoria Horbenko from Ukraine holds on to a float and scans the pool in Fairfax.

EOS swimming lessons "before it opens," in the morning. Mikoljczyk was a lifeguard on a lake close to Poznan, a city in Poland, and both know synchronized swimming which they also share with the children at the pool. "I love kids," said Kaczmarek, and the "kids love us," added Mikoljczyk.

Over at Belle View, Smolii had to rely on his training early on this summer, rescuing a resident in distress. "My first week, a woman at Belle View was swimming and got a cramp. I jumped in with my rescue tube, take her shoulder," he said, reenacting the procedure. Smolii is with High Sierra, and they check his lifeguarding skills every month, he said.

ALTHOUGH MOST of the lifeguards work long days that stretches to more than 40 hours a week, they do find time to enjoy their American experience. Smolii went to Ocean City, Md. with another lifeguard and experienced the ocean and eating crabs for the first time. The crab mallet techniques was tough to master at first and he ending up splattering crab all over him until "waiters showed us the correct way," he said.

Stefanov took a day trip to New York City for a fellow lifeguard's birthday. "It was amazing," he said.

For another Ukrainian, Victoria Horbenko, a lifeguard in Ellipse at Government Center off Lee Highway, her summer at poolside is "like a student exchange, to get new experience," she said.

The lifeguards are hot and cold to American food. Stefanov and Tshacheva in Kingstowne try to eat healthy and "cook a lot in our apartment," said Tshacheva, noting that her father in Bulgaria "cooks, it's the most delicious food," she said. She's familiar with the obesity trend in this country. For the twin sisters, the "food here is very bad," said Olha Shemchuk, "too many sweets." Her sister Irina is not a fan of American bread. "Your bread is not bread," she said.

There are still community pools that only hire teenagers from the neighborhood for the lifeguard positions such as Hunt Valley pool in Springfield. According to manager Lauren Blackburn, "We all live right here."

Hunt Valley lifeguard Luke Chapman, 17, went to a class to become a pool operator and noticed "they were all Eastern European," he said.

Winkler noted that being in the community they grow up in has advantages, as when he was a teen and "many evenings, some of the pool patrons would bring me dinner." On the other hand, being in charge is a hard sell to friends. "It's tough for them to be disciplinary," he said.

The summer abroad is making an impression on Tshacheva. "Here we are so separate from our life in Bulgaria. It will be so different when we go back," she said.

For Olha Shemchuk, 19, she might give it another summer, after she turns 21 so she can go dancing and clubbing. "We are young," she said.

"CanSir"

By KENNETH B. LOURIE

When it comes to being a cancer patient, even more so a multi-year cancer survivor, I have always erred on the side of caution. And by caution, I mean being respectful to the disease, courteous of its comings and goings, mindful of its potential damage and afraid of its intangibles. And by intangibles, I mean the unexplained and the inexplicable, and most fearfully, its power and unpredictability. Therefore, my behavior toward it has been intended to be as polite as possible; never to be perceived – in any way imaginable – as arrogant, presumptuous, in control, all-knowing and most especially, victorious.

My philosophy has been to remain as positive as I could, never buying into the generally unfavorable statistical models, while taking any success I've had as much in stride as humanly possible. Moreover, to the extent these successes have prolonged my life – and of course they have, considering the original "13 month to 2 year" prognosis I was given back in late February, 2009 – I still want to maintain a low profile and never boast or speak loudly, and never confidently, about the amazing good fortune I've experienced since I was diagnosed as "terminal" five years and exactly five-months-to-the-day ago (27th of the month). I've always worried that the reason I've survived is that somebody (some entity) somewhere made a mistake in their accounting and skipped over my name, sort of like a reverse typo. Irrational I suppose; nevertheless, I see no advantage in rocking the boat and/or bringing any attention to the fact that yours truly is still very much alive; flying under the radar is my preferred route.

Granted, I do write about this fact and I do bring attention to it, but not out of any need for self-aggrandizement. I do it because if I didn't, I'd probably be much less able to endure under my circumstances. Apparently, the need to express myself publicly is too overwhelming to deny. And thanks to my Publisher, Mary Kimm, I have had and continue to have the means, motivation and opportunity to do so/share my feelings about life as a cancer patient/survivor; hardly a crime. But never have I written any words because I matter in the discussion; rather because the subject (cancer) matters. And since I've been able to do so in a relatively quiet, honest and positive manner – never intending to be the story, only the storyteller – my life, my pursuit has continued.

Certainly I realize, as an originally-characterized-as-terminal cancer patient, that I'm up against an immovable object, generally speaking; still, statistics do have a margin of error, and human beings do have an immeasurable desire to live. Yet living to one's ripe old age is hardly guaranteed, as I've learned all too well. Accordingly, as you regular readers know, I've made many changes in my life, incorporating a variety of anti-cancer remedies into my daily routine, and so far, so great. What you may not have known, however, is how I've actually lived my life while changing. I have done so by always being grateful for the gift of life I have received and reverential to the powers that be. What I've done, I could not have done alone and elevating myself would seem to be the definition of counter-productive.
