You get the windows, we pay the interest

The problems with plastic, vinyl windows:
• Even through normal temperature changes, vinyl windows and patio doors can expand, contract, warp and leak.
• If their seals break and the insulating gas escapes, your energy efficiency goes out the window.

The solution is our Fibrex® window:
• We’re the replacement window division of Andersen, and they developed our Fibrex material to meet their superior standards.
• Fibrex is so strong it helps prevent glass movement, seal failure, and discomfort in your home.
• Our exclusive Fibrex material is twice as strong as vinyl, and—unlike wood—requires virtually no maintenance.*

This special ends August 17th!
The people who want these windows and patio doors later simply won’t get this deal!

Springfield Shortlisted for FBI Headquarters

Other locations are Greenbelt and Landover.

By Janelle Germanos
The Connection

Springfield could very well be the next site of the FBI headquarters. The General Services Administration and FBI announced Tuesday that Springfield was included on the short list for the new FBI headquarters.

“We are very pleased that the Springfield Warehouse in Fairfax County has made the short list for the new FBI headquarters. The project would help spur redevelopment in that area and because it is federally owned, this site is a lower cost option for the FBI. Virginia is unified behind this site and we feel it is the best of the three,” said Sharon Bulova, chairman of the Fairfax County Board of Supervisors.

Greenbelt and Landover in Maryland are also included on the list for the new headquarters, which would replace the current J. Edgar Hoover building. The Springfield location is located at the GSA Franconia Warehouse Complex near Interstate 95 and Franconia Road.

“I'm very pleased that the GSA recognized the merits of our Springfield site. With extensive transit options, access to almost every major highway in the region, and close proximity to Quantico and Washington, D.C., the Springfield site remains the best option to serve the FBI's needs,” Supervisor Jeff McKay (D- Lee District) said in a statement. “I hope this process continues to be one based on merit and good use of taxpayer funds and not political considerations. All of Virginia will continue to unite behind just one site: Springfield. We will re-double our effort moving forward to promote Springfield's attributes.”

National Environmental Policy Act reviews will be conducted at all locations.

“We are pleased that the GSA warehouse site in Springfield is on the short list for the FBI headquarters relocation. All the sites named today have advantages, but we believe the Springfield site best meets the criteria laid out for the FBI. Our main hope is that the FBI has a location that best allows the bureau and its employees to fulfill their important mission in the most productive and efficient manner possible,” said Gerald Gordon, president of the Fairfax County Economic Development Authority.

Public comment will also be available on the plan. Virginia governor Terry McAuliffe announced Tuesday that he believes Springfield is the best option for the FBI.

“Virginia's inclusion on the final list of prospective sites for the new FBI headquarters is unquestionably positive news for our Commonwealth and economy. There is no doubt that the Springfield location offers the FBI and its employees the best combination of location, access to mass transit and local amenities. I look forward to continuing to work with Virginia's congressional delegation to convince decision makers within the FBI that Virginia is the location for this headquarters and the thousands of jobs that come with it,” McAuliffe said in a statement.

Elected officials speak at an event to renew interest in Springfield as the location of the new FBI headquarters in December 2013.

‘Don’t Be Afraid to be Different’

The Connection

A big green ogre, a princess, a wisecracking donkey and a love-struck dragon— they’ll all be onstage when The Alliance Theatre’s Summer Stars program presents “Shrek the Musical.” And right there with them will be Robertson Secondary graduate Spencer Boyd.

The cast and crew of nearly 100 have been working on the show since May and, when the curtain rises, they’ll be joined by a 13-piece pit orchestra. Helming his fourth Alliance show, Director Scott Olson says things are going really well.

“A’ve got an insanely talented cast,” he said. “My leads are spot-on for their characters, and 30 members of our Summer Stars theater camp—from third through eighth grade—are in the show, too. They’re doing really high-level dances, tight choreography and even marching.”

Olson said special prosthetics were created to transform actors into ogres and fairytale characters, and the costumes and make up will be “amazing,” as will the 26-foot-long, light-up, dragon puppet that exudes smoke. The scenes take place in a swampy forest, a castle, a dragon’s Lair, a church and Shrek’s house—an oversized tree stump.

THERE’S ALSO A MORAL to the story. “This show’s about understanding and appreciating others’ differences and accepting and appreciating your differences,” said Olson.

self for who you are,” Olson said. Playing Shrek is Oak Hill’s Glyn Cosker. “He’s an ogre who likes living by himself in a swamp,” said Cosker. “So he’s surprised to one day find dozens of fairytale creatures there. But he’s not immune to adventure. Yet when he falls in love with Fiona and forms a friendship with Donkey, you see a different side of him and learn that he actually has a big heart.”

Cosker’s been in 30 shows, but calls Shrek one of the most fun roles he’s ever played. “He’s such a big, full-of-life character,” said Cosker. “And the whole experience – working with the kids and seeing their reactions to Shrek – has been wonderful. It’s about 180 degrees from my own, nice and introverted personality. As Shrek, I do lots of yelling and screaming, so it’s quite therapeutic.”

NEW ROBINSON GRAD Spencer Boyd, who’ll major in musical theater at JMU in the fall, portrays Lord Farquaad. “He’s the Lord of Duloc, but is constantly searching for power,” said Boyd. “He’s over-compensating for his short height, so he wants perfection. He’s banished all the fairytale creatures from his land because he only wants to rule over perfect people.”

However, the only way he can become king is by marrying a princess like Fiona. “He’s very proud and can be charming and charismatic,” said Boyd. “It’s great playing him because he’s just over-the-top with everything,” continued Boyd. “He has a regal air of royalty, but is touchy about his height, so he’s a very funny character to play.” But since Boyd is actually tall in real life, he’ll be walking on his knees during the show to be short. He especially likes the number, “What’s Up, Duloc?” which he sings. “It’s Farquaad’s entrance song, makes fun of other Broadway numbers and is very humorous,” said Boyd. Overall, he said, “This is a really funny, family-friendly show with a great message – let your freak flag fly and don’t be afraid to be different. And it’ll be really enjoyable to watch.”

“Shrek the Musical” will be performed by The Alliance Theatre at Chantilly High, 4201 Stringfellow Road in Chantilly. Show times are: Friday, Aug. 1 and 8, at 7:30 p.m.; Saturday, Aug. 2 and 9, at 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.; and Sunday, Aug. 3 and 10, at 2 p.m. Tickets are $16 at www.TheAllianceTheatre.org.
Finally, Marriage Rights Protected in Virginia

By John C. Cook
Supervisor (R-Braddock District)

Fairfax County is actively working to improve services to seniors and make the County friendlier to those growing older in our communities. One of the most prominent advancements has been the 50 + Action Plan developed by the Fairfax County Board of Supervisors, in partnership with the Fairfax Area Commission on Aging and the Fairfax Area Agency on Aging. The plan addresses gaps in services and identifies future improvements to address the challenges facing our seniors. The final plan is expected to be presented to the Board of Supervisors this fall for approval.

In 2013, the 50 + Committee of the Board of Supervisors was established to focus on the County’s efforts in the 50 + plan and initiated a community dialogue. Based on the input received, several workgroups were established to address topics such as transportation, housing, services and community engagement. Each of the subcommittees has a community champion and comprises community members from the public, private and nonprofit sectors.

Thirty-one initiatives were enumerated with the guiding principles to be attainable, affordable and actionable within the next five years. What is happening right now? A few of the initiatives are already in practice and some are on the verge of implementation. For example is NOVA Rides, which has been awarded some start-up funding from the Consolidated Community Funding Pool (CCFP). This project, operated by the Jewish Community Center, coordinates transportation services including NOVA Rides to provide additional support to their already outstanding efforts.

One segment of the plan I would encourage is senior volunteerism. The 50 + plan is working to establish two unique approaches to promoting senior participation in our communities. The first is Grand Involv, a program that connects experienced older adult volunteers to work with local schools. The program will help strengthen the bonds of the oldest and youngest community members and support the education of our most vulnerable populations. The other endeavor is Venture in Volunteerism, which concentrates efforts on recruiting and placing older adults with various volunteer opportunities. Our retired folks have a vast array of talents and skills that are perfectly suited to meet the needs of many of our charities and nonprofit organizations.

Another important priority for Braddock District laid out in the 50+ plan is preventing criminal exploitation of residents. I will be promoting safe living by hosting and promoting a series on criminal exploitation prevention. Protecting our residents is matter of great importance, so look for this series in the coming months.

Action items on the Horizon: With full Board approval of the Plan this fall, many of the other initiatives are positioned to come into realization. Join the effort! Reach out to one of the subcommittees: Transportation, Housing, Safe & Healthy Communities, Services for Older Adults and Caregivers and see how you can contribute. Feel free to contact my office directly and we will put you in touch with the right person. Our aging population has given their time and support to our communities and schools endlessly. In order for these solutions to take place, they need community ownership. Join in the effort to empower seniors to live many happy, happy years here in Fairfax County.

For more specific details about the plan, the progress, and results please visit the Fairfax Area Commission on Aging or the Fairfax Area on Aging website.
A n organization does not thrive for 90 years by chance.

Northern Virginia Family Services, a county institution, has impacted families throughout the region for nearly a century with no sign of slowing down.

CEO and President Mary Agee, who has been at the organization for 46 of those years, has seen the nonprofit flourish during her time there.

“In reading the history, there were a lot of passionate and smart people that were on the board in the ‘20s, ‘30s and ‘40s,” she said. “Very adaptable and very principled. That’s the other thing that struck me — that the decisions were based upon doing the right thing and never turning a child away.”

She said that even today, her staff is willing to push boundaries while still adhering to the organization’s mission.

NVFS opened its doors in 1924 as a family counseling center; it was run by a single volunteer at the time. Agee joined the 11 person staff in 1972. She just announced her retirement, effective next June, on Monday.

“The budget was $182,000 at the time,” she said.

The budget is now $32 million and staff count has soared to 150 people. One of those staff members is current Chief Operative Officer Cheri Villa who has been with the organization for five years. “One of the reasons I came here was to work with Mary on her vision,” she said.

Recently, the organization has helped families who have suffered during the recession to adapt to the change.

“I think one of the most interesting things is when you look at our history, it’s a reflection of the region as a whole,” said Villa. “As community needs have emerged, Northern Virginia Family Services has stepped in.”

In the last 20 years, affordable housing and mental health issues were added to the list of NVFS’s concerns. However, Agee does not think they were ever a non-issue for the area.

“The needs in the community have absolutely not changed,” said Agee. “The thing that has changed is the faces that use them.”

She said that the organization had the chance to help its community during the response after a plane struck the Pentagon on Sept. 11, 2001.

“It was an honor to be asked by the Community Foundation of the National Capital Region to design a program that would support the families that were impacted by the attack on the Pentagon,” she said.

“What that taught was how to perfect a case management model — help them recover from trauma and bring in a number of resources.” She said the leadership of the organization showed made NVFS a national leader in trauma response. It is currently poised to help the numbers of children that have crossed the border into Texas.

But it does not do the work alone. Many of the issues that leaders at NVFS are passionate about are also tackled with other local organizations.

“I think collaboration is a big part of our success,” she said. “These issues are so big that you have to tackle them together.”

After 33 years, Robinson’s Chip Rome retires.

By Bonnie Hibbs

It’s the end of an era at Robinson Secondary: Legendary Theatre Director Chip Rome has retired. In 1981, he became the fourth drama teacher the school hired in its 30-plus years of its PTO’s cause there.

“When I got the job, I was still trying to decide whether to go back home to Worcester, Mass., and try to break into and break into Rome Specialties, selling advertising on items and manufacturing custom denim shirts,” said Rome.

But a parent wrote a letter to the principal praising my growth and the prospects of a new classroom. “I have a book to promote, a vacation home to enjoy and the prospect of a new career,” said Rome, was “find- ing that balance between family and my career. That’s what brought me to Robinson.”

He’d acted and directed in and out of New York before obtaining a master of fine arts in directing, from Catholic University, and that’s what brought him back to the classroom. “It gave me a chance to spend long week- ends with my family,” Rome explained.

Recalling career highlights, Rome said one was when he directed his first high school production, “Bye Bye Birdie.” He was in his first theater class and was now a professional stage manager working regularly at the Kennedy Center.

Rome’s Favorite Shows, Robinson Memories

Chip Rome directed at least 150 plays during his three decades at Robinson Secondary School. Below, he discusses some of his favorites:

“Beauty and the Beast.”

“Fiddler on the Roof.”

“When we did it for the second time, it was the first time we won the Cappies for Best Musical, and Rome. “It was my grandfather’s favorite show and I totally understood that show.”

One of his most treasured memories, however, wasn’t a particular play but what happened for it. “For my 25th show, the drama变成 became a sur- prise party for my home,” said Rome. “My students from 1981 through 1999 returned and that’s something I’d wish for every teacher. Some of them come in from all parts of the country – it was extraordinary.”

“I have a book to promote, a vacation home to enjoy and the prospect of a new career. So why retire now? “A friend of mine passed away [this spring] and I thought, ‘I’m not going to spend time with my family if I’m going to die.’”

Rome’s career began in the 1970s when he was quite the adventure for a young teacher.”

Calling a “volumetrically time- consuming,” he said he’s lucky his wife understands how theater works. Both his children were in Robinson’s theater program, too. Son Ron Robert was a Cappies nominee, worked on the original Cappies musical with Bill Silberglitt and now works in an improv troupe. And daughter Jane is a high school student in The Rome Do and teacher adaptive mental health on the autism spectrum.

“I love theater," said Rome, “and the prospect of a new career. I love theater...”

Rare Birds in Burke

There are some quite unusual birds nesting in Burke this year. A pair of Mississippi Kites have built a nest and are currently feeding two young chicks in a large tree on some private land near Jackson Street in Burke, attracting birders from around the area.

Mississippi Kites (Ictinia mississippiensis) are a common nesting raptor in the Carolinas south down into Florida and then west as far as East Texas and then up into Kansas and Southern Colorado. The adults are generally light gray with a lighter head and sometimes a darker tail, and long pointed wings. When hunting and chasing after dragonflies and cicadas, their favorite prey, they can transform themselves into miraculous aerial acrobats, swooping and diving through the air. Until about 10 years ago Mississippi kites had never been known to nest in Fairfax County, and they are still rare here.

This is the second year that the kites have nested in this area of Burke, a couple of very special summertime residents for sure. By the end of August they will have left to return to their winter home in South America.

3809 Munson Road, Fairfax, Virginia 22030, will be sold at public auction by John D. Eubank and Timothy E. Lewis, Trustees, for the benefit of Commercial Lending, as mortgagee, at the front door of the Fairfax, Virginia 22030, on AUGUST 7, 2014 AT 10:00 AM
ALL THAT few-sim LOT OF GROUND AND THE IM-PROVEMENTS THEREON situated in Fairfax County, Virginia, known as 3809 Munson Road, Falls Church, Virginia 22041, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust,
TERMS OF SALE: A deposit of ten per cent of the sale price will be required of the Purchaser at the time and place of sale. The deposit must be paid in cash or certified funds. The balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash or certified funds within twenty (20) days of the date of sale. Interest to be charged on the unpaid purchase money at the rate of 12% per annum from the date of sale, if funds are not delivered within the twenty (20) days of the date of sale. TIME SHALL BE OF THE ES-
SAY WITH RESPECT TO SETTLEMENT BY THE PUR-CHASER. In the event that Purchaser does not settle as re-dependent for any reason, Purchaser shall be required to forfeit the sale price and all of the expenses of this sale (including attorney’s fees and full commission on the gross sale price) shall be charged against and paid out of the deposit. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, including, but not limited to, exceptions to the sale, bankruptcy filings by interested parties, court administration of the foreclosures, or unforeseen title defects, there shall be no abatement of interest. Taxes, ground rent, water and all public charges including electrical, sanitation, and/or metropolitan dis-tric charges, if applicable, are to be adjusted for the current year to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the Purchaser. Any and all recording and/or stamps, recording taxes, transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be borne by the Purchaser. The property will be sold in an “AS IS” condition and subject to any and all existing easements, restrictions, conditions and agreements of record affecting the property. The Trustees reserve the right to make any additions or deletions to the property before the sale. The Trustees reserve the right to reject any and all bids, to withdraw the property from sale at any time before or at the auction, to extend the time to receive bids, to extend the deposit requirement, to waive or modify the requirement that interest be paid on the unpaid purchase money, and to extend the period of time for settlement. Additional terms may be announced at the sale. The Purchaser in the purchase shall deliver and execute the Trustee’s simul-monandum or contract of the sale at the conclusion of bidding.

PUBLIC NOTICE
CORRECTIVE ACTION PLAN IMPLEMENTATION FOR AN UNDERGROUND STORAGE TANK (UST) SITE
JUNE 23, 2014

There has been a release from an underground storage tank (UST) containing gasoline at the Fairfax County Department of Vehicle Services
Newington Maintenance Facility
1000 Newington Drive
Fairfax, Virginia

The Virginia Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) has worked with Fairfax County to develop and implement a Corrective Action Plan (CAP) to clean up petroleum hydrocarbons at the site. If you have any questions regarding the cleanup please contact:

Randy Chapman, Environmental Specialist Senior Project Manager Virginia Department of Environmental Quality
Northern Regional Office
Woodbridge, Virginia 22193
Randy.chapman@deq.virginia.gov

As part of the corrective action process a Corrective Action Plan was submitted to the Northern Regional Office of DEQ on September 6, 2013. The Corrective Action Plan (CAP) contains measures to be undertaken during the installation of storm drain capping and Remediation activities at the Newington maintenance facility in Lorton, Virginia. The Corrective Action Plan was essentially composed of the following measures:

1. Storm Drain Capping: Remediation activities associated with capping of low-cost storm drain development activities were excavated, removed, the site.
2. Utility trenches located within petroleum impacted soils were treated with a petroleum inhibitor to prevent petroleum migration into the utility trench or bedding gravel.
3. Confirmatory air samples were collected at the base of the utility trench excavation and submitted to the DEQ for review.

The Corrective Action Plan implementation was carried out by Department of Environmental Services Consultant for Fairfax County

Kenneth Lim, Project Manager or Christopher Elliot

Lake Braddock Grad Owens to Play Baseball at ECU

Q&A: Former Bruins SS enjoys playing beach volleyball.

Jack Owens was a four-year member of the Lake Braddock varsity baseball program. As a sophomore, Owens helped the Bruins win the program’s first state championship. The following year, he helped Lake Braddock capture the Northern Region title. Unfortunately for Owens, he missed part of his senior year due to a wrist injury, and the Bruins failed to qualify for the region tournament.

While Owens’ high school career ended in disappointing fashion, he will continue playing baseball in college at East Carolina University in Greenville, N.C. Owens recently participated in a Q&A via email with The Connection.

❖ Connection: What made East Carolina the right fit for you?
Owens: Greenville is a great college sports town. The all-around school pride and attitude within the baseball team felt like a perfect fit.

❖ Connection: What is your major? What position will you play?
Owens: No major chosen yet. I’ll be playing middle infield.

❖ Connection: At what age did you start playing baseball? Have you always been a shortstop? When did you realize playing college baseball was a possibility for you?
Owens: I’ve been playing baseball since before I can remember. I’ve played everywhere from center field to catcher to shortstop. Shortstop felt like the right fit. I’ve known college was a definite possibility after freshman year when I developed and started getting attention from schools.

❖ Connection: The Lake Braddock baseball program seemed to deal with quite a few injuries in recent years. How many times were you injured in your high school career and how much time did you miss?
Owens: I battled tendonitis in my knee for almost three years, which didn’t sideline me but it was a handicap. I missed almost half of the 2014 season due to a torn ligament in my wrist. All healed now and I’m feeling 100 percent.

❖ Connection: You won a state championship your sophomore year, a region title your junior year, and then the team failed to qualify for regionals your senior year. What was it like dealing with the disappointment of your senior year after all the success you experienced in the past?
Owens: The failure to win a regional or state title my senior year was tough. It was hard to comprehend that my last season in high school could end so quickly. But in my years at Lake Braddock, we made history. The 2012 Lake Braddock team will always be remembered as Lake Braddock’s first state baseball title.

❖ Connection: What is your favorite memory of playing high school baseball?
Owens: I’ve had more good memories than I could ever remember but the thing that stands out to me most is when Coach [Jody] Rutherford was in a rare good mood and can joke around with the team. It’s unbelievably funny and the team jells because of it.

❖ Connection: What is your favorite movie?
Owens: ’The Other Guys.’

❖ Connection: What is your favorite hobby outside of baseball?
Owens: Beach volleyball. My friends and I will play at Burke Lake for hours on end. We’re not very good but it’s still fun.

❖ Connection: What location is the farthest you have traveled from the Washington, D.C. metro area?
Owens: I flew alone to Phoenix, Ariz., for the Perfect Game World Series, where the Evoshield Canes team I was a part of won, and I got my second ring.

❖ Connection: Are you a pro sports fan? If so, who are your favorite teams?
Owens: I’m a big pro sports fan except for the NBA. I’m a big Steelers fan and a bigger Nationals fan.

❖ Connection: If you could go back and change one thing about your high school athletic career, what would it be?
Owens: Not one thing. I worked my [butt] off and every hardship brought me to where I am today.

❖ Connection: What are you most looking forward to about the transition from high school to college?
Owens: I’m excited to experience the freedom in college to mature and grow. The biggest thing for me though is the level of baseball I get to see. I’m excited to challenge myself.

❖ Connection: Who is your favorite music artist? Why?
Owens: Zac Brown, because he has the voice of an angel.

“The 2012 Lake Braddock team will always be remembered as Lake Braddock’s first state baseball title.”
— Jack Owens

WSLL American 11/12 Team Wins District 9

The West Springfield Little League American 11/12 team went 7-1 in the Virginia District 9 tournament, playing through the loser’s bracket to beat a venerable opponent, Fort Hunt Little League, twice. Their record is not the only testament to the team’s grit. In the final round of the district tournament, they played games, or partial games, over five consecutive days in a win-or-go-home situation, surviving oppressive heat, rain, and lightning.

Down 4-0, the championship game on July 10 was delayed by thunder. The boys returned the following day to finish the game for the win over Fort Hunt, 6-4, forcing a second championship game. In a tight battle, WSLL American chipped away to beat Fort Hunt 5-1.

WSLL American will represent District 9 in the state tournament, hosted by Bridgewater Little League in Bridgewater, Va. Their first games are scheduled for Friday-Sunday.

Scott Gudely is the team manager, and Mitch Morrison and Dan O’Grady are assistant coaches.

Team members are: Ben Dizon; Keita Elde; Brandon Gudely; Ethan Kemeny; Elijah Kemeny; Ryan Lipton; Will Morgan; Spencer Morrison; Jack O’Grady; Connor O’Grady-Walsh; Alec Reilly; Ethan Sogocio and Daniel Susa.
