Burke Centre Festival, World Police and Fire Games, and Neighborhood Enhancements among top events and developments.

By Tim Peterson
The Connection

Burke Centre Festival

The ever-larger two-day festival returned for its 37th year at the beginning of September 2014. Drumming, Japanese dancers, local dance groups, bands and Irish dancers comprised a live performance slate, while free and minimal cost activities including face-painting and a photo booth offered attendees plenty of ways to enjoy the pleasant fall weather.

“It was great weather, ticket sales were up, sponsors were up,” said Burke Conservancy president Patrick Gloyd. “It went well; it was even bigger and better in 2014. We try to make each event a little bigger, more interesting, different from the last.”

Burke Community Enhancements

❖ Streetscape beautification: “We’re revamping some community signs and landscaping at major focal points in 2015,” said Gloyd, including the intersection at Burke Centre Parkway and Roberts Parkway.
❖ Possibly implementing a scanning system for pool passes at the 10 community pools: This could coincide with turning the community centers into Wi-Fi hotspots, according to Gloyd.
❖ Terra Centre Elementary School renovations are supposed to wrap up in early summer 2015.
❖ Paving sidewalk from Burke Commons to Roberts Parkway: “That project got delayed,” said supervisor John Cook (R-Braddock). “We’re finally scheduled to see it done this year.”

Springfield Town Center

A crowd of eager shoppers gathered Oct. 17, 2014, for the grand opening of the Springfield Town Center, a completely re-vitalized version of the long dilapidated Springfield Mall. The first in a multi-phase redevelopment plan for the area that includes new residential and office space, the born-again retail now destination hopes to bring about, as well as the county’s passage of a transportation bond referendum in 2014, roads like the Fairfax County Parkway and Old Keene Mill Road are being repaved. “The state was so broke, there wasn’t not enough money to put in one stoplight,” said Albo. “This bill, Bob McDonnell’s big achievement, basically cut the gas tax, raised sales tax and created billions of dollars for roads.” Other developments going forward in 2015 include extending Shirley Gate Road to the Fairfax County Parkway and updating the connecting Popes Head Road interchange, and improving the intersection at Kings Highway, Van Dorn Street and Telegraph Road.

“In terms of mileage, we don’t talk that way,” said Congressman Gerry Connolly (D-11). “We talk about time: How long does it take? That’s a contangoion is such it’s immaterial how far it is. We haven’t passed a long term transportation and infrastructure bill; we’ve only been doing it year by year and need immediate reform.”

Additional Highlights

❖ Good going on behind the scenes: “I enjoyed events around so many of the nonprofits, out there helping folks who need the help the most,” said Delegate David Bulova (D-37). “We’ve got FACETS, Our Daily Bread, Court Appointed Special Advocates for children, the LAMB center, Daily Bread, Court Appointed Special Advocates for children, the LAMB center, Katherine K. Hanley Family Shelter. Just wonderful stories of everyday heroes going above and beyond.”
❖ Possible rezoning of the Silas Burke House: The Planning Commission meets Jan. 15 regarding the sale of the house to Sunrise Senior Living, LLC.
❖ Full-Day Mondays implemented in Fairfax County Public Schools: “We’ve had some issues with funding and how it happened,” said Cook, but the policies are good there. Those and pushing back start times are positives in the schools.
❖ “Obviously it’s an election year,” said McKay. “The entire Board of Supervisors, school board, delegates, among others. That’s exciting. It gives us an opportunity to get a good exchange of ideas out there, get the public more civically involved.”
❖ “Our $168 million budget shortfall,” said supervisor Pat Herrity (R-Springfield). “Our poor economic growth, dealing with that is going to be a big thing in 2015. Our region ranks below Detroit, and has for the last three years. We have to open Fairfax for business again.”
❖ Phase 1 construction of the Silver Line Metro and securing financing for Phase 2.
❖ New 95 Express Lanes opened in 2014: “I think the combined effect of those happening on either side of Burke will be positive,” said Cook. “The more we can do to get more options available is a good thing.”
Judge Rules Against County

Prying free some details on Geer shooting.

By Tim Peterson
The Connection

I t's been more than 16 months since John Geer of Springfield was shot and killed by a Fairfax County Police Department (FCPD) officer. And since the Aug. 29, 2013 shooting, scant information on the incident has been provided by the FCPD or the county Board of Supervisors, such as an explanation of what transpired up to and following the shooting, and the identities of the officers involved. They've kept this information from the media, the public and the Geer family, citing an ongoing federal investigation into the death.

That was until Jan 5, when Fairfax County released a 304-word statement regarding the events surrounding Geer’s death. For the first time, the officer who shot Geer was named: PFC Adam Torres, who the statement said, “fired a single shot that struck Geer.”

“We’ve had policies in place regarding when a police officer’s name and information is released,” Board of Supervisors chairman Sharon Bulova said Monday night. “Usually it’s a matter of weeks. In this particular case it turned out to be unusual.”

Police had been called to Geer’s house by his partner and mother of his two daughters, Maura Harrington, over a domestic dispute. The statement says officers, “including a trained negotiator,” talked with Geer for over half an hour while he stood in the doorway of his house, arms raised above his head and resting on the doorframe.

“Geer was reported as having multiple firearms inside the home,” the statement says, “displaying a firearm that he threatened to use against the police, and refused the officers’ requests that he remain outside and speak to them.”

Torres then shot Geer in the chest when he began lowering his hands.

ACCORDING TO THE STATEMENT a SWAT team entered Geer’s house, after Geer died, and found a loaded, holstered handgun on the stairs by where he had been standing.

“A large amount of citizens have guns in their home. Does that give them the right to come and shoot you?” said Jeff Stewart of Chantilly, a friend of Geer’s for over 25 years who witnessed the shooting.

“At the time he was shot he wasn’t bearing any arms. He owned them. Why is it relevant to the release? Does a loaded gun show intent? The burden fell on the police to defuse the situation, let the guy go inside, chill out.”

Geer’s father Don didn’t hear about the county’s release until someone called to say it was happening on television.

“The press release I felt was very tainted towards the police department,” he said. “It depicted John as being a terrorist or something, had all these guns in the house. He was a hunter. It didn’t sound like that.”

THOUGH THE COUNTY’S STATEMENT refers to a Circuit Court ruling that they “may release some information pertaining to the Aug. 29, 2013, officer-involved shooting of John Geer,” the Dec. 22 opinion from judge Randy Bellows was a court order.

After a Dec. 19 hearing in Fairfax, Bellows quickly turned around a response forcing the county to produce more than 100 documents being sought by lawyer Michael Lieberman in a $12 million civil suit over Geer’s death. According to Lieberman, the county had previously objected to all but six of 127 requests for documents.

“That’s pretty amazing to have a judge turn around and give you a 12-page opinion over a weekend,” said Lieberman. “He obviously worked on it all weekend, he listened carefully.”

The documents include everything from 911 calls and witness statements to the medical treatment of Geer and blood pattern examination. Bellows is holding off granting or denying production of several documents as they relate to the county’s internal investigation or the federal investigation. He gave the county 30 days to produce all the others.

The FCPD has defended their silence so far through the criminal investigative privilege afforded by the Virginia Freedom of Information Act (FOIA). The department declined to comment for this story and the Fairfax County Attorney’s office didn’t respond to an interview request.

In his opinion piece, Bellows wrote: “The entity seeking to assert the criminal investigative file privilege is no longer responsible for any aspect of the criminal investigation and the entity that is now solely responsible for the criminal investigation has made it clear that it has taken no step to discourage the custodian of the criminal investigative files from disclosure of most of the files at issue.”

Bellows referred to correspondence between U.S. Sen. Charles Grassley of Iowa and Assistant Attorney General Peter Kadzik, acknowledging that the case currently sits with the U.S. Department of Justice, not the state’s attorney or the FCPD.

Grassley, ranking member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, sent formal inquiries to FCPD Chief Edwin Roessler and U.S. Attorney Dana Boente about the case in November 2014. He sent another letter to Fairfax County Commonwealth’s Attorney Raymond Morrogh in December.

Kadzik answered Grassley that the FCPD wasn’t instructed to withhold information about the shooting, only the federal investigation.

Lieberman has continued to criticize the Board of Supervisors, who have authority over the FCPD and allowed the silence from that department to continue. For Stewart and the Geer family, the continued silence, even with this recent disclosure, has been frustrating and painful.

“It’s surreal enough to watch your friend get shot,” said Stewart. “It goes to a whole lot through this miserable 16 months in order to hear anything being done at all,” said Don Geer. “Closure would be why someone pulled the trigger and killed my son, that’s as much as I can expect at this point in time. A better idea of why did it happen.”

Accidental Burke Townhouse Fire

Fairfax County Fire and rescue Department units responded to a townhouse fire, Saturday, Dec. 27, 2014, at approximately 10:20 a.m., in the Burke area of Fairfax County. The single-family townhouse is located at 6123 Pond Lily Court.

Firefighters encountered smoke coming from the rear of the two-story townhouse upon arrival. Firefighters conducted an aggressive fire attack and quickly extinguished the fire. The bulk of the fire was contained to the kitchen area; however, there was moderate fire extension into the second floor. Six adults and two children have been displaced. Red Cross is supporting the family. There were no working smoke alarms in the home. One occupant was transported for a non-life threatening injury and one adult was treated at the scene.

Damage is estimated at $95,000. According to fire investigators, the fire was accidental. Unattended food on the stove caused the fire.

Happy New Year

Happy New Year. We need your help in 2015. As local, weekly newspapers, the Connection’s mission is to deliver news readers need close to home, to help readers enjoy great local places and events, to advocate for community good, to call attention to unmet needs, to provide a forum for dialogue on local concerns, and to celebrate and record milestone events in community and people’s lives.

If you know people or organizations doing important work, something newsworthy or something that might make a good feature story, let us know. We want to know if someone in your family or your community published a book, became an Eagle Scout, raised money for a good cause, accomplished a feat like running a marathon or having an art show.

We publish photos and notes of a variety of personal milestones and community events, including births, engagements, weddings, anniversaries, awards and obituaries. Send a photo and tell us about it in 200 words or so to editors@connectionnewspapers.com.

We are also interested in events at your church, mosque, synagogue, community center, pool, school, club, etc. To have the best chance of getting an event included in our calendar ahead of time, email us the details of the event (who, what, where, when, why) at least two weeks ahead of time. Email to XXXXXX@connectionnewspapers.com. Events generally must be open to the public and either free or at nominal cost to be included in calendars.

After your events, email us a photo and a note so we can consider including it in our coverage. Be sure to include the names of all the people who are in a photo, and say when and where the photo was taken.

We also publish notes about news and events from local businesses. Notes about openings, new employees, anniversaries are welcome. In covering the issues, we strive to provide a voice for our readers. We look forward to hearing from you.

The Connection Newspapers are published by Local Media Connection LLC, an independent, locally owned company. The publications and websites include the Alexandria Gazette Packet, the Mount Vernon Gazette, the Centre View, the Potomac Almanac and individual Connection papers and websites serving McLean, Great Falls, Vienna/Olney, Oak Hill/Herndon, Reston, Springfield, Burke, Fairfax, Fairfax Station/Clifton/Lorton, Arlington, Centreville, Chantilly/Fair Oaks, Alexandria and Mount Vernon.

The publications and websites have won hundreds of awards for news and community coverage just in the past few years, including the Virginia Press Association Award for Integrity and Community Service for coverage of efforts to prevent and end homelessness, and Best in Show for information/art for coverage of local parks.

The operation of these community-serving publications is entirely funded by advertising. The papers are delivered free to homes and businesses throughout Northern Virginia, and through free digital subscriptions, with more than 200,000 readers across the region. If you or your organization appreciate the Connection publications, please support them by patronizing our advertisers and by spending a portion of your marketing budget with us.

Taking Exception on Express Lanes

To the Editor:

An article was recently published in your newspaper discussing the new I-95 express lanes (95 Express Lanes Open, The Connection, Dec. 18-24, 2014). One statement in the article read, “Construction manager for the project John Morse, of VDOT, said that the addition of a third lane will solve a number of problems and give people options other than waiting in traffic.” Creating the express lanes, however, does not resolve a primary underlying issue. Along vast stretches of heavily congested I-95, including in Prince William County, there are only three lanes for traffic. The express lanes are just a partial solution. I-95 is the busiest highway on the East Coast. Tens of thousands of out-of-town travelers use this highway daily. These travelers likely will not know to have an EZ-Pass Flex to access these lanes, much less pay a potentially high dollar figure to use them. Local travelers also have to incur a substantial daily fee unless they manage to have three passengers. Plus, the toll lanes end after the I-495 interchange, leaving those without three passengers subject to driving in the main line of I-95. Northern Virginia is continuing to grow. The express lanes did not add any additional lanes to I-95, allowing for traffic to continue to jam the highway.

Opposing the Pipeline

To the Editor:

Virginia Governor Terry McAuliffe has proposed that, in four years, a 550 mile natural gas pipeline, the Atlantic Coast Pipeline, be built throughout Virginia. Although Virginia will house most of the pipeline, it will also travel through North Carolina and West Virginia. McAuliffe boasts that thousands of jobs will be created and sustained by this pipeline. He and Dominion Power both claim this pipeline is a result of rising energy demands by Virginians and an effort to tackle climate change and improve environmental health. If that is their mission, why are they trying to achieve it by building through national parks and mountain valleys, instead of focusing on renewable and actually environmentally friendly sources of energy? The best thing for Virginia’s future would be to become innovative and become entirely powered by wind, solar and biometane energy.

The threat that this pipeline poses to Virginia’s environment should be enough to have it immediately shut down. According to Climate Progress, this pipeline will travel through the George Washington National Forest, the Allegheny Mountains, the Blue Ridge Mountains and the Shenandoah Valley. Growing up in Virginia, some of my fondest memories include driving down the Shenandoah Valley to visit Luray Caverns and school field trips to the George Washington National Forest. We were always taught to take care of these incredible gifts that have been given to our state. Volunteering for park clean ups and planting flowers was always encouraged. The hydraulic fracturing that will most likely occur in these parks will destroy our landmarks and cause irreparable damage.

These beautiful environmental landmarks are a source of joy and pride for many Virginians. To threaten them with this pipeline is to threaten an integral part of being Virginian, therefore, we must find sources of energy that will preserve our land. One of Governor Terry McAuliffe’s motivations for approving this pipeline is to establish Virginia as a business friendly and innovative state. What is more innovative than having the entire state rely on wind, solar or biometane energy? These sources of energy are given to us by the earth and are constantly being created, unlike natural gas. What happens after all the natural gas has been used up? Although that might not happen for a while, but that kind of short term thinking is what has many states still heavily reliant on coal and has left the environment in such a fragile state. In order to thrive, Virginia needs to look further than the next 10 years into the future. Building solar power plants and wind turbines will establish Virginia as a leader in the clean energy movement. The building of these plants and turbines will create and sustain more jobs than this pipeline ever could or will.

Businesses will be more likely to come to Virginia because of cheap, safe and reliable energy rather than limited, finite and controversial natural gas. The Atlantic Coast Pipeline is a short term answer to a long term issue.

Building a pipeline that will travel through Virginia’s national parks, threaten the environment and create fewer jobs that wind or solar power would, seem like a pointless thing to do. As we Virginians should stand up and publicly oppose this pipeline, then fight for wind, solar and biometane to be the only sources of energy that Virginia relies on.

Overnight I-66 Closures in January

All lanes of Interstate 66 in one direction will close intermittently between midnight and 5 a.m. on several dates in January for the installation of gantries. Each closure will last up to 30 minutes.

The scheduled closures on I-66 are as follows:

- Tuesday, Jan. 6 into Wednesday, Jan. 7: Westbound immediately beyond the Route 28 overpass (Exit 53)
- Thursday, Jan. 8 into Friday, Jan. 9: Eastbound between Route 28 (Exit 53) and Fairfax County Parkway (Exit 55)
- Monday, Jan. 12 into Tuesday, Jan. 13: Eastbound between Route 123 (Exit 60) and Nortly Street (Exit 62)
- Wednesday, Jan. 14 into Thursday, Jan. 15: Westbound just beyond Nortly Street (Exit 62) at the Vaden Drive overpass
- Monday, Jan. 19 into Tuesday, Jan. 20: Eastbound just beyond the Fairfax County Parkway underpass (Exit 55)
- Wednesday, Jan. 21 into Thursday, Jan. 22: Westbound just before the Fairfax County Parkway underpass (Exit 55)

Message signs will be posted in advance of the work so that motorists can use alternate routes.

The closures are part of the Virginia Department of Transportation’s ongoing effort to install 36 new gantries as part of the I-66 Active Traffic Management System (ATMS).

The traffic system is scheduled to begin operating between Route 29 in Centreville and the Capital Beltway in early 2015.

Geer Shooting Statement Released

SUPERVISOR Pat Herrity (R-Springfield) agrees transparency has been a problem.

“We need to be transparent and we haven’t been,” he said in a recent interview. “The county attorney is supposed to provide advice, we make decisions. I think we’ve been following overly protective legal advice instead of making the right decision in this case, is really what it boils down to.”

Lieberman said he sees this action by the county as “preemptive damage control.” He continued, “The only positive thing I take out of it is some claim they’re finally going to change the policies.”

Bulova admitted the Board of Supervisors, FCPD and County Attorney’s policies on information sharing all need to be examined. “In retrospect,” she said, “our policies need to be changed to provide information sooner if there is a delay like this.”

She also addressed the possibility of revisiting creating a citizen’s police advisory council.

“At least it’s getting their attention,” Geer said. “The idea of the police investigating the police just doesn’t work. That’s all there to it.”

Lieberman is optimistic that future hearings will help produce more documents, and for now at least some answers to 16-month-old questions are coming forward.

“The nightmare of John’s shooting isn’t ever going to end,” he said, “but the nightmare of what the county’s done, at least we can see the light at the end of the tunnel for getting over that part.”

Top Fitness Trends for 2015

By Marilyn Campbell

T he beginning of a new year is often a time when many resolve to begin a fitness plan or to ramp up their current routine. Officials at the American College of Sports Medicine rang in the New Year by releasing the organization’s annual survey of the top fitness trends for 2015.

From push-ups to plank, weight room routine tops ACSM’s list of fitness trends. Low cost and mobile, this routine exercise back to the basics—push-ups, pull-ups and squats. “You really don’t need expensive or a gym membership, and there’s almost no cost involved,” said Katrina Salum, personal trainer based in Arlington. “It’s effective because you can build muscle and burn fat simply by using your own body weight for resistance.”

The popularity of bodyweight training is due in part to the ease in which it can be incorporated into your daily routine, said Salum. “You can do push-ups or sit-ups at home, when you’re brushing your teeth and 10 push-ups while you’re waiting for your coffee to brew.”

The PRACTICE of alternating longer periods of aerobic activity with low-intensity exercises, known as high intensity interval training (HIIT), is number two on the list of results. Varying exercise can keep you interested and reduce the ‘fatigue factor that leads many people to abandon their fitness practice,” said Scott Goldberg, a personal trainer in Potomac, Md. “Most HIIT routines can be done in 30 minutes,” he said. “One simple routine is walking up and down a ramp, then doing 10 squats, 10 push-ups and 10 planks followed by a 30-second squat-plank_comment. Then walk slowly in place for four minutes to rest then repeat the entire routine five times.”

Taking classes or training sessions with licensed, certified and educated fitness professionals is number three on the list. Traditional weight training is number four, followed by enlisting the help of a personal trainer and combining exercise and nutrition into a fitness plan, which are numbers five and six respectively.

“Take the time to carefully read the latest health news and incorporate it into your life rather than just doing it once,” said Salum. “It’s also less expensive than hiring a personal trainer, and you can do it at your own pace, any time you want.”

A regular yoga practice will increase your blood circulation, which in turn helps flush out toxins from your body, said Gretchen Adams, a director at Old Town Yoga. “Eating foods that are low in carbs and high in protein before working out forces your body to burn fat and grow new energy.”

Fitness industry pros say yoga is number seven. “The practice of yoga gives you muscular flexibility through the stretching involved in the yoga poses,” said Dawn Cerri, East Meets West Yoga Center in Vienna. “Yoga also provides enormous strength training. A regular yoga practice can also help with your healthy tissue maintenance and healthy growth of new muscles, bones, tendons, and ligaments, which are essential components for healthy living.”

Curcivan points to the detoxifying effects of yoga. “A regular yoga practice will increase your blood circulation, which in turn helps flush out toxins from your body,” said Adam Goldberg. “As your body flushes out these toxins, you’ll release the toxins of the muscle movements, they are replaced with new nourishing nutrients for a healthier body and mind.” Students with a regular practice report feeling less stress and improved sleep.

Fitness programs for seniors make the list at number eight. “Thirty minutes of strength training and 20 minutes of aerobics 4-5 times a week can help fight diseases like diabetes and heart disease as we age,” said Goldberg.

FUNCTIONAL FITNESS EXERCISES those that make your body stronger for everyday activities like doing laundry, lifting small children or simply being able to push a stroller are number ten. “One of the benefits of working out is that you get better at pushing a stroller,” said Salum. “It’s also less expensive than hiring a personal trainer and can be done from home.”

Bodyweight training, which includes exercises such as planks, is in the top fitness trend for 2015 according to the American College of Sports Medicine.

“Consistency is the key in yoga,” said Sara VanderGoot of Mind the Mat Yoga and Pilates in Arlington and Alexandria. “It’s like vitamins. The real effect is doing it over time, and incorporating it into your life rather than just doing it once. Yoga is not a quick fix, but a very powerful transformative practice if done regularly over time.”

Fitness programs for seniors make the list at number eight. “Thirty minutes of strength training and 20 minutes of aerobics 4-5 times a week can help fight diseases like diabetes and heart disease as we age,” said Goldberg.

FUNCTIONAL FITNESS EXERCISES those that make your body stronger for everyday activities like doing laundry, lifting small children or simply being able to push a stroller are number ten. “One of the benefits of working out is that you get better at pushing a stroller,” said Salum. “It’s also less expensive than hiring a personal trainer and can be done from home.”

THROUGH SATURDAY/JAN. 31
Exhibit of Colorful Nutcrackers. 11 a.m.–4 p.m. Closing Reception at 5 p.m. Sally Historic Site, 3650 Historic Sally Way, Chantilly. Chantilly is an amazing array of nutcrackers, both old and new, in a colorful case exhibit. Did you ever wonder where the craze for collecting nutcracker dolls came from? Nutcrackers have a fascinating history. The first nutcrackers were produced to crack nuts more effectively and the oldest known metal example, on exhibit in Tarent, Italy, is from the third or fourth century B.C. The Leavensworth Nutcracker Museum in Leesburg, Washington, shows a bronze Roman nutcracker dated between 200 B.C and 200 A.D. German nutcrackers, made as decorative pieces, were developed around 1500. Early nutcrackers were in the shapes of animals, birds and people. Later, they were made in the likeness of kings, soldiers, church leaders and ruling class figures. Fine wood carved nutcrackers were created across Europe, especially in France and England by the 15th and 16th centuries. Admission: $7/adult, $6/under 30. For tickets information call 703-537-3000 or visit: www.jccnv.org.

Tango. The word conjures earthy dance and sizzling music. “Tango dance best exhibits this: two people create a dance so seamlessly, so beautifully it takes your breath away,” said Joan Singer, founder of Northern Virginia's QuinTango. “Tango endures because it is real... it’s intense, it’s intimate, it’s courageous.”

Soon you will be able to see the allure and emotions of the tango for yourself as the Jewish Community Center of Northern Virginia (JCCNV) is bringing QuinTango to local audiences. It is to be a lively evening of music, spirited dancing by two Argentine dancers, and stories behind how immigrants brought the tango to the public’s attention first in Argentina; then the world.

The QuinTango musical troupe includes two violins, cello, bass and piano playing the rich, sultry sounds of the classic tango orchestra’s repertoire.

QuinTango has performed at the White House and Lincoln Center. The group has worked with the Washington Performing Arts Society’s educational programs and is part of the Virginia Commission for the Arts Touring Performing Arts program. The group has also received a WAMMIE music award from the Washington Area Music Association. The troupe wants to create a dialogue with the audience. "We promise to give you our all - and in return we rely on your feedback, your signs, your applause, your rapt attention," said Singer. “Together we can create a few hours of musical intimacy which will sustain us both long after the concert is over.

"We are creating something new every performance. Part of creativity is vulnerability - and in seeing it, in allowing it, the audience becomes part of the intimacy," added Singer. "We want people to understand what tango is – and to fall in love with it.” For some tango cultural references; Al Pacino won the 1992 Oscar dancing the tango in “Scent of a Woman.” There was also Broadway’s 1976 Tony Award winning “Chicago” with its musical number “Cell Block Tango” later performed by Catherine Zeta-Jones in the Academy Award winning 2002 movie “Chicago.”

"I think the audience will come away with an apprecia- tion of the history of Tango.” This includes “the ways Eastern European immigrants and the tango benefited each other,” said Dan Korsch, JCCNV cultural affairs director. “Tango is exciting, it’s engaging, it’s often on the edge,” noted Singer. Don’t resist it.

New Schools, Boundary Changes Possible

Proposed Capital Improvement Plan focuses on rising enrollment.

By Reena Singh
The Connection

Several new schools may be added to the Fairfax County Public Schools system in the next decade. The School Board listened to an annual Capital Improvement Plan (CIP) presentation by Assistant Superintendent Jeffrey Platenberg on Dec. 18, 2014, describing the need for four more elementary schools and one high school to meet the demands of rapidly rising enrollment.

The board will vote on the plan until Jan. 22. The meeting will be in the board chambers at Luther Jackson Middle School at 7 p.m.

More specifically, he said between September 2013 and September 2014, enrollment rose by 2,000.

“Both our Board of Supervisors and the public, if they ever wanted to understand the complexity of a county of over a million people and almost 200 schools, open up this brochure and understand what we’re dealing with,” said Braddock District board member Megan McLaughlin.

The elementary schools proposed are in the Route 1 area, Fort Belvoir, the Fairfax area and in the northwestern end of the county. The high school was named “Western High School” in the presentation. Two of those schools already exist in the county.

McLaughlin said she was worried about boundary changes, going into her own experience about her grade school experience in North Carolina. Additionally, she said she hoped the Board of Supervisors will be more of a help to fund the CIP.

“We can’t build our way out of it with additions and modulars and continue with very expensive transportation and bussing,” she said.

Mason District board member Sandra Evans was worried about how much “orange” and “red” she saw in the report for her area, indicating a high occupancy in the schools she represents. She was also concerned about how the current birthrate boom will affect elementary schools in five years. Platenberg said he will go further in detail on the matter at the next work session, which will take place on Jan. 12.

Dranesville District board member Jane Strauss commented about the report, reminding the public that this is the school board’s way of reassuring that a plan is being made to reduce classroom sizes.

“There is a limit at each school in what the buildout is,” she said.
Top Moments in 2014 Area Sports

Woodson boys’ basketball looks for third straight region title.

The following is a look at some of the top moments in area sports during 2014 and what lies ahead in 2015.

Woodson boys’ basketball repeats as region champ

The Woodson boys’ basketball program graduated the majority of its starting lineup from the team that captured the 2013 Northern Region championship. That didn’t stop the Cavaliers from making a return appearance in 2014. After a dramatic one-point win over Herndon in the 6A North region semifinals, Woodson, led by then-junior point guard Eric Bowles, faced Lake Braddock in the championship game. It was the fourth meeting of the season between the two teams, with the Bruins having won the first three by a combined eight points. The fourth meeting ended with a 66-56 Woodson victory and the Cavaliers’ second straight region title. “It’s a different group of kids,” Woodson head coach Gary Dillow said after the game. “… A lot of them didn’t get to experience it last year or really be a big part of it — they were on the team but maybe didn’t get a chance to play out on the floor. Tonight, they got a chance to be out there on the floor and do a great job.”

Woodson finished the season with a 21-9 record and reached the state semifinals.

Robinson boys’ lax wins state title

The Robinson boys’ lacrosse team started the season with a 12-0-1 record and won the 6A state championship. It was the fourth region title with a 2-1 victory over Lake Braddock, and defeated First Colonial 1-0 in the state semifinals. On June 15, South County beat Cosby 4-1 in the 6A state championship game at Robinson Secondary School.

Then-senior pitcher Rebecca Martin was one of South County’s best players in 2014 and throughout her four years on the varsity. “She’s been clutch from Day One,” South County head coach Gary Dillow said after the state final. “She came in as a freshman and won that 12-inning game against [West Potomac] for our first conference championship with this group. Nothing fazes her. She’s always relaxed. She’s pitched every clutch game for us the last four years and usually when we lose, it’s because we don’t score, it’s not because she hasn’t pitched well.”

The South County softball team finished 26-3 in 2014 and won the 6A title.

Lake Braddock XC shines at state meet

The Lake Braddock boys’ cross country team left the competition in the dust in the fall of 2014, winning Conference 7, 6A North region, and VHSL state championships. At the state meet on Nov. 15 at Great Meadow, Lake Braddock produced the first- (Alex Corbett), second- (Kevi Monogoue) and seventh-place (Colin Schaefer) individual finishers en route to a first-place team finish. The Bruins posted a score of 41, finishing well ahead of second-place West Springfield (92).

It was the second state title in the Lake Braddock boys’ program history.

“One of the last things we talked about [prior to the race] was, this is business,” Lake Braddock head coach Mike Mangan said after the state meet. “We have done all our investing, we picked all the right stocks, we think, we’ve done all that and now it’s time to cash in on our investment. This is just business.”

The Lake Braddock girls also had a strong showing at the state meet, finishing runner-up. Oakton won its second consecutive title.

Brumh sophomore Kate Murphy finished second among individuals. Teammate Daly Ferguson (seventh) also earned all-state honors.

Lake Braddock boys’ tennis goes undefeated

The Lake Braddock boys’ tennis team captured the 2014 state championship, finishing a perfect 18-0-2 along the way. The Bruins defeated Langley in the regional and state finals.

Robinson wrestling wins 3rd title in 4 years

The Robinson wrestling team won its third state championship in four years and produced four individual champions. Jack Bass (152 pounds), Zak DePasquale (160), Cole DePasquale (182) and Jake Pinkston (285) each won individual titles.

Fairfax field hockey wins region title

The Fairfax field hockey team won its first region championship since 1993 and advanced to the state tournament for the second consecutive season. The Rebels defeated Chantilly 2-1 in double overtime in the region final before ending its season with a loss in the state semifinals. Gori Black scored the game-winner for Fairfax in the region final.

“Right when I hit it,” Black said after the region championship game, “I felt like it was going to go in.” Fairfax finished the season with a 20-4 record, including the program’s sixth consecutive Liberty District/Conference 6 championship.

A look to 2015

“ar the Woodson boys’ basketball team entered 2015 with a 7-2 record before losing to St. Maria Goretti on Jan. 3. The Cavaliers will attempt to win their third consecutive region title. Senior point guard Bowles will play for Central Connecticut State University.

The West Springfield girls’ basketball team concluded the 2014 portion of its schedule with an 8-2 record. The Spartans are looking to repeat as Conference 7 champions and return to the state tournament.

The Robinson wrestling team looks to win its fourth state championship in five seasons. The Rams graduated three individual state champions.

The South County softball team returns several talented players from its 2014 state championship squad, but will be without graduated standout pitcher Martin.

The Lake Braddock baseball program, which won the state title in 2012 and the region crown in 2013, will look to bounce back from a 2014 season in which the Bruins failed to qualify for the regional tournament.

The Lake Braddock, South County, West Springfield, Hayfield and Robinson football teams will all be coming back from 2014 playoff appearances.
Sixteen years ago Father Martin, the pastor of the Catholic Church of the Nativity in Burke, asked hypothetically, “How much money could be raised if each parishioner donated a small amount each week of Lent?”

The result was $67,000 and the beginning of a journey to help the poor in Haiti. The result: over 1,100 homes, nine self-sustaining villages each with a sewing, fishing co-op, tilapia farming and animal husbandry. In collaboration with “Food for the Poor,” the parishioners of Nativity have contributed nearly $4 million in cash and $2 million in goods.

Four times a year the Church of Nativity travels to Haiti. Each time those who make the trip return with a “personal calling.” Jim McDaniel, head of Nativity’s Operation Starfish put it simply, “making the trip to Haiti results in a personal call for action. When they come back something happens and each individual becomes inspired to make a difference.”

This holiday Meg Hanrahan of Burke and Melinda Englebrejsson of Fairfax Station decided to act on their “personal call to action.” Each had experienced difficult births. When Melinda saw the conditions that many Haitian women give birth in she asked a local doctor what was needed to improve conditions. The supplies needed to improve the conditions of birth were less than $2.

The two reached out to the Knights of Columbus and the women of Nativity and raised $1,400. With this they were able to package 700 birthing kits. Each kit had sterile gloves, alcohol wipes, sterile gauze pads, string, a bar of soap, and a #10 scalpel.

With the help of 80-90 volunteers 700 kits were assembled in two hours and readied for delivery to Florida where they would be added to Food for the Poor’s shipping containers. The kits were driven to Florida by a few Nativity parishioners.
