Cappies Awards Honors High School Theater

The 16th Annual Cappies Gala honoring high school theater was held Sunday, June 7 at The Kennedy Center. Of the 39 awards, winning the top prizes were Robinson Secondary School for the Best Play Award for “Neverwhere,” and McLean High School for the Best Musical Award for “Big Fish.” This year’s Masters of Ceremony were Judy Bowns, Janie Strauss and Ed Monk.

This year’s show included 58 public and private high schools in Fairfax County, Arlington, Fauquier, Loudoun, Montgomery, and Prince William counties, and the cities of Falls Church, Alexandria, Manassas and Washington, D.C. The Cappies season extended from October to May.

The Cappies program was launched in the summer of 1999 by Bowns, the theatre arts resource teacher with FCPS, and the late Bill Strauss (director, Capitol Steps), in cooperation with area theater teachers, for the purpose of celebrating and bringing public acclaim to high school theater.

Reema’s Remembrance Cabaret at Westfield HS

Each year, a cabaret is held in honor of Westfield High grad and Virginia Tech victim Reema Samaha. And the 8th Annual Remembrance Cabaret is this Saturday, June 13, in Westfield’s theater. It begins with a silent auction at 6 p.m., followed by a variety show at 7 p.m.

Besides providing entertainment, it’s also a fundraiser. The event is free, but all donations, plus the proceeds from T-shirt and baked-goods sales, will help deserving students attend college via the Reema J. Samaha Memorial Scholarship Fund.

Touch A Truck June 13

The Sully District Police Station and the Chantilly Regional Library present the Third Annual Touch A Truck, this Saturday, June 13, from 2-5 p.m., at the library, 4000 Stringfellow Road in Chantilly. Forget toy trucks and cars; children will be able to get an up-close look at the real thing.

There’ll be lots of big trucks on site for kids and adults alike to learn about, explore and discover. There will also be events for kids, balloon artists, live music and much more during this free, fun-filled day for the whole family. Park at Chantilly High, and police will be directing traffic to safely get pedestrians across Stringfellow Road to the library.

It was a time to celebrate. And that’s just what happened at the Chantilly Pyramid Minority Student Achievement Committee’s (CPMSAC) 30th Annual Youth Motivation and Academic Awards program.

It was held Saturday, June 6, at Chantilly High, and the gym bleachers were packed with cheering and appreciative friends and family members there to see area high-school students be honored and recognized for their academic accomplishments.

“This year, we had the largest number of people receiving awards in 30 years, so you’re making history,” CPMSAC President Johnny Nelson told the students. “And we’re celebrating you for the job you’ve done.”

Kicking off the program by presenting the colors were the Junior Buffalo Soldiers of Mount Olive Baptist Church. Then Colleen Howard sang the National Anthem and, later, sang the senior tribute song, “Hero (Wind beneath My Wings).”

Six students received scholarships from CPMSAC and were specially acknowledged during the ceremony. Lawrence Wright, Centreville High, and Rachel Jacobs, Chantilly High, were awarded the Shirley O. Nelson Memorial Scholarship. And Cameron Guy Dudley Book Scholarship Awards went to Malaz Namir, Chantilly High; Madeline Naa-Koshe Powell, Westfield High; Morgan Carson, Chantilly High; and Arica Jackson, Westfield High.

Wright will attend Case Western Reserve University to major in electrical engineering; Jacobs, GMU, law; Namir, Virginia Tech, human development; Powell, GMU, communications; Carson, VCU, exercise science; and Jackson, Hampton University, nursing.

Saying CPMSAC’s motto is “Only Excellence is Good Enough,” master of ceremonies Chuck Coffin encouraged the students there to continue working hard and to be role models for their peers. He also acknowledged all the school administrators, staff members and facilities personnel for everything they do. And, he added, “Parents, continue to be involved in your child’s education and provide a positive environment for them, because it makes a difference when you care.”

Chantilly High Assistant Principal Karla Hogan and Sully District School Board member Kathy Smith also congratulated the students and wished them well. And Frances Ivey, FCPS assistant superintendent, Region 5, said three things were responsible for the students’ success.

“You did the hard work, made wise choices along the way and excelled in the classroom,” said Ivey. “And all the adults involved are very, very proud of you. To CPMSAC, thank you for 30 years of support and service to our schools. You’ve served as a model to our schools, community, state and, really, the nation, of how our students can succeed.”

The Rev. Eugene Johnson, of Mount Olive Baptist Church, said June 6 is a national day of remembrance of the losses during D Day. “But today is also about young people who’ve strived, met challenges and took the opportunities to excel,” he said.

“Looking back over 31 years [of CPMSAC], I remember the vision we had for this day. Congratulations on your accomplishments and on what you will do — for you are a lamp that shines forward to a more perfect day. Keep that lamp burning.”

The keynote speaker was former CPMSAC participant Janelle Greene Alabi, a 2003 Chantilly High grad and a member of its 2001 state championship gymnastics team. She later obtained a bachelor’s in sociology and a master’s in education and is now a wife, mother and a first-grade teacher at London Towne Elementary.

“Those of you here have already achieved some level of academic excellence,” she said. “When I was here, I planned to go to business school, get a job and make lots of money.” But then she changed her mind and worked hard to instead become a teacher. “It’s easy to set goals, but it takes a great deal to reach them, including grit — which involves determination, passion, perseverance and stamina,” said Alabi. “It’s sticking with your vision, year in and year out. For example, Walt Disney was fired by a newspaper editor because he ‘lacked imagination and had no good ideas.’ But he knew life was a marathon, not a sprint.”

She said people like him, who have grit, don’t let setbacks discourage them. “Grit has even been found to be more important than intelligence,” said Alabi. “Students not as smart as others work harder. Do you have grit? Find your passion, work toward it and stick with it.”

Alabi said the five characteristics of grit are courage, conscientiousness, follow-through, resilience and excellence, and she explained what it means to possess each one. She also said she dropped her business major when she realized she hated her classes pertaining to it. Instead, she became a teacher and, she said, “I love it.”

“Life may knock you down through circumstances you can’t control,” said Alabi. “But it’s OK to struggle and feel confused. Don’t give up, but know that you’re on your way to accomplishing your goals.”

‘Diverse Travel Choices’ for I-66?

Residents hear improvement plans, give opinions.

By Bonnie Hobbs

VDOT plans to improve travel on the 25 miles of I-66 between Route 15 in Haymarket and the I-495/Capital Beltway. So it’s created three alternatives and will take the best elements from each — tempered by residents’ comments from several public hearings — and develop the final design.

Currently proposed are two express lanes and three regular lanes in each direction. The express lanes would be free to buses and HOV-3 (converted from HOV-2) vehicles. Non-HOV cars would pay tolls with pricing based on congestion. The regular lanes would be free and open to all traffic. There’d also be ramp-to-ramp connections to help drivers more safely enter and exit I-66.

The plan includes high-frequency, rapid bus service beyond peak traffic hours for more predictable travel times. And there’d be direct access between the express lanes and new or expanded commuter parking lots. Existing interchanges will be studied, plus the feasibility of replacing or widening I-66 overpasses and bridges, where needed.

Bicycle and pedestrian access parallel to the highway is also being evaluated, as is the possibility of having Metro within the I-66 right-of-way. The financing method will be determined later, but the project cost is expected to exceed $2 billion. Design public hearings will be held in 2016, with construction earmarked to begin in 2017 and end in 2021.

“I-66 today carries over 200,000 vehicles a day in the most congested sections,” said VDOT Deputy District Administrator Renee Hamilton. “We want to reduce neighborhood cut-through traffic by having people stay on I-66. And we want to provide diverse travel choices in a cost-effective manner.”

She was speaking on Wednesday night, June 3, before hundreds of people in Bull Run Elementary’s cafeteria. Ringing the room were dozens of maps showing the project area and possible traffic changes; and outside in the hallway before the meeting, people were able to see more maps and charts and speak with VDOT representatives and consultants.

“It’s a multimodal solution, not a road-widening project, and transit is integral to its success,” Hamilton told the crowd.

“Your input is very important.” With future traffic only expected to increase, she said studies show something must be done to fix I-66. “The build alternative can move 35-85 percent more people in the morning peak period than if we did nothing; and in the afternoon peak, 40-90 percent.”

She said the goals are to reduce the hours of congestion, move more travelers during rush hours and improve people’s speeds. Another aim, said Hamilton, is to decrease traffic on parallel roads, such as Routes 29 and 50, that people often use now to avoid the gridlocked I-66.

“This project will have new transit services and more park-and-ride lots,” she said. “An additional 4,000 spaces are planned by 2025. We’ll also use transportation demand-management strategies to promote the use of carpools, transit services and park-and-ride lots.” Another critical component will be a new, commuter-bus service into major destinations, plus new rapid bus service that’ll run all day and portions of the weekend for reliable travel time.

continued. “The project should be designed with future extension of the rail in mind. BRT stations should be built in the middle of I-66 with pedestrian bridges and escalators similar to the Orange and Silver lines.”

Next, Bill Niedringhaus of the Potomac Heritage Trail Association recommended direct, natural-surface trail access to the Big Rocky Run Stream Valley from Braddock Road at Route 28 in Centreville. He also urged VDOT not to miss a “once-in-a-generation opportunity” to build a trail along Route 123 linking the City of Fairfax and Oakton.

Meanwhile, Alicia Coleman of Cabell’s Mill feared history would repeat itself. “Twenty-one years ago, I-66 was widened and I asked, ‘Where’s the rail?’” she said. “HOT lanes are under-utilized and only cause more congestion; rail is needed.” Furthermore, she warned attendees, “My neighborhood had to build its own sound barriers. So just because sound walls are on the plan as ‘proposed’ doesn’t mean VDOT will really build them.”

In addition, Centreville’s John Kuchenbrod of the Rocky Run community wanted shoulders on both sides of the road because, “when there’s an accident in the fast lane, traffic is stopped while it’s cleared away. And, because it’ll still be a bottleneck, separate the people on I-66 east trying to get to Route 28 north from the people getting on I-66 east from Route 29.”

Cathy and Rick Rooney of Centreville’s Newgate community examine the bicycle/pedestrian map.

Chantilly Baseball Falls to Madison

Chargers will face Western Branch on June 12 in state semifinals.

By Jon Roetman

Matt Favero stood on the Madison High School baseball field following Friday's 6A North region championship game and recalled the mellow mindset he possessed while returning to the mound for the top of the fourth inning.

Madison's starting pitcher had held Chantilly without a hit for the first three innings. In the bottom of the third, Favero stepped to the plate and did himself some breathing room, crushing a three-run homer.

“I was relaxed going back out [to the mound],” Favero recalled. “I knew I had some run support out there, so I could just pound the [strike] zone and keep doing my thing.”

With Favero back on the hill, his teammates could have relaxed, as well.

The junior left-hander allowed just three hits in 6-plus shutout innings and the Madison baseball team captured its first region championship since 2003 with a 9-0 victory over the Chantilly Chargers.

Favero took a no-hitter into the sixth inning before surrendering a back-to-back fly-ball outs.

Chantilly has more strong teams in recent years but failed to advance past the region semifinals.

In 2010, Madison lost to eventual state champion West Springfield in the region semifinals. The Warhawks returned to the region semis in 2011, but fell short against a South County team that won its first 28 games before losing to Great Bridge in the state final.

Madison won 22 straight games in 2013 before losing to Lake Braddock in the region quarterfinals, and won 21 of 22 in 2014, but ended its season with a loss to McLean in the region semifinals.

had to kind of find ourselves, our identity. We just found it and now we’re just rolling.”

After a 6-0 start, Madison dropped three of four, including an 11-3 loss to Vienna foe Oakton on April 11. On May 8, a 4-0 loss to McLean cost the Warhaws the No. 1 seed in the Conference 6 tournament.

Madison would bounce back, winning conference and region titles. Friday’s win was the Warhawks' eighth in a row and improved their record to 22-5.

“Right now, we’re playing our best baseball at the right time,” Gjormand said. “Last couple years we’ve won 22 in a row, [21 of 22], and I was worried [because] sometimes you can get stagnant. I think right now, it feels like they’ve caught fire and they’re playing their best.”

Madison will face 6A South region runner-up First Colonial in the state semifinals at 3 p.m. on Friday, June 12 at Robinson Secondary School. Chantilly (20-6) will face 6A South champion Western Branch at 7 p.m. on Friday at Robinson.

Madison has three state championships in program history, the last coming in 2002. Chantilly won the 2014 6A North region championship and advanced to the state final, where the Chargers lost to Western Branch 6-4.

Socher, Favero and senior pitcher Brian Eckert received first-team all-region honors for Madison. Chantilly shortstop Brett Norwood and pitcher Matt Hogle were also on the first team. Chantilly head coach Kevin Ford was selected Coach of the Year.

The Connection

Voters will decide in November on nearly half a billion dollars in bond sales for schools and public safety projects. The Fairfax County Board of Supervisors authorized the referendum on the two possible bond issues at its last Board meeting, Tuesday, June 2.

If approved by Fairfax County voters, $151 million would be available to renovate five fire stations, build a new police station and animal shelter in the south county area, plus renovate several police facilities.

The $310 million school bond would renovate nine elementary schools, two middle schools and two high schools, along with funding an addition to South Lakes High School and plan a new Northwest County area elementary school.

The Fairfax County School Board adopted its own resolution on May 7, urging the Board of Supervisors to authorize the bonds.

FIVE AGING fire stations, Merrifield, Reston, Penn Daw, Woodlawn and Edsall, would be renovated with $51 million. The stations range in age from 36 to 48 years, and require the replacement of major systems “which have reached the end of their useful lives,” according to Fairfax County documents.

“These stations do not meet the current operational requirements of the Fire and Rescue Department.”

Renovations will expand equipment bays to provide adequate space for current apparatus and current station staffing requirements, including bunk rooms and locker facilities for male and female personnel.

THE POLICE would use $100 million to build a new animal shelter and police station in the South County area; renovate Franconia District Police station; do construction and renovation for the police heliport, K9 Center and several other facilities.

The new police station would create smaller coverage areas.

“This is a critical need given the significant current and future population growth in the area,” according to county documents. “A new station will allow the department to organize smaller patrol areas and decrease response times throughout the county.”

Fairfax County has highest credit rating possible for any government, and this means bonds sell at low interest rates.

Nearly Half a Billion for Schools, Fire, Police

New police station in South County area could mean faster response times in a growing area.

The Fairfax County Board of Supervisors recognized the Fairfax County Police Department for its 75th anniversary.

Next week, June 14-20, is Fire and Emergency Medical Services Safety and Survival Week in Fairfax County.

The Board of Supervisors recognized the Fort Belvoir and Fairfax County fire and rescue departments for their mutual aid agreement and joint training efforts.

This plan, including the proposed fall 2015 referendum was approved as part of the FY 2016 – FY 2020 Adopted Capital Improvement Program. The school bond sales will be maintained in the annual amount of $155 million. The county will issue a pamphlet about the bonds to be mailed to all county households in the fall.
Trending in the Garden

Local landscape architects offer suggestions for updating.

By Marilyn Campbell

As summer gets underway, so does time spent outside. The American Society of Landscape Architects recently released the results of its 2015 Residential Landscape Architecture Survey, a list of trends in outdoor design that yields a bounty of backyard design ideas. From adding a pond to planting a garden, local landscape gurus explain how these trends can be used to transform an outdoor space into a favorite escape.

The top landscape and garden elements include native plants, vegetable gardens and low-maintenance landscapes. “Since native trees and shrubs are meant to grow here, they’re easier to take care of and they’re lower maintenance,” said Janet Darab of By Design in Alexandria. “If you are planting natives, you should be able to maintain themselves. If they don’t have to water them once they get established, so you won’t have to rely on water that much.”

“Expert garden beds are also popular. One of the advantages of raised beds is that they discourage critters like rabbits from getting in and digging stuff,” said Lawver. “Raised beds often hold moisture really so well there is not as much maintenance with the plant.”

Among the most popular outdoor design elements, as reported in the American Society of Landscape Architects survey, are fire pits and fireplaces, lighting and grills. One pavilion, built by Rill Architects, is made of stone, provide seating for entertaining. A mahogany pergola hovers above the terrace. Outdoor chairs, along with low walls that connect the updated rear porch to the expanded garage. “Now the outbuildings offer an oasis to enjoy nature while relishing the comforts of home,” said James F. Rill, AIA of Rill Architects.

The space was created as a place to enjoy nature, including a pond and walking bridge, and its terrace overlooks a saltwater pool. A gatehouse that grows better if you have wet soil and some that don’t do better in dryer soil. The bottom line is that they’re all low maintenance as long as you’re planting them into the right situation.”

“There is an increased awareness of the benefits of planting native,” said Patrick Lawver of Nature By Design in Alexandria. “If you are planting natives, they should be able to maintain themselves. If they are planted in the right area and planted correctly, you don’t have to water them once they get established, so you won’t have to rely on water that much. “

Experts also recommend amateur gardeners think about what type of plants are appropriate for their yards. “For example, if someone has a small backyard garden, there are some plants that grow aggressively that we don’t recommend because you’d have to constantly cut them back to keep them under control,” said Lawver. “There are some plants that grow better if you have wet soil and some that do better in dryer soil. The bottom line is that they’re all low maintenance as long as you’re planting them into the right situation.”

“Trending in the Garden”

One of the top landscaping trends is an interest in native plants.

The 2015 Residential Landscape Architecture Survey can offer inspiration for creating an elegant summer outdoor space.

Philosophically Speaking

By KENNETH R. LOUIE

Recently I attended a “Celebration of Life” event, sponsored by Kaiser Permanente, created to bring attention to, and educate the public on, cancer. As a long-time cancer survivor, nearly six and a half years now—and one treated by doctors at Kaiser, I was asked, along with a cervical cancer survivor, to sit on a “survivor panel”; to share our cancer experiences, and offer, along with a oncologist and a pulmonologist, our respective insights as “treater” and “treated.”

As you regular readers know, my story, based on the available statistical indicators at the time, is a miracle. Lung cancer is a killer, almost always. Survivors who live beyond two years are rare enough; beyond five years, rarer still. However, given the evolution of the research and new drugs brought to market, there are more lung cancer survivors than ever before. And when I met survivors I meet, the more empowered I became regarding my own life expectancy. Which, if a cancer patient thinks too much about, the shorter—in my opinion, it will be. As a practical consideration though, how do you not focus on the most important thing in your life; that thing being your lung cancer diagnosis. A diagnosis your oncologist has advised you will likely result in a rather disappointing prognosis. But somehow, from my perspective anyhow, that’s exactly what patients/survivors have to do; agree and proceed, sort of.

Moreover, how does one make light of something (your “terminal” disease/“1.3-month to two-year prognosis”) which is incredibly heavy? And how do; agree and proceed, sort of. From my perspective anyhow, that’s disappointing prognosis. But somehow, that thing being your lung cancer diagnosis though, how do you not focus on much about, the shorter—in my opinion, it will be.
