After much mingling and anxiously watching the election numbers as they came in, the crowd at the Democratic election watch party finally had the chance to cheer for those they were supporting.

Dems Claim Wins

General Assembly stays in the red column.

We didn't win the war tonight, but we did come out ahead in some of the important local battles, and that's a good start." That was Roger Kline's take on the results of the elections for Virginia's General Assembly, Fairfax County Board of Supervisors, and School Board members. Kline was one of hundreds that gathered at The Waterford at Fair Oaks for the Fairfax Democratic Committee's Election Watch Party on Tuesday night.

Although the doors to the Watch Party opened at 7 p.m. just as the polls were closing, things didn't really get underway until closer to 9 p.m. when the faithful and those they supported began to arrive in earnest.

Monitors in the corners of the room were constantly surrounded by attendees checking the latest results.

"It's enough to give you an ulcer," said Aida Lee, referring to the see-sawing numbers that were coming in early on for Del. Kathleen Murphy (D-34) whose district includes part of Loudoun County, and Great Falls, McLean, Wolftrap and Langley in Fairfax County. When 100 percent of the votes were finally reported, Murphy was leading her opponent Craig Parisot, whom she had previously defeated for the seat in a special election. But with a winning margin of less than 200 votes, less than one percent, election officials plan to review the votes on Wednesday to determine if a recount will be called for.

THE "WAR" that was not won on Tuesday was the Democrats' fight to gain control of the Virginia Senate. Prior to the election, Republicans held the majority, 21-19. Because of the tie-breaking powers of democratic Lt. Gov. Ralph Northam, the Democrats only needed one more seat to gain control.

Democratic candidates prevailed in several hotly contested races, but at the end of the day the total numbers remained unchanged. With an overwhelmingly Republican House and a continued GOP "tilt" in the Senate, Gov. Terry McAuliffe and his party face uphill battles at every turn in their attempts to press forward their priorities, including gun safety regulations and the expansion of Medicaid in the Commonwealth.

Senate Minority Leader Richard Saslaw (D-35), who defeated his Independent Green Party opponent Terry W. Modglin 73.45 percent to 25 percent, addressed the crowd when he introduced the winning senators and delegates who were present at the Watch, telling them to not lose hope yet.

Saslaw said there is a chance that results from one Richmond-area race might be reviewed. "There's something not right with those numbers," he said, citing "unusually high" Republican turnout in Powhatan County.

Supervisor John Cook (R-Braddock) said he much preferred this night to the one when he was elected to his first term. A close race with his opponent meant waiting around until late into the evening. This year, Cook defeated Democrat Janet Oleszek by a more handy margin of about six percent of the vote.

"Local government is about being the level closest to the people," Cook said, as the first speaker at the Fairfax County Republican Committee election results viewing party. "It's about getting things done, the right way." The party was held Nov. 3 at the Fairview Marriott hotel in Falls Church.

Cook attributed his victory to having a full term to "do a lot of work," including work with Chairman Sharon Bulova and Sheriff Stacey Kincaid on a "Diversion First" program to help prevent people with mental illness from ending up in the Adult Detention Center without prior mental health evaluation, work raising awareness and developing resources for victims of domestic violence, and working with community leaders.

"People have shown appreciation for that, and I'm very thankful," Cook said.

Incumbent Supervisor Pat Herrity (R-Springfield) recorded a more lopsided victory in his race against Independent Green candidate Corazon Foley. He spoke about continuing to push "the message of transparency from our government" and working with the School Board during his next term.

Arthur Purves was unsuccessful in challenging incumbent Board of Supervisors Chairman Sharon Bulova. At the podium, he described himself as "marching to a different drummer."

Jennifer Chronis came closer to knocking off her incumbent opponent John Foust for Dranesville District Supervisor, however still trailed by about eight points at the end of the night.

"I'm not going away," Chronis said she told Foust when she called to congratulate him on the victory. "I'm proud of the race we ran and the issues we discussed."

The surprise of the night was Fairfax resident and Republican Jeanette Hough finishing ahead of incumbent Ted Velkoff for the third at-large seat on the Fairfax County School Board.

Craig Parisot was shown to have finished about a point behind Democrat Kathleen Murphy for the 34th District House of Delegates seat, but a representative from the Republican committee reminded members of the audience there would be a final tally taking place first thing in the morning.

Democrats Claim Victories in County-wide Elections

VICTORY BY Jennifer Boysko in the 86th district was one of the “important local battles” that attendee Kline cheered. Boysko replaces retiring Republican Del. Tom Rust, defeating Danny Vargas (R). Boysko was greeted by thunderous applause as she joined her Assembly colleagues on stage. “It’s already been an incredible learning experience,” said Boysko, in an interview after the formal election result announcements had been made. “I’ve talked to literally thousands of people in my district, listening to what they need, what are their concerns,” she added. “There’s a lot to do, but education kept coming up as a real priority.” Boysko said she is looking forward to the challenge ahead and hoped to become a part of a “civility caucus.” “I think a lot more can be accomplished when we treat each other with dignity and respect.”

Vargas, Boysko’s opponent received large, late infusions of campaign money from Republicans, and had a total of $705,323, which he spent mostly on mailers and TV commercials that were unflattering and critical of Boysko.

All eyes were also following the race in neighboring Prince William County between Harry “Hal” Parrish II and Jeremy McPike. McPike, who received personal support from Gov. McAuliffe at the polls on election day, beat Manassas Mayor Parrish by a margin of more than 16 percent.

Democrats also took the upper hand in the results for the Fairfax County Board of Supervisors. By re-electing all eight incumbents, including Chairman Sharon Bulova, and adding the Democratic candidates for the vacant seats in the Mount Vernon and Sully districts, the voters gave the board one more Democratic member than they had originally. When the new board takes office in January, incumbents Pat Herrity of the Springfield District and John C. Cook from the Braddock District will be the only Republican members of the governing body of Virginia’s largest jurisdiction. The Sully District seat, formerly held by Supervisor Michael Frey (R), was won by School Board member Kathy Smith (D) over Republican John Guevara. Another School Board member, Dan Storck, took the Mount Vernon Supervisor contest over Jane Gandee (R), replacing the retiring Gerry Hyland (D).

Democratic Fairfax County School Board election winners were also on hand at the event and took to the stage when introduced by Board of Supervisors Chairman Bulova. Ryan McElveen and Ilryong Moon retained their At-Large positions, while Ted Velkoff lost his seat to Republican-backed Jeanette Hough of Fairfax. Pat Hynes remains as the School Board member in the Hunter Mill District. Jane Strauss retains the position she has held for two decades for her Dranesville constituency. In the Sully District contest for School Board, Republican Tom Wilson was ahead of Karen Keys-Gamarra by about 200 votes.

POLITICAL NEWCOMER Dalia Palchik, the Providence District School Board member winner over incumbent Patty Reed, received the evening’s most enthusiastic reception. When asked if it was possible that she knew every single person in the room in order to receive such a welcome, Palchik laughingly replied, “Could be.” The young teacher said she “made a pilgrimage in the streets of Providence District” likening her journey to her experience on the famous pilgrimage route from France to the cathedral in Santiago de Compostela, Spain. Humbled by the response from the crowd,

Palchik says she truly loves people and tries to show it when she meets them. “Less testing and more teaching” are battles cries for Palchik, who said she was ready to represent a diverse community “after I get just a little bit of sleep.”

Hough Edges Velkoff

BY TIM PETERSON
THE CONNECTION

Fairfax resident Jeanette Hough said her race for the Fairfax County School Board started with a phone call to Springfield District representative to the board Elizabeth Schultz. “What are we going to do about the school board?” Hough remembers asking. “We’re being ignored as parents and taxpayers.”

Hough recalled Schultz saying some fresh faces on the board might make a difference. “I said I would host an interest meeting,” Hough said, while standing victorious at the podium of the Fairfax County Republican Committee election results viewing party. “And here we are.”

With 80,006, or 16.32 percent of the unofficial results vote, Hough finished behind incumbents Ilryong Moon with 17.13 percent and Ryan McElveen with 16.94 percent, but ahead of the third incumbent Ted Velkoff, who ended up with 15.26 percent of the vote. The top three of a field of nine candidates will serve on the School Board.

Jeanette Hough and her children celebrated her win.

“I’m going to make sure we protect parents’ rights,” Hough said, “to be the primary educators of their children, and to get the fiscal house in order, so that we live within our means.”

School Board candidates finished as follows: Moon, McElveen and Hough, then Velkoff, Robert Copeland - 74,509 - 15.20 percent, Manar Jean-Jacques - 57,102 - 11.65 percent, Peter Marchetti - 12,903 - 2.63 percent, Omar Fateh - 11,822 - 2.41 percent, Burnette Scarboro - 10,617 - 2.17 percent, Write-in - 1,442 - .29 percent.

Real Solutions for Real Problems on Roads

The truth behind I-66 inside the Beltway.

BY AUBREY LAYNE

SECRETARY OF TRANSPORTATION FOR THE COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA

Virginians deserve a healthy public discussion about how best to improve our transportation system. But that discussion must also be grounded in fact, not political rhetoric. Unfortunately, the leadership of the House Republican Caucus is engaged in a campaign of misleading and flatly incorrect information on the McAuliffe administration's proposal to improve I-66 inside the Beltway. So in the interest of good public policy, here are the facts.

- ❖ Fact 1: Despite unfounded claims to the contrary, dynamic tolling on I-66 will reduce congestion.

In 2013 the McDonnell Administration released a study on reducing traffic congestion in the I-66 corridor. It was the third such study in 15 years.

The study stated that dynamic tolling and multi-modal improvements could move 40,000 more people a day through the I-66 corridor, which is equivalent to 10 additional interstate lanes in the morning and another 10 in the evening. The proposal would increase travel speeds from today's low of 5 miles per hour to a more reliable pace of 45 miles per hour or faster.

The tangible congestion alleviation benefits this proposal will generate have led the Fairfax and Loudoun County Chambers of Commerce to express support for the proposed improvements. We are working collaboratively with Fairfax, Arlington and Falls Church on the proposed project. Just recently the Washington Metropolitan Council of Governments' Transportation Planning Board approved adding this project to the region's Constrained Long Range Plan.

- ❖ Fact 2: The McAuliffe administration's proposed changes will only add more choices for I-66 commuters without impacting current HOV commuters.

If you currently carpool through the corridor, you will ride free as you always have. If you are a solo driver who used to have to exit I-66 and take secondary roads to and from work, you will now have the option to pay a toll and remain on I-66 all the way into the city. Despite the disinformation political opponents are disseminating, tolling would only be in effect during peak hours, and this proposal offers more drivers the option of a fast and reliable trip without impacting current HOV commuters.

- ❖ Fact 3: Travel times on parallel routes will either improve or stay the same.

Studies show dynamic tolling will manage traffic more efficiently on I-66 inside the Beltway and parallel roads. In fact, this proposal will reduce traffic on parallel routes heading to D.C. in the morning, by offering more solo drivers the choice of paying a toll and staying on I-66.

VDOT has conducted a detailed analysis that shows no impacts on parallel routes, meaning that drivers who take Route 50 can expect roughly the same travel times in 2017 as they can today.

- ❖ Fact 4: Toll revenues will be used to help move even more people through the corridor.

Studies reveal that dynamic tolling itself is a mechanism for managing congestion and reducing travel times – and every cent from that tolling on I-66 will be used to even further reduce congestion in that corridor. This is a self-financing project and will not take funding away from other transportation improvements.

Again, contrary to what House Republicans have conjured, it would be against the law to use those revenues for bike paths in the woods or road improvements in other parts of Northern Virginia or the state.

Since the state will own and operate the facility and collect tolls, excess revenues will not go to the profit of large corporations. All monies will directly benefit the corridor to enhance motorist through-put.

- ❖ Fact 5: Widening I-66 inside the Beltway will take place – if necessary.

It is the Secretary of Transportation's job to ensure that transportation funds are spent wisely. In the case of I-66, that means implementing the most cost-effective solutions first, before we consider spending over $100 mil-

Students Compete in Siemens National Finals

Six students in the Northern Virginia area are competing in the 2015 Siemens Foundation STEM Competition. These regional finalists recently advanced through the semifinal round, and now have a chance to compete at the National Finals, Dec. 4-8 in Washington, D.C. Grand prizes are $100,000 scholarships.

The Siemens Competition is a signature program of the Siemens Foundation; it promotes STEM education and encourages young students to push their academic boundaries through hands-on projects.

The students all have projects for the Siemens Competition, and they also participate in many other pursuits outside of STEM related projects. Local finalists include:

❖ Michael You, of Alexandria, Thomas Jefferson High School for Science and Technology, researched SONAR-related whale beachings and how bubbles in blood vessels can contribute to the injuries of whales exposed to SONAR;

❖ Christina Oh and Edward Oh, of Lorton, TJHSST and South County High School, found a potential method to mitigate the attachment of the barnacle, that could help with drastically improving marine vessels' efficiency;

❖ Kelly Cho of McLean and Harriet Khang of Great Falls, TJHSST, found an inexpensive and uncomplicated method for a biosensor for breast cancer that could potentially be slightly modified for other diseases;

❖ Daniel Chae, of Alexandria, TJHSST, found a way to develop more cost-effective and improved bone implants through 3-D printing.

lion to perform even a limited widening of I-66.

The Governor's proposals for I-66 will better manage traffic flow at a fraction of the cost of widening the road. We owe it to taxpayers to exhaust low-cost solutions, but, if after 5 years, vehicles are not traveling at free flow on I-66 during rush hour, then toll revenues will be used to widen the road.

❖ Fact 6: Doing nothing is not an option.

Opponents of the Governor's proposal for I-66 have a host of complaints. What they have yet to put forward are facts to back those claims, or real ideas for moving Virginians through the I-66 corridor more quickly.

I am confident that this plan meets the transportation and political realities of this corridor – and that allowing campaign gamesmanship to block progress is not an option.

WELLBEING

Gearing up for Thanksgiving

BY MARILYN CAMPBELL
THE CONNECTION

When many of us are still in bed early Thanksgiving morning, Susan Colarco will be lacing up her shoes, joining a group of friends and getting ready to hit the road for the Arlington Turkey Trot as she has done for many years past. "I've run this race more times than I can count and it's always a great time," said Colarco, a Road Runners Club of America certified running coach.

On a day as notorious for sloth and gluttony as it is for gratitude and family, hundreds of thousands of runners across the country pound the pavement to raise money for charity, burn off calories and spend time with friends in what have become known as turkey trots. Running USA, a non-profit organization for the running industry, reports that the number of people entering races on Thanksgiving Day now surpasses those who race on July 4th.

"[These races] are a great opportunity to get outside, do something in the community and stay active to counter the cold weather and extra helpings of mashed potatoes," said Colarco, who also works as a coach for True Health and Wholeness in Arlington.

While Colarco and her running mates train year-round, there's still time to get in shape and choose a turkey trot this year. "Many competitive and enthusiast runners start with 3 or 5K races," said Richard L. Steele, assistant dean of physical education at Northern Virginia Community College in Alexandria. "I tell most people to pick race that is conveniently lo cated ... or has special meaning to them personally, [like] a charity."

Local fitness experts suggest a training plan that will get you off the couch in time for Turkey Day.

Preparing for a turkey trot usually consists of dietary retooling, aerobic exercise and strength training.

"Typically, the folks I work with run between three and five times a week with some weight training and ... cross-training worked into the schedule," said Colarco. "The distance and intensity vary based on the experience and fitness level of the runner, the goal they are aiming for and any injuries they may be working through."

Colarco tailors her training regimen to the environment of the chosen race. "For example, if it's a hilly race, we'll definitely work some hills into the training plan," she said. "If it's a trail race, we'll leave the nice paved running routes behind and head off road." "Up your training distance each week, but do it in small amounts," said Steele. "A new runner should aim for three to five days per week of training," he said.

Creating a realistic training schedule that works in harmony with one's daily schedule is the key to becoming race-ready on Turkey Day, says Colarco. "I really try to take into account the fact that most of the runners in this area are working professionals with a lot on their plates. I work with my clients to determine not just what they should be doing, but realistically, what they can do given the stresses of everyday life."

Diet, both on the day of the race and the days and weeks leading to it, is an often-overlooked component of race training. "Eat a high-energy meal about an hour before the race," said Steele.

"Eating within an hour can lead to upset stomach. ... You may need to increase your calories, but don't go crazy. If you are eating natural foods, free of artificial fats, added sugars and other chemicals, your body will respond in an amazing way."

Protecting against injuries that can be sustained from the unremitting pounding of the pavement, is another important, but often overlooked part of running. "You get an average of about 4,500 blows to your joints over the course of a 5K," said Christian Elliot, a personal trainer and founder of True Health and Wholeness. "Strength training helps your body handle the blows, and there's no downside to having strong muscles."

Weight training exercises for the legs should be done two to three days per week, advises Steele. "You can hit the weights at the gym, do Pilates or use body weight, whatever you enjoy. Focus on light to medium resistance with higher repetitions to build muscle endurance; 12 to 15 repetitions, two to three sets for each exercise works well."

"It has been proven that runners who do strength training have fewer knee injuries," added Chance Heare, of Koko FitClub in Herndon, Reston and Great Falls. "Strength training builds the stabilization muscles to support the joints and runners who strength train tend to get fewer injuries and have better endurance."

The most common injuries associated with running are ankle and knee sprains, shin splints, stress fractures, runner's knee and plantar fasciitis. "Sprains and blisters are very common during races," said Steele.

Running shoes play an important part of injury prevention, but "by itself can't prevent all injuries," said Nelson Cortes, Ph.D., an associate professor in the Sports Medicine Assessment, Research & Testing Laboratory at George Mason University in Fairfax.

"Everyone has different foot and lower body morphology and it's important that running shoes are appropriate."

In addition, a daily full-body stretching routine "will help with injury prevention and performance," said Steele. "You'll be surprised how much better you feel in general after doing this for about a week or two."

"Up your training distance each week, but do it in small amounts."

NEWS

West Springfield High School precinct chief election officer Allyn Hammel of Burke and her assistant Bill Batterson of Springfield review election day materials in the West Springfield cafeteria on Nov. 3.

Springfield Voting 'Steady'

Allyn Hammel of Burke began working as an election officer over ten years ago and then was promoted to chief election officer for the 2008 presidential election. She described the voter traffic at West Springfield High School as "steady."

With students home from school for a holiday, Hammel thought that may have brought a few more voters out during the day than usual, enough to "keep us busy" as election officers.

Hammel was appreciative of the all-paper ballots and single scanner, which she said goes "much faster" than machines in the past and provides "more record," in addition to a jump drive with results that her precinct will upload along with others in the county.

"It's good civic duty," Hammel said of her role as chief. "I get to see all the neighbors, work with good people as other election officers. It's a good thing to do."

—TIM PETERSON

VIEWPOINTS

Why was it important to you to come out and vote today?

—TIM PETERSON

Suzanne Holloway of Burke

"I'm a real advocate of voting. You can't complain about anything if you don't vote."

Rana Iqbal of Burke

"It's part of being a responsible citizen. You have the choice to choose your representatives. My kids graduated from Fairfax County, we love the school system and want to see it continue to be strong."

Lake Braddock Hosts South County in Match of 9-0 Teams

The 6A North region's last remaining undefeated teams will face one another at 7 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 6 when the Lake Braddock Bruins host the South County Stallions.

Up for grabs: an outright Conference 7 championship and the No. 1 seed in the 6A North region playoffs.

South County sits at No. 1 in the latest VHSL 6A North region power rankings with a rating of 34.77778. Lake Braddock is No. 2 with a rating of 33.88889. Both teams are 9-0.

South County defeated West Potomac 53-20 on Oct. 30, after leading just 21-20 at halftime.

Stallions quarterback DeAndre Clayton completed 11 of 18 passes for 230 yards and three touchdowns. He also carried 12 times for 48 yards. South County running back DeMarcus Ramsey had 19 carries for 68 yards and two scores. Michael Salisbury had six receptions for 150 yards and a touchdown.

Lake Braddock is coming off a 63-0 beat down of Mount Vernon. Nine different ball carriers totaled 271 yards and seven touchdowns on the ground for the Bruins. Lamont Atkins led the way with three carries for 58 yards and a score.

Woodson Football Knocks off West Springfield

The Woodson football team defeated West Springfield 35-28 in overtime on Oct. 30, giving the Cavaliers back-to-back wins after a 1-6 start.

Woodson quarterback Jojo Heisley completed 23 of 36 passes for 232 yards and two touchdowns. Jack Caldwell had 13 receptions for 173 yards and two scores.

Woodson (3-6) will conclude the regular season with a road game against T.C. Williams at 3 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 7. The Cavaliers are No. 15 in the latest VHSL 6A North region power rankings. The top 16 teams make the playoffs.

West Springfield (5-4) will host Annandale. The Spartans are No. 10 in the VHSL 6A North power rankings.

OBITUARY
JOHN CARLILE TALBOTT (Age 73)

Of Great Falls, Virginia passed away peacefully among family and friends on October 29, 2015. Born in Martins Ferry, Ohio on September 1, 1942 to John Charles Talbott and Elisabeth Carlile Talbott, John quickly gained attention as a star athlete and scholar, becoming captain of Poland Seminary High School's football team, homecoming king, and president of the student body. John went on to get his B.A. from Amherst College, where he continued to play football and rugby, and then got his J.D. from Cleveland State Law School on a full scholarship, graduating summa cum laude. A prominent lawyer in McLean, VA, John ran his own successful practice specializing in multifamily housing financing and development for over three decades. Throughout his life, John's thirst for knowledge never waned. An avid reader of history, philosophy, physics, and biographies, John could expound on nearly any subject, be it Aristotle's "Poetics," black holes, or why your car's making that weird noise. He loved pushing not only his mind, but also his body and took up running and biking. He ran several marathons, including the Marine Corps Marathon, finished triathlons, and jogged religiously with his best friends Jay and Neil every weekend for over 20 years by Fletcher's boathouse. In his free time, he enjoyed gardening (caring for plants over 40 years old), collecting Native American pottery, and passionately cheering on his favorite team, the Ohio State Buckeyes. John loved animals and always had one or two canine companions by his side at home or at the office. A loyal and devoted father, he treasured above all else his relationship with his two daughters, Honora and Eliza. John is survived by his daughters Eliza Talbott and Honora Talbott; his sister Patricia and husband James; niece Jennifer and husband Kevin; nephew James and wife Echo, and four grandnieces. A memorial service will be announced at a later date next spring. For now, in remembrance of John and his love of animals, we invite people to donate to the Washington Animal Rescue League or any animal rescue of your choice.
